Patrick F. Hayes, who shot and killed William McCaine, at Butte, Mont., was captured Saturday evening, near Elk Park Canyon. He refuses to say a word concerning the shooting, and will not even admit that he is the man wanted. His identity, however, has been proved without a doubt. He appears sick, and is completely worn out from his endeavors to escape from justice. The crime with which Hayes is charged was apparently unprovoked, and it will no doubt go hard with him.

There was filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court at Moscaw, Idaho, the complaint in the case of Miss Emma Knudson vs. Rev. John W. Spencer, and and Frederick Spencer, a suit for $10,000 for breach of promise of marriage. All the parties to the suit are well-known citizens of the Genesee country. Fred Spencer being a wealthy farmer there, and John W. Spencer, who is the principal defendant, being his son. The plaintiff is the 17-year-old daughter of Hans Knudson, who is also a wealthy and prominent farmer who owns 1000 acres of fine farming land east of Genesee. It is charged in the complaint that Rev. John W. Spencer became engaged to Miss Knudson last Spring, and after urging the girl to consent to an early marriage, fixed the day of the ceremony as October 3, and later changed the date to October 10, at which time the bride attired herself for the occasion, while her parents prepared the wedding feast, only to have the groom remain away. It is alleged that no just cause exists why Spencer should have refused to keep his contract, and the claim is made that Fred Spencer is the cause of this action.

This was taken from an agricultural newspaper: "This was cruelty: He put two calves on to one cow and turned them out to take drouth luck in the pasture, and when these were fit for the butcher he put two fresh calves with the cow. When fall came, she was a mere skeleton. Inhumanity works hand in hand with greed on many a farm."
