TRACY ENDS LIFE.

Outlaw Wounded and Cornered, Shoots and Kills Himself.

Tracy, the notorious Oregon outlaw, met his Waterloo at Davenport, Wash., on Tuesday morning. For several days the into Canada at the rate of 200,000 a posses had been close on his trail and his escape grew less every year, as we have so long been pouring day. He was at last located in a swamp near Davenport, Wash., where he had been for several days. The place was carefully guarded night and day.

On Tuesday morning Tracy decided to make a dash to get through the cordon, and in doing so had to cross a wheat field. Once in the open the posse opened fire upon him, wounding him, breaking Tracy's leg and severing an artery. Tracy tried to stop section will produce this year 75,000,000 the flow of blood, and while doing so five men made a dash for bushels or about the yield of Minnesota. him and ran him down. American Emigration to Canada.

The recent large emigration from the United States to Canada has attracted a good deal of attention. It is noted it is estimated that out of a total immigration into western Canada of 50,000 the United States contributes 30,000. A correspondent of the New York Evening Post says it has been predicted that we shall soon be pouring Americans them into our own northwest under a similar economic stimulation-the agricultural possibilities of western Canada. It is pointed out that last year Manitoba raised as much wheat as North Dakota and with the three territories of Alberta, Saskatchewan aud Assiniboia, produced 62,000,000 bushels. The same The railroads to this portion of the Doyear made notable progress.

There is some speculation as to the ultimate effect which this emigration may have upon the question of reciprocity with Canada. It is thought to be highly probable that the Americans who are settling in the western part of the Dominion will in time become active agitators in behalf of reciprocity, and it is certain by reasonable to expect this, as they will naturally want the American market for their products. It is also believed that there may be developed in our own northwest a much stronger sentiment than at present in favor of closer trade relations with our owever, to be any marked movement in this direction in the very near future, unless the question of reciprocity with Canada should become a subject of negotiation between the governments sooner than there is now any indication of. The people who are going from the northwest to Canada are of a class that will push the development of the country and exert a good influence both industrially and socially.

Tracy's career has come to an end, as it was sure to sooner or later, for it is no easy matter, as it can be seen in his case, to avoid arrest when the officers of the law go after a murderer and adopt the right plan. No one expected that Tracy would be taken alive, for he knew himself that he was too big game for that, so when he saw that he was at the end of his rope he did exactly what most peobut before doing so it was thought he would do some more killing. It would have been almost a crime to have allowed such a criminal to remain at large. will have the effect of detering others from following in his footsteps.

What Paper Costs.

Ladies who go shopping have little idea of the cost of their trip, even in such a minor detail as the cost of paper for the package they have sent home. A Baltimorean has recently compared the weight of paper with the food supplied to the purchaser. In one day's purchases it is said that the paper wrapping amounted to about ten per cent. of the total. In a list of supplies costing about $1.40 he found that the paper which was weighed with the provisions cost 14% cents .- N. Y. World.
