Mr. J. D. Jones came in from Beaver on Wednesday. He will sell his dairy herd next week. It is not often that an editor receives a word of commendation, but Mr. Jones made the remark that the Editor of the Headlight had done a great deal of good for the county.

Cohn & Co. will have a great Clearance Sale, to commence on Saturday next. This sale will last during February only, when great reductions will be made and great bargains offered in all lines. Bargains in mackintoshes. Bargains in clothing. Bargains in boots and shoes. In fact, bargains in everything.

At a meeting of the hose company on Thursday Chief Crenshaw appointed W. H. Cary and Fred Arthur captains of the hose carts and Fred C. Baker captain of the hook and ladder truck. And having discussed several matters pertaining to the protection of the city from fire, the boys enjoyed themselves at a fireman's feast furnished by the new officers.

The cold snap of Friday and Saturday was followed on Sunday afternoon with a fall of snow, the first in the valley this year. But it was only the tail end of the cold snap which was general on the outside. As snow and cold snaps in this county are of short duration, the sprinkle of snow did not remain many hours, and when the pitter, patter of the rain was heard again on Wednesday night every Tillamooker's heart leaped for joy.

Thus far Star Lodge, No. 76, A.O.U.W., of this city has gained the largest number of new members in the Oregon jurisdiction since July. And still applicants for membership from different parts of the county continue to apply and are admitted to membership, four being taken over the "rocky road" last Monday. For protection to widows and orphans, the A.O.U.W. is recognized as the leading and most substantial fraternal order.

W. H. Cary has started into business again, having rented the store building recently vacated by King & Kerremans, making a specialty of plumbing and tinning, where he is now prepared to do all kinds of work in that line of business. Milk cans repaired and made to order, also vats for creameries. All plumbing and tinning orders will be promptly attended to and neatly executed. Give us a call when you want plumbing. Will guarantee that all work will be first class.

The Nehalem Coal Company has had a force of men at work for some time excavating a tunnel on the property near the mouth of the Nehalem river. Last week the tunnel was completed for a distance of 100 feet and a seam of coal 5 feet 2 inches thick was found. Cross tunnels will now be run, and the measure uncovered for a considerable distance each way. This seam has been traced for over six miles, and the quality of the coal is pronounced by experts to be superior to the British Columbia product.

Seventeen of the Hays contest cases were set for hearing in the Oregon City Land Office on Saturday. The cases and dates are: Frank T. Fitzpatrick, April 1; William M. Hamilton, April 2; Charles H. Himes, April 3; Cora Himes, April 4; George R. Himes, April 5; Sarah J. Himes, April 7; William J. Himes, April 8; William R. Hingsworth, April 9; Eugene Jenkins, April 10; Granville T. The memorial sermon of Mrs. Sarah J. Perry was preached at the M.E. church on Sunday last by the pastor, Rev. G. Sykes. The rev. gentleman spoke words of sympathy to the bereaved relatives, as well as offering Christian advice. The deceased's maiden name was Sarah J. Wright, and she was born in Missouri on April 15, 1846. She crossed the p a os with her parents in 1847, who located in Yamhill county, Ore., where she resided until her marriage to Benjamin Perry on October 27, 1862. She moved to Tillamook with her family twelve years ago, and resided here until her death on the 6th of January, 1902. She was the mother of six children, three of whom are living, Mr. D. C. Pierce and A. L. Perry, of Tillamook, and Mrs. C. C. Roy, of Auburn, Wash. The remains were buried beside her daughters in the Stout graveyard in Yamhill county. Soon after coming to Tillamook she united with the M.E. church, of which she was a member at her death.

We are pleased to record another wedding of two of our young people who are highly respected in Tillamook county, which took place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Quick, at South Prairie on Saturday last at high noon. The parties were Mr. De Roy Quick and Miss Ida High, of Netarts, who were united in holy wedlock by the Rev. Gabriel Sykes, pastor of the M.E. church. Only relatives of the bride and groom were present. We only express the sentiment of the many friends of the happy couple in wishing them a long life of happiness and in doing so compliment them on their choice of partners for life, with the hope that nothing will mar this happy union. Many useful presents were received, viz., Mrs. and Mrs. I. C. Quick, set of silver ware and gold pen; Harry Quick, tea set; Dove Quick, pair pillows; Tadd Quick, table linen; Rosie Quick, napkin rings; Mrs. M. A. High, quilt and set of glass ware; M. M. High, of Salem, $5; Miss Dora High, lamp; I. H. Smith, butter knife and sugar shell; Mrs. I. H. Smith, table linen; Mr. and Mrs. Sallie Smith, set of silver teaspoons; Miss Chattie Smith, set of napkins; Miss Mary Smith, towel; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wells, counterpane of the M.E. church; Nehalem, table spoons; Ida Von Ehrenkrook, Denver, Col., set of napkins.

