COULSONBURG.

E. T. Coulson cut his foot while slaughtering, and Dr. Smith dressed the wound. Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Woods, of Blaine, are visiting at Mr. N. Dyes.

N. Coulson, of this place, has rented some cows to Mr. A. Poland, of Beaver. The doctor was called to see Mrs. Mary Swab, of this place; she is better at this writing.

Elder C. C. Bell, of Philomath, made N. Coulson a very pleasant visit last Tuesday. Elder Pierce and Rev. Hy. Blair called on N. Coulson recently.

Miss Abbie Coulson has gone back to Philomath to attend college after being called home by the illness of her father.

SOUTH PRAIRIE.

Small-pox is reported at Hdley's logging camp. Mr. Pesterfeld's small child is dangerously ill.

Mr. Christensen, of Oretown, was duly installed as helper in McIntosh & Co.'s cheese factory last week.

Messrs. Marrois, and Powell had the County surveyor, out surveying a division line between their dairy ranches, last Friday.

Mrs. George Bennette, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Powell, returned to her home in Woodland, Wash., last week.

Mrs. Clint Miller, of Tillamook City, visited Mrs. Alvan Johnson a few days last week.

Dr. Wiley was out in the neighborhood vaccinating several persons, consequence more sore arms.

Mrs. Charles Wells is recovering from the small-pox. There seems to be a contention among our physicians and citizens as to whether this disease is small-pox or chicken-pox. All those who have had the disease say it is bad enough, and say they don't want small pox if it is not.

NEKOWIN.

The Oretown cheese factory now receives about 3,000 lbs. of milk daily. Mr. and Mrs. C. Christensen, Mr. and Lona and Master Loring, were visitors at W. H. Christensen's on Sunday.

The bridges are being put in now on the new change on the road past F. Scherzinger's, and the road will then be open to travel.

A. M. Commons and family were visitors at A. W. Fletcher's last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George Bailes were guests at C. F. Keller's one day last week.

Walter Christensen has gone to the cheese factory at South Prairie to learn the rudiments of cheese making.

Miss Ludie Wood was a caller at Mrs. Commons' last Monday. J. Redburg wife and baby were callers at Mr. Fletcher's last Sunday evening.

There will be a meeting at the Oretown School house Sunday afternoon, 18th for the purpose of organizing a Sunday School. All are cordially invited.

Ole Redburg commenced work at A. Commons' Monday morning. The Republican meeting was well attended last Saturday night at Oretown in spite of the stormy weather.

SAND LAKE.

The Ocean Wave has much to say about the Post office at Spruce, which it claims will be discontinued. The Wave is misinformed. The office will not be discontinued but changed, and the mail will be carried by (Old Trusty) Fred Burrow.

W. C. Woolf has two men out at work on the new road that leads to T. J. Harris. The county sawmill will soon be moved to Sandlake for the purpose of finishing planking the road to Spruce and Woods.

W. C. King was hauling lumber from Farmer & Hays' mill this week.

BOULDER CREEK.

W. D. Gladwill lost a fine cow, with milk fever, last week. Mr. Marcus Bays and his cousin, Mr. John Mason, visited at H. L. Jensens last Sunday.

Mr. Oliver Kinnaman and Miss Elsie Dye came up to Mr. James Woods Sunday. W. N. Bays and his brother went to Tillamook Friday, and returned Sunday with a large load of supplies.

Rev. T. E. Armstrong, of Beaver, preached to an appreciative audience Sunday evening at the home of H. L. Jensen.

Mrs. Walter Kinnaman visited relatives in this neighborhood last week. Mrs. R. M. Dingsess returned to her home at Willamina last week after a two weeks' visit with relatives at this place.

Virgle Gethell, who has been staying with his sister, Mrs. Chopard, for the past week, is suffering with a sore hand, and left Boulder Tuesday morning for his home at Cedarvale.

H. L. Jensen visited the metropolis last week and brought back a load of provisions and some supplies for his Boulder Creek dairy. He has to "rustle" these days, to keep two families going.

C. A. Smith and H. L. Jensen are each preparing to put up a new barn before having.

Mrs. H. A. Chopard and son Norman and Mr. Virgil Gethell spent Sunday at the home of W. N. Bays.

