It is stated that buying a cow is like courting a girl. It is well to know the pedigree and record of her mother and father. A cow with a poor milk record cannot produce a heiter calf that will prove a profitable milker.

It is somewhat surprising to see the Boers, now that the war in South Africa is over, so willing to swear allegiance to England and adapt themssives to the new conditions. This must be a bitter pill for poor old Kruger and those who took great care to keep as far away from the fighting line as possible by going to Europe and proclaiming through the enwspapers that the Boers would not give up until they obtained their independence. It is just the same with the effort to capture Trace and Merril, those who stay at home and are out of range of the guns of the escaped convicts know how to capture them.
