Mr. Richard Mann has sold his place to Mr. D. G. Randall for $400, and will move with his wife to Humboldt county, Cal., going out on the next steamer. He has been in this county 12 years.

From what we can gather there will be some surprises in store for those who have been in the habit of fixing up tickets for the republican party in this county which may cause quite an upheaval.

The sheriff sold the "spirits" at the Palace hotel on Tuesday, and what a blessing it would have been if he could have disposed of the "medium" who at one time infested that place.

The best saw on earth. Use the Great Western saws and you will soon be convinced of this fact, for they are recognized to be the best saw now on the market. For sale at McIntosh & McNair's hardware store.

We wonder how many parties will undertake to fix political slates for the Headlight or the next republican convention to smash into smithereens and the slate builders will enough supporters left to make a corporal's guard?

The prohibitionists are the first to set the political ball rolling. They held a meeting at the Christian church on Friday evening, at which some seventy persons were present, when Messrs. T. H. Govne and E. Thorsquest were the speakers and made two excellent addresses.

James Hatton, of Stone, formerly foreman at the Upper Clackamas Hatchery, left Tuesday for Tillamook. He is field superintendent of the State fish commission and will explore the Nestucca and other streams.—Oregon City Ex.

A petition was presented to the board of county commissioners for a bridge to cross the Trask river at a point near the trustle south of this city and for a public road direct to the Netarts road. A remonstrance was presented against the petition.

Henry E. Dosch, one of Oregon's Commissioners to the Pan-American Exposition, wired the Oregonian on Saturday as follows: "One of the last acts of the jury to-day was to award the gold medal for hops to Oregon, a triumph of great commercial value."

Next Wednesday evening is the monthly meeting of the hose company, and if the city dads would send along some crackers and cheese with a little fermented water instead of a "jacking-up" we have an idea it would have a better effect and be more appreciated than a scolding.

We wonder whether the democrats in Tillamook county will come up smiling and nominate another ticket after having had the stuffing knocked out of them so badly at the last election? This, no doubt, will not inspire a legion of candidate anxious to be snowed under on a democratic ticket.

Evidently the present city dads feel as if they have been fooled often enough with Watson's windy water system, for the matter is at zero as far as the council is concerned, and it looks as though if it is to be resurrected again the new city dads will have to be inflated it with a different kind of a humbug.

Will the boys who placed two large kegs outside the HEADLIGHT office call in and pacify the printer's devil, for that satanic individual considers that he has not been given a square deal that way because the kegs were empty. He'd had no kick coming had they been full of that which cheers but inebriates.

As the city council will not decide until its next meeting the date for holding the caucus, the city election is going to be short and sweet. The city dads will address themselves somewhat after this style in the new year: The Gentleman from the third ward: "Will the gentleman from the first ward please rise in his place when addressing the Mayor?"

Portland is now getting down to business in regard to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition. Mr. H. W. Corbett has given $30,000. As it will take a big pile of like amounts to meet the cost of erecting the exposition, it will now become interesting to see how liberal the Portland people are in subscribing for a big affair like this. And now for the tug of war, for it is money which counts, not boasting with nothing to back it.

The gang of men improving the Wilson River road are now within a few miles of Gales Creek, and when reaching there, which will be in about another week, no more work will be done this year. Considerable work has been done tearing out old bridges and replacing them with new structures, besides putting the road in good condition for travel. The next job is to bridge the Wilson River, and when this is done the road next spring will be in fine condition for travel, and no doubt will be considerably used next summer.

A city council meeting was held Monday with Mayor D. Wiley in the chair, and Councilmen A. J. Cohn, M. F. Leach and S. A. Brodhead present. Bills allowed were: McIntosh & McNair, $2,35; recorder's salary, $10; marshal's salary, $45; electric lights, $14; Grayson & McNair, $2.50; water rent, $30. At the suggestion of Councilman Cohn, Councilman Leach moved that the recorder be instructed to write the hose company giving the members a "jacking up" for not keeping their organization up, and the marshal being instructed to scrape the mud off the streets in the business portion of the city, was all that came before the council.

Captain Langfit in his report recommends $27,000 for the improvement of Tillamook Bay, while General Gillespie recommends only $5000. Now if the general was a dairyman or a manufacturer of butter in Tillamook instead of chief of engineer's staff, he would have recommended $50,000 instead of $5,000. Under these circumstances it will make the Oregon delegation hustle to increase the smaller amount. Tillamook has two staunch friends in Senator

Mitchell and Representative Tongue, and as $27,000 is little enough, anyway, and should be increased to $50,000, let us hope that they will talk the other fellows to death who attempt to cut down the appropriation to the insignificant figure of $5,000, which is tantamount of making no improvements at Tillamook.

Married, on Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Kimball, by the Rev. Gabriel Sykes, Mr. Joseph Buttz and Miss Carrie Kimball. The bride was dressed in blue taffeta silk trimmed with blue ribbon and chiffon. Miss Selma Allen acted as bride's maid and Mr. James Kimball was best man, and Mrs. William Stephens played the wedding march. The marriage took place beneath an arch of ivy trimmed with bows of white ribbon and a horse shoe of white chrysanthemums. There was a large number of invited guests present, and after the marriage a chicken supper was served. The happy couple were in receipt of a large number of presents, and they have the best wishes of a large circle of friends. They left to-day to spend their honeymoon at Independence. Mr. Buttz is the son of Mrs. Jonas Gibson, of Fairview, and was one of the boys who volunteered and joined the Oregon National Guard, and with that regiment went to Manila. He is a steady, persevering young man and much respected. The bride is also respected by a large circle of friends, being one of the young women who believed in a merry time, which we hope and trust will continue throughout her married life.