Hale! bonnetous May that doth inspire, Mirth and youth and warm desire! Hill and vale are of thy dressing, Wood and field do boast thy blessing.

NEHALEM.

The tug came in Sunday and went out on the same tide. Fred White was a passenger on the tug. He has been sick with pneumonia in the hospital at Astoria.

Fred Arthur was in town Sunday with a monstrous pack on his back. C. Ben Riesland and a Mr. Banker were looking over the Krebs saw mill on Sunday.

Married, May 11, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. Lanada McPee and Miss Mina Ripley. Rev. W. J. Roehmer officiating.

Rev. I. Putman is holding revival meetings at the Balm School house and organized a Sunday School there.

Charles Grissen, democratic nominee for joint representative, accompanied by John Edwards and John Sheets, gave Nehalem a call Saturday and Sunday.

White Woman Turned Black.

New York, May 12.—For the third time in the history of Bellevue Hospital a case of Addison's Disease has appeared there. The patient is Mrs. Catherine Blosid. The disease affects the kidneys and the sufferer turns first yellow and then black as a negro. The woman's husband said the disease first showed about four months ago, when his wife's skin began to turn yellow. She paid no further attention to it for a long time, as no pain accompanied the change of color. After a while the yellow disappeared and then inclined to a copper hue. Later it took on a distinctly black tinge.

Twenty-One Dead.

PITTSBURG, May 13.—Twenty-one are dead and not less than 300 injured as the result of the terrible catastrophe at Sheraden last evening. Of the 300 injured, the physicians say at least 50 will die.

Spectators at a fire in the railway yards pressed too close, and when three cars of the stuff exploded there was no escape for them. Men, women and children were wrapped in flames and fatally burned. Before the explosion many were rendered unconscious by the extreme heat and gaseous fumes, and were being carried away when the torrent of fire burst upon them. A stream of the escaping naphtha caused an explosion at a point a mile and a half away, wrecking three houses and injuring many persons.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 13.—The officials of the Pan-Handle Railroad fear a worse explosion than the three which wrought so much damage yesterday. A danger line has been made 500 yards on all sides of the burning wreckage and the railroad police are keeping the curious crowd back. A few feet below the burning wreckage lies the big 36-inch main of the Philadelphia Company, which comes from the gas field in the southwestern portion of the State, and which supplies the McKees Rocks and Lower Allegheny districts with natural gas. It is feared that the concussion was so great yesterday that some of the joints or even the pipe itself might have been damaged, and if such is the case, the gas, which is under great pressure, will soon force its way through, and another terrific explosion will follow.

About 20 cars are piled up between the Sheraden Station and Corks Run in Sheraden yards. This is still a mass of flames. In this there are all kinds of merchandise. Little headway is being made to extinguish the fire, owing to the fact that the entire wreckage is saturated with naphtha and kerosene, and every now and then a fresh volume shoots out from the smoldering ruins.

Hundreds are Perishing.

CASTRIES, Island of St. Lucia, May 13.—It is announced in advices received here this morning (Tuesday) from the Island of St. Vincent, B. W. I., that 160 persons have perished there since the Soufriere volcano has been in eruption.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., May 13.—Advices received here from the Island of St. Vincent, forwarded on Sunday last; announce that 700 deaths have occurred in that island as a result of the outbreak of the Soufriere volcano, which is still slightly active.

The Danish cruiser Valkyrien has taken on board 500 refugees from the North and Northeast Coast of the Island of Martinique. The French cruiser Sacliet has rescued 2000 persons from Martinique and the French cable repair steamer Pouyer Quartier has saved numbers of the sufferers from the volcanic outbreak there. All the rescued persons have been taken to Fort de France. Only one man escaped from the jail at St. Pierre, when that town was over whelmed by the flow of lava from Mount Pelee.

The stretch from the unburied corpses at St. Pierre is still almost intolerable, according to the advice received here, and the desolation is indescribable.

It is reported at St. Lucia that the French bank at St. Pierre transferred its funds and books to the Sacliet before the disaster.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Soon after the Senate convened today, Cullom, from the committee on foreign relations, reported a joint resolution appropriating $500,000, including the $200,000 already appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the President in such manner as will most promptly and efficiently relieve the stricken people of the French West Indies and St. Vincent. The resolution was adopted without comment.

