Mrs. and Miss Minnie Peterson will leave in about two weeks to visit friends San Francisco and Kansas City, while Charley is a little undecided when he will leave, but is wanting to get a way for a change.

Mrs. Charlotte Cohn, mother of Mrs. Esther Solomon, of this city, died somewhat suddenly at Vancouver, Wash., on Wednesday of last week, and Mrs. Solomon left the next day to attend the funeral. The deceased lady will be remembered in Tillamook, having spent the summer two years ago with her daughter.
The Northern Pacific surveying party, numbering 16 persons, went out on the steamer Sue H. Elmore on Saturday, having completed the preliminary survey from Scappoose down the Nehalem Valley to Tillamook City, a distance of nearly 100 miles. Before leaving they had instructions to report and await orders at Tacoma.
Where is S. R. Hill, a Tillamook farmer? The Portland newspapers report him missing in that city. He left home on the 23rd inst. for Portland, expecting to undergo an operation at one of the hospitals. He did not arrive at his destination, 607 East Burnside street, so Mrs. Minnie Nelson, of that address, reported the matter to the police.
Judge Raleigh Stott died in Portland last week. He was well known by a number of the old settlers in Tillamook, having attended court in this county when this country was looked upon as the rough and woolly West. The editor met him last summer in Portland, when he related some of his experiences and inquired after the welfare of a number of our citizens.

Why Not!

Take time by the forelock?

Don't you know that everything will be 25 per cent higher in the Real Estate line next spring than now?

Some people are compelled to sell this autumn!

Pick up these snaps!

A word to the wise—

"C." BEN RIESLAND.

The death claim of Geo. A. Barton, a member of Star Lodge, No. 76, A.O.U.W., in the sum of $1,000, who died in this city last month, was paid to his sister, Mrs. Ruth A. Rees, on Wednesday. This shows how prompt the Workmen pay their death claims, the finance committee meeting on the 23rd of each month in Portland, which was the date on which Barton died last month, so his claims could not be acted upon until the committee met this month.
The young people of this city appear to be the victims of Cupid's darts and to have the matrimonial bee in their bonnets, for two more on Wednesday were married. The contracting parties were Mr. Charles R. Johnson and Miss Mary E. Price, both well known and respected young people of this city. They enter on their married career with bright hopes and with the congratulations and best wishes of a large number of friends. We wish the happy couple a long life of happiness.
The appointment of a postmaster at Woods was held up because the republican county committee was advised that a petition had reached Washington asking the appointment of F. J. Weatherly. The chairman did not propose to have it go that way if local politicians had any influence. It, however, has transpired that it was R. T. Weatherly who was petitioned for, and as no republican at Woods wanted to be Uncle Sam's stamp licking machine at that place, Mr. R. T. Weatherly will be able to thank the chairman of the committee for his recommendation when he receives his appointment and commission, which will soon reach him.

Mr. Henry Bultman, deputy fish warden, returned from Nehalem last week, and he evidently thinks he has found something wonderful in that country—a rock that will burn. So satisfied is the deputy fish warden that he has struck it rich that he would not divulge where he obtained it. Probably he will take it to Portland and it will cause a lot of surprise and wonderment to some people when they see rock burning. There is no mystery about it. What the deputy fish warden has found is a saturated wax, which has the color and appearance of rock in that condition. It will burn by igniting it with a match, the same as the pure wax, the smell and color of the light being the same.
Mr. Albert H. Malaney returned from Mexico on Monday, where he has been for the past three years engaged in mining, and so pleased is he with his prospects in that country he does not wish anything better. The first intimation he had that his wife had applied for and been granted a divorce was when he reached the Grand Ronde on his way in and for the purpose of visiting his wife. Great was his surprise, after sending her money right along, to be told that at the last term of court in Tillamook City the bond of matrimony had been severed. What hurt Malaney most was to find out that another had alienated his wife's affections, but she was willing to allow what had happened to pass and to be remarried. Malaney declined to sanction this, but made a proposition that if she remained single for twelve months he would return and re-marry her.
Representative B. L. Eddy has received the following letter from Mr. H. G. Van Dusen, master fish warden, in regard to establishing a salmon hatchery in this county: "On my arrival home I find awaiting me your favor of the 8th inst., relative to the matter of our looking up a hatchery site for Tillamook bay. In regard thereto, I beg to state that I had planned to get at your district long before this, but have been hampered more or less with the work that I have in hand, which has caused the delay. I expect now, either this week or next, to have a man at my disposal that I can put down into your section. When he gets down that way, I would appreciate very much if you people would kindly assist him all you possibly can, in the investigating work that we are desirous of doing there, for he is an entire stranger to your section, and should have all the assistance that possibly can be given him."
If Mr. Wan Reid thinks that he can induce Tillamook people to give a large bonus and grants of land for a right of way for his long talked of railroad from Portland to Tillamook City he is laboring under a delusion. True it is that some of our citizens fall easy victims to the faker's gift of gab, and will sacrifice some of their loose change to buy a pig in a poke, such as mining stock and oil lands, just by way of getting their eye teeth cut, but when it comes to making up a big wad of money and deeding land to railroad promoters, we believe those who undertake such a scheme will have a mountain of trouble on their hands. Tillamookers are not wanting a railroad that had, nor a railroad to haul logs to Portland to be manufactured there, for that, no doubt, is the idea Mr. Reid has in view. As the HEADLIGHT has repeatedly remarked, let those who are figuring upon building a railroad into Tillamook do so as any other enterprise would and not attempt to force blood money from the people. The dairy industry of Tillamook county was not built up that way, and if the railroad cannot be built without a subsidy and land grants, then it will take only a few more years of patience, when Tillamook bar will be improved.

