Notwithstanding Portland newspaper reports to the contrary, from what we can learn, the veins of coal found at Nehalem are small affairs compared with what they have been represented, and thus far, sufficient quantity of coal has not been found to warrant mining.

Mrs. L. Carey has received word that her husband, Mr. J. W. Carey, who was in Southern Oregon on a business trip, was sick and not expected to live. As no word has been received since of his condition, it is causing the family considerable anxiety. Mrs. Carey was unable to leave.

The republican state committee has recommended March 22nd for holding the primaries, and when visiting the city we would recommend everyone to register before that date. Thus far but few have registered, and it would assist County Clerk Mason greatly in his work if they would do so at once to avoid the rush at the last.

It appears that some of our republican friends are running round the country stating that two years ago certain parties were promised nominations at the forthcoming convention. No one but the convention had a right to make such a promise, and furthermore no one had a right to be a party to it. But this is a rule politics. It seems to us that this deking is a bad thing and the republican party should put its foot down on it and political machine candidates.

W. H. Cary has started into business again, having rented the store building recently vacated by King & Kerremans, making a specialty of plumbing and tinning, where he is now prepared to do all kinds of work in that line of business. Milk cans repaired and made to order, also vats for creameries. All plumbing and tinning orders will be promptly attended to and neatly executed. Give us a call when you want plumbing. Will guarantee that all work will be first class.

It is important that every republican should attend the forthcoming primaries. This is as imperative as casting a vote at the ballot. It is none of the HEADLIGHT's business as to who shall or who shall not be elected delegates, for that is for each precinct to decide, but we can say this, that clean delegates mean clean candidates and clean county officials, but political machine delegates mean political machine candidates and political machine county officials. Turn out and vote for which you want.

H. Anderson had a narrow escape while felling trees on the side of a hill at Nehalem. As a tree fell the board on which he was standing sprung up, throwing him up in the air and down the side of the hill 200 feet. His left elbow was thrown out of joint and he sustained a bad cut and bruise on the side of his head. As he fell a snag just missed his body, but it tore his shirt completely off. He was brought to this city for medical treatment and suffered considerable pain from the time of the accident until he arrived in the city.

Tillamook City is in need of a commercial club, push club, or a club where the business men can get together once or twice a month to discuss matters of interest to the city and county. As there is considerable correspondence inquiring about Tillamook, it would look more business-like for a club to answer them. Besides, as this entails time and expense, the city is important enough now to look after this matter as a body. It begins to get a little old and looks like riding a few free horses to death to expect them to answer this correspondence all the time.

Mr. Chas. Pye was in from Nehalem on Tuesday. He has been annoyed with a number of wild cattle running over his place and as the owner could not control them it was mutually agreed that Pye should shoot one of the animals when he had an opportunity and immediately notify the owner. This Pye did, but as the animal got away, it was not for a day or so after that the animal was found. In spite of these facts, the owner, William Reddaway, for some reason or other—it may be the old feud in that part of the county—has brought suit against Pye. And to make the case still more annoying, the complaint was sworn out in Justice Stillwell court, which, if the case is tried, will entail the trouble and expense of coming to Tillamook. Even a number of people who are not friendly with Pye admit that he was justified in doing what he did. When Pye found out that they were instituting proceedings against him, to keep on good terms with his neighbor, he offered to pay for part of the lost, but this was not agreed to. From what we can gather Mr. Reddaway has been badly advised, for when a case like this could easily have been compromised it is bad form to rush into law, for it is not only a bad feature amongst neighbors, but after the costs of such actions are paid there is not much satisfaction, leaving neighbors at enmity one with another in which all will take sides, one way or the other, especially with those who may have a grudge against the parties. Is this so in this case? Not that we say Mr. Reddaway had any ill-feelings against Mr. Pye. Later—we are glad to hear that the case has been settled out of court, and we hope it will not result in any bad feeling or again create a spirit of strife at Nehalem.

We understand that Prof. E. E. Watts, who is now principal of Amity school, will apply for the Tillamook school. As Prof. Snuffer has intimated to the board to look for another principal at the end of the term, we feel sorry that he has so decided, as the school has progressed nicely under his management. We became acquainted with Prof. Watts about ten years ago when he taught at Fairview, in Multnomah county, where he started a business college and made quite a success of it. We had lost track of him until a few days since when he informed us that he was going to apply for the school in this city. We can say a good word for Prof. Watts as a suitable teacher to fill the vacancy.

This Fits Tillamook Exactly.

In commenting upon the silent partnership of Commissioner Mack and his clerk in contracting for supplies in Multnomah county, the Oregonian says:

"The experience of the press is that the people are always disposed to stand by the newspaper that does its duty to them. Without the aid of the press, there can be no proper participation of the people in affairs of their government, for they will have no sufficient information upon which to act. It is the business of the press to be vigilant in ascertainment and publication of all facts that relate to the action of public officials. The Oregonian recently has discovered and reported certain transactions that the people had a right to know. This sort of men, this sort of dealing, is the natural fruit of the system of politics that has grown up among us. It organizes itself into a machine, and through the methods it employs, based on the influence secured to it by control of the public treasury, it seeks to perpetuate its power."

B. L. EDDY.

The bright and popular attorney of Tillamook City, and in whom the people of the county have great confidence, is again a candidate for joint representative for Tillamook and Yamhill counties on the republican ticket. Mr. Eddy was also the most popular member of the house in the last session of the state legislature, and when he returned to Tillamook after the legislature adjourned he did so with the plaudits of the state press and his fellow legislators.