The President has directed Secretary Root to confer upon the Cuban Court of Appeals the right to review the testimony in the case of Estes G. Rathbone convicted of complicity in the Cuban postal frauds, with authority to take additional evidence if it so desires. This authority will be immediately conferred and it is presumed the court will act at once.

The President has issued a proclamation, opening to settlement the Fort Hall Indian Reservation in Idaho. All of the land within seven miles of Pocatello will be sold at public auction at noon on July 17, at a minimum of $10 an acre and all the rest of the land will be thrown open to settlement and entry at noon July 17 next. The opening involves nearly 400,000 acres ceded to the Government by the Shoshone and Banock Indians.

ELECTION JUNE 2, 1902.

AN EMPEROR'S LUCK-RING.

A Family Talisman That is Always Worn by Germany's Rulers.

The house of Hohenzollern possesses a family talisman. Since the time of the Elector John Cicero, who flourished toward the end of the fifteenth century, each ruler has, when possible, before dissolution, handed to his successor a sealed packet, says the Lady's Pictorial.

This contains a ring, in which is set a black stone said to have been dropped by a huge toad on the coverlet of a princess of the family just as she had given birth to a son.

Frederick the Great found the ring in an envelope, which also enclosed a memorandum, written by Frederick I., stating its value and mode of transmission. Schneider, the librarian of William I., declares that he saw the packet handed by Gelling, the treasurer, to his royal master on his accession, and further asserts that he read his account of the talisman to the emperor, who fully confirmed it.

The present emperor never fails to wear, on all occasions, this queer old ring, and has (like every Hohenzollern) the deepest respect for the quaint little jewel.

Frederick the Great's father had the black stone mounted as a ring, and bequeathed it to his son, who believed firmly in its value as a talisman, and many of the documents of that time, deposited in the archives at Berlin, make allusion to it.

HEARD IN THE STREET CARS.

Learning Proposal of Marriage and a Peppery Domestic Tiff Reached Wrong Ears.

"I suggest to the city council" said the man who stays out late, according to the Chicago Inter Ocean, "the propriety of having a censor in street cars that run after one a. m. In my home-ward travels between one and 2:30 a. m. I have seen and heard some things which, to my mind, do not belong in cars of any description. One night I heard, without effort to do so, a young man propose marriage to the young woman whose escort he was. His proposal was properly put together, so far as that was concerned, but why should he have chosen a car; at that hour? I could not hear her answer. I hope she refused him. The very next night a married couple sat in front of me. If you judge people by their clothes, they were highly respectable. I was forced to the conclusion, from what I overheard, that they had been at a social function; that the husband had imbibed, contrary to a promise, and that he had been guilty of flirtation. If he keeps his word, his wife will not go out with him again. That's none of my business. I would have shifted my seat if I could have found another. All the time those people were at I should have been enjoying my morning nap if there had been a censor to make them behave."

THE SENSITIVE PORGIE.

A beautiful fish that is easily scared and particularly subject to blindness.

The porgie, common as it is, is a beautiful fish when seen in the water in a favorable light, and it is likewise one of the most sensitive of fishes, says the New York Sun. In captivity it is easily frightened. It will take alarm from something done by a passing visitor, a thoughtless touching of the glass, or something of that sort, and go rushing around until it is exhausted. Sometimes a porgie in a tank may, when frightened, jump out of water and bump its nose against the wire screen over the tank and be seemingly paralyzed by the shock and rendered unable to swim. In such a condition it will lie upon its back, motionless, except perhaps for a fluttering of its fins, for an hour, and then it may come back all right again and swim about so lively and in such good form that you can't tell then which fish of the lot it was that had bumped its head.

A peculiarity of the porgie is its liability to blindness. Blindness is not uncommon among fishes, but there are perhaps more blind porgies than there are fish of any other kind. There's a saying among fishermen: As blind as a porgie.

EMULATE WILLIAM MORRIS.

Many Designers Change in Their Work from Valentines to Wall Papers.

A leading manufacturer of wall paper has this to say regarding the pretty, fanciful designs that decorate household walls:

"Many of the best designers were once comic valentine artists. The pay for the latter work is meager, but the artists do not entirely depend on sketching for a living.