A Just Complaint.

One of the taxpayers in the fourth ward a few days ago laid his grievance before us, and although he had no objection to either J. A. Monroe, J. Lahmon or Albert Mason being councilman, and would just as soon vote for one as the other, but thought that several parties in the second ward had meddled too much in the election of a councilman for the fourth ward. "While I have no objection to saloons and do not want to interfere with them," said this fair-minded taxpayer, "I don't think it right that the saloon element of the second ward should interfere in the election in the fourth ward. I never was in favor of closing up the saloons, but I vote that way when the time comes to close them up." We mention this because the person, as all will admit, is justified in making this complaint. This will give some idea how public sentiment can be formed against the saloon by those who have no objection to them when the saloon element is domineering and wants to be the whole thing. But if they persist in wanting to run everything they must expect that sooner or later a strong sentiment will be formed to close them up for a time, and as there are quite a number of people in this city who do not object to saloons but do to a saloon town, we believe if a vote was taken today on that issue it would be a surprise. As we stated before, the saloon element should have been magnanimous and not interfered with the citizens nominees, as it was a representative ticket, and when men like R. M. Watson undertakes to do something in the interest of the saloon keepers they must not complain if a sentiment is created thereby against their business.

Plumbing, Tinning.

We are pleased to advise our friends and patrons that we are still running our Plumbing and Tinning Shop. We are prepared to attend to all work of this kind on short notice and guarantee satisfaction. Prices as low as consistent with first-class work.

WADE & BRIGGS

Notice.

Some people wonder how the bakery can sell so cheap. Now I will tell you. I sell for cash only, merchants selling on time have to charge 10 to 15 per cent extra for possible loss. Those who pay cash have to help pay this possible loss. By selling for cash, I can buy for cash. I buy better goods and get discount off. That is the reason we can sell cheap. Fresh rye bread Wednesday and Saturday.

A. C. VOGLER, Tillamook Bakery.

Sparks from the Editor's Anvil.

The politician or office seeker who antagonizes the Headlight has something to learn in politics.

Those who think the political party they belong to owes them a living had better be getting out their shingle.

The two S's who have been tried and found wanting—Simon and Sappington. Hadn't they better form a silent partnership?

If you're one of Judge Sappington's political pups don't get mad if the editor carries your back—the wrong way about—and makes the bristles stand up.

Judge Conder didn't do a thing to Sappington in 1894, when he beat him by 128 votes for county judge, and if the democrats nominate to ex-judge it will have to be a pretty strong republican who can beat him.

This is about the situation in the coming senatorial fight: Little Joe Simon is seeking the office and the office is seeking Harvey. Joe will result to every political trick to secure the prize, while it will have to be a spontaneous demand of the people before Harvey Scott would accept it.

Ex-Senator J. W. Maxwell called upon the editor on Saturday and assured us that he was not a candidate for joint representative or any other office. Although we had previously been confidentially told otherwise by reliable parties, we will let that pass and believe that Mr. Maxwell is sincere in what he now tells us.

Senator Simon has a bigger political fight on his hands than he is aware of, for although he may have his hand on the political machine and the biggest political pot, the citizens of Oregon fail to see what he has done in Washington for the state, and as he is looked upon as a very, very small potato, surely it will be little trouble to defeat him and send someone of influence to occupy the seat.

The editor had a conundrum put to him on Saturday by a person who called upon him, and as they would not explain we do not know whether it is a joke upon the editor or some other fellow. We can stand it if the other fellow can. This was the question: "What is the price of political potatoes at Nehalem?" We never heard of political potatoes before, and as we are in the dark will someone please enlighten us.

From all indications the political fight in Multnomah county will be between Simon and his political enemies, for the latter have become so numerous, influential and uncontrollable that the political whip which Boss Simon held over their heads so long is no longer feared. We hope Simon's political enemies will come out on top, for Simon's domineering, dictating course is neither to the interest of the republican party, the taxpayers or honest politics.

Neither faction in the republican party of this county, political bosses, office holders or office seekers, do not and cannot control the HEADLIGHT or dictate to us who we shall recommend for office at the next election. It is not the advocate of a faction with the avowed intention of capturing the party machine to thrust objectionable and incompetent candidates upon the party. The public should know who are aspirants for public office, and in that respect we propose to carry out the function of a newspaper and comment upon the merit and demerit of each, then leave to the convention and the voters to decide which they think are best to fill the offices.

Public Sale.

I will sell at Beaver, on Thursday, Feb. 6th, to the highest and best bidder, 24 choice dairy cows and one four-year old short-horn bull. Cows will begin to come in February 15th.