Improvement of Tillamook Bar.
It is gratifying to know that Senator John H. Mitchell will do everything in his power to have incorporated in the next river and harbor bill an appropriation for the survey and estimate of the cost of the improvement of Tillamook bar. The senator can thank Tillamook county for sending Mr. B. L. Eddy to the state legislature, who was instrumental to a large extent in securing his election; or, probably, it would be more correct to say, he can thank the last republican county convention for nominating Mr. Eddy as joint representative. It might have been different had the Maxwell faction predominated at the convention as in previous years, but it was in a hopeless minority because the republicans in this county did not intend their joint representative to be the tool in the hands of the Portland bosses to be twisted about like a piece of putty. Consequently Senator Mitchell will feel a little more interested in Tillamook, and it is safe to predict that he will leave no stone unturned to secure an appropriation for the improvement of Tillamook bar so that this county can develop its resources and ship its manufactured products to market the same as other sections of Oregon. That is what Tillamook is wanting and is legally entitled to after being bottled up for so many years, and the following letter explains itself:
Hon. B. L. Eddy, Attorney-at-Law, Tillamook City, Tillamook County, Oregon.
MY DEAR MR. EDDY.—I beg to acknowledge receipt of yours of October 22nd, in which you again remind me of the great interest of you and your constituents in the improvement of Tillamook Bar, and you earnestly ask my aid and co-operation with Representative Tongue, and my other colleagues, in forwarding so far as in our power that improvement.
I take great pleasure in stating to you and through you to the people of Tillamook interested in that improvement, that I will do everything honorably in my power in aid of this improvement, and further, I have no doubt whatever, but we will be able to have incorporated in the next River and Harbor Bill an appropriation for the survey and estimate of the cost of the improvement. This, of course, must precede, necessarily, the appropriation for the improvement itself. If you can furnish me, say early in December, any statistics as to the commerce, character of the work, etc., which will aid in this matter, I shall be much obliged.

Trusting this may find you in good health, prosperous and happy, I am,
Sincerely your friend,
JOHN H. MITCHELL.
Obituary Notice.
Mr. Samuel Thompson, who died suddenly at the mouth of Nehalem river on Tuesday of last week, was born in Iowa on Dec. 8th, 1838. He united with the M.E. church when a boy and came to Oregon in 1850 with his father, who settled on a section of land where Albino now stands. He was married in 183 to Minerva De Shields, who came from Arkansas. While living at Tillamook in 1890 he, with his wife and three daughters, united with the M.E. church South, Rev. D. M. Conway pastor, and filled the office of steward in that church. On moving to Corvallis they handed in their letters there. He came to Nehalem in 1897 and has been running a passenger boat on that river. On October 22nd, while he and his son were waiting for the stage from Garibaldi, and to all appearance in his usual health, he fell, breathed once or twice, and suddenly expired. He leaves three brothers, one sister, five sons and five daughters. He was a kind and loving husband and father, a good neighbor and much respected by all who had made his acquaintance. Rev. Israel Putnam, of Bay City, pastor of the M.E. church, conducted the religious services at the funeral.
Notice.
The Tillamook Lumber Company has leased to J. A. Taft Co. the electric light plant. Mr. Taft will have sole control after Nov. 1, 1901.