"The majority are unfitted for high-class work, but one here and there drifts into black and white. Wall paper designers earn good wages. Five years ago a valentine artist threw up the ugly caricatures in disgust; he earns from $25 to $50 weekly now, his floral patterns being at once striking and original.

"Any girl designers? A few here and there; we are told of a young lady, who, formerly a Christmas card artist, turned her attention to wall patterns. Though less artistic than bird and landscape painting, it pays her better. Light designing is very suitable for ladies with an eye for pleasing patterns."

Club of South Paws.

In southern California there is a "left-handed" club with a membership of nearly 2,000 scattered throughout all the principal towns. To be left-handed is the only qualification necessary for membership.

WOMAN'S RELIEF

A really healthy woman has little pain or discomfort at the menstrual period. No woman needs to have any. Wine of Cardui will quickly relieve those smarting menstrual pains and the dragging head, back and side aches caused by falling of the womb and irregular menses.

WINE OF CARDUI

has brought permanent relief to 1,000,000 women who suffered every month. It makes the menstrual organs strong and healthy. It is the provision made by Nature to give women relief from the terrible aches and pains which blight so many homes.

GREENWOOD, LA., Oct. 14, 1900. I have been very sick for some time. I was taken with a severe pain in my side and could not get any relief until I tried a bottle of Wine of Cardui. Before I had taken all of it I was relieved. I feel it my duty to say that you have a wonderful medicine.

The Colima volcano shows strong indications of a great eruption, and the inhabitants living in the valley at its base are moving to a safe distance from the peak, from which smoke and puffs of flame have been belching for several days. Mount Colima has threatened eruption for several weeks.

Definite news of the fate of the British warship Condor is given in a letter written by Robert Marshall, a boat puller on the sealing schooner Mary Taylor, to his brother, a resident of Metehosin, near Victoria, B. C. The letter gives no details but says that the Condor foundered on the night of December 3, and adds: "It was too rough to get near her."

Checks aggregating $10,000,000 were sent out by J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., in payment of the second distribution of profits resulting from the formation of the United States Steel Corporation. The amount of cash advanced by the syndicate was $25,000,000, which was required during the early stage of the corporation's negotiating and returned after the first six or seven months. In financial circles it is believed that altogether $20,000,000 more will be distributed among the members of the syndicate, which will make 40 per cent on the $200,000,000 underwritten and 160 per cent on the amount of cash really advanced or paid in.

FORGOT WHERE HE WAS.

And in His Bewilderment the Deacon Betrayed a Family Secret.

Deacon Puffly is a pillar of church and society in one of the townships. He has passed the age of his greatest activity, but his desire to do good is as manifest as ever, and any weakness of the flesh is largely due to the fact that he carries so much of it, says the Detroit Free Press.

While the deacon reads of the suffering Cubans and the movement to send them relief, he at once sent word around that there would be a meeting at the district schoolhouse to talk over the situation and raise means for the good cause. There was a goodly gathering, and after the deacon had put the machinery in motion he settled back in his seat to hear from the several others who left little relieving their minds. The fire in the big box stove was a hot one; there was a lack of proper ventilation and when the usual bedtime for the deacon had arrived he dropped gently asleep.

Shortly after this occurred there was some important point to be settled, and the chair expressed a desire to hear from Deacon Puffly. His wife quickly rose to the emergency and gave her husband a pinch that was emphasized by a twist.

"Ouch!" shouted the deacon. "Quit that, Betsy. Get up and kindle the fire yourself; I'm sick this mornin'."

By the time that order had been restored the deacon was wide awake, and in his confusion doubled the liberal subscription he had already made for the benefit of the sufferers.

Electric Handbars.

The cyclist can now take a course of electric treatment on his machine, says Invention. A new handlebar has been brought out which has metallic grips connected with a small generator mounted on one of the wheels. In another form of the same device shoes are provided with contact plates. If the force of the current depends upon the speed the wheels are rotating, this may be a satisfactory device to discourage robbing.

Three Brave Irishmen.

The three greatest living British soldiers are from the green island. Lord Wolseley was born in Ireland. Lord Roberts, of Candahar, was born in India of Irish parentage; Lord Kitchener, of Khartoum, was born in good old County Kerry in 1850 and was baptized at Ahavolla.