The City Wards.

As some people do not know where they are at in the new city wards, we give below the boundaries for their edification:

The boundaries of the first ward shall be as follows: Beginning at a point on the north boundary line of Tillamook City, and opposite the center of Third Avenue West; thence south along the center of Third Avenue West to the south boundary line of Tillamook City; thence west on said south boundary line to the south-west corner of the city limits; thence north to the northwest corner of the same; thence east to the place of beginning.

The boundaries of the second ward shall be as follows: Beginning at a point on the north boundary line of Tillamook City and opposite the center of Second Avenue East; thence south along the center of said avenue to the southeast corner of the public school grounds; thence west to a point in the center of the said avenue; thence north along the center of said avenue to the northern boundary line of said city; thence east to the place of beginning.

The boundaries of the third ward shall be as follows: Beginning on the northern boundary line of Tillamook City opposite the center of Second Avenue East; thence south along the center of said avenue to a point thirty feet west and thirty feet south of the southwest corner of block 9 in Claude Thayer's Second Addition to the Town of Lincoln, as shown by the plat of said addition to the Town of Lincoln of record in the office of the county clerk of Tillamook County, State of Oregon; thence east to the western boundary line of A. A. Miller's Addition to the said Town of Lincoln; thence north to the northern boundary line of said city; thence west on the said line to the place of beginning.

The boundaries of the fourth ward shall be as follows: Beginning at a point on the northern boundary line of Tillamook City and due north of the north-west corner of A. A. Miller's Addition to the said Town of Lincoln; thence south to the said north-west corner, and thence along the west line of the said A. A. Miller's Addition to the south boundary line of said city; thence east to the southeast corner of the corporate limits of said city; thence north to the north-east corner of said corporate limits; thence west to the place of beginning.

The boundaries of the fifth ward shall be as follows: Beginning at a point on the south boundary line of Tillamook City and at the southwest corner of the fourth ward, and running west to where the east line of the first ward intersects the south boundary line of said city; thence north to the southwest corner of the second ward; thence east to the center of Second Avenue East; thence south to the southwest corner of the third ward; thence east to the west boundary line of said A. A. Miller's Addition to the Town of Lincoln; thence south to the place of beginning.

The City Election.

Next month Tillamook City will be in the throes of the annual election, when the new law dividing the city up into five wards will come into effect. Upon what lines the election will be fought is hard to tell. The gamblers will want candidates who will allow them to run a "wide open" town and to start up gambling joints wherever they please; the saloon keepers will want candidates who will continue to allow them the special privileges which they have been enjoying for a number of years; the prohibitionists will want candidates who will make this a "dry" town; the law and order advocates will want candidates who will insist upon improving the moral condition of the city; and the taxpayers who believe in trenchment will want candidates who are economical with public money. It is impossible to harmonize these different opinions and interests and we are not going to try, for it would only be a miserable failure if we undertook to do so. But with these conflicting conditions, and strife to be the predominant faction in city affairs, what is for the best interest of Tillamook City? The HEADLIGHT never shirks a question like this, and in answer to it the editor would say nominate and elect candidates who will see that the law is respected and rigidly enforced. By so doing the moral standing of the city will be raised sooner than to undertake some radical movement like that of the prohibitionists when sentiment and appetite are diametrically opposed to it. In advocating the nomination of candidates who will pledge themselves to see that the law is complied with, we are simply doing that which every patriotic citizen in Tillamook City should heartily coincide with, for if one faction can violate the law with impunity another faction will want to do the same thing in another particular, not taking into consideration where it will end or where we are at.

Amusement for Young People.

As there appears to be nothing in sight by way of amusement for the young people the coming winter, evidently they intend to have some fun as heretofore. There is such a difference of opinion how young people shall enjoy themselves and in what way, no doubt some of our citizens will be shocked if it does not conform to their ideas now—but not when they were young and full of life themselves. It is useless to attempt to put old, sedate heads upon young shoulders, and those who attempt to do so will make a failure. According to some people's ideas the young people must not dance, or do this or that, but they will do dance in spite of those who protest. It is a fact, as every fair-minded person will admit, that those who raise so much objection to the kind of amusement the young people enjoy rarely ever exert themselves to provide other or more attractive amusement for them. The great fault with young people in their amusements they have a tendency to go to extremes, but with restraining influences this can be overcome. We have confidence enough in the young people of this city if they form a literary, debating, musical or social club that it will be conducted well, for most of the young people have womanly and gentlemanly traits of character. Should, however, the young people want to dance occasionally it is to be hoped that this will not be looked upon by the over-pious as a grievous sin, for it is nothing of the kind, any more than it is to play "Ruth and Jacob" or pin a tail on a tailless ass at a church social or take a walk for recreation. Let us be reasonable in this matter and try to impress the young people to be temperate in their amusements, as in everything else, and then there will not be cause of complaint. And by way of
