TO RESTORE THE RIVERS. Sixty Million Salmon for Oregon Rivers.

ASTORIA, Aug. 23.—Sixty millions of young salmon of all varieties will be placed in the Columbia River and its tributaries during the present year. This is the estimate that Fish Warden Van Dusen makes of the output of the Oregon, Washington and United States Fish Commission plants of the Columbia River district.

Table listing salmon production estimates for various rivers: Grand Ronde (5,000,000), McKenzie River (2,000,000), Ontario (5,000,000), Clackamas River (3,000,000), Sandy River (2,000,000), Total (17,000,000).

Mr. Van Dusen's estimate of the product of the hatcheries located on coast streams is as follows: Tillamook (4,000,000), Yuquina (2,000,000), Aheba Bay (3,000,000), Siuslaw River (1,000,000), Umpqua (1,000,000), Coos Bay (3,000,000), Coquille River (500,000).

where early fish may be taken, and, what is more, we are taking early fish. The late fish that are being hatched come from the Washington State and Government hatcheries in the Columbia River district.

"On the other hand, the Washington State and United States hatcheries make no pretense of taking early fish. They have never yet made an effort to take any salmon before the end of the fishing season, and the supply of the late salmon is due to their work. It is much easier to secure the late than the early fish. It is my opinion that the interests of the industry will best be subserved if the present order of things is continued.

Some interesting facts are contained in the statement of the hatchery outputs for 1901. On the Clackamas, for instance, the number of chinook eggs taken was 5,104,000. The number of female salmon spawned was 1121, so the average number of eggs taken from each salmon was 4642. On the Sandy River 7,532,300 steelhead eggs were taken from 2511 females, the average number of eggs taken from each being 3000.

Why He Knew the Ropes.

"Have you ever had any experience in handling high-grade pottery?" asked the importer of an applicant for a job. "No, sir," replied the applicant, "but I can do the work all right."

"You! Complain of being halfstarved on account of the high prices! Why, man, you are making a fortune off your truck farm."

Conferring with the Farmers.

The policy of Mr. J. J. Hill of conferring with the farmers may have good results. His recent meeting with farmers of the state of Washington promises this. At this conference Mr. Hill assured the farmers present, representing counties which are expected this season to yield 20,000,000 bushels of wheat, that he would act in accordance with the joint interest of the railroad company and its patrons and he urged that they would serve their own interests more effectually by co-operating with the railroads.

It is well known that Mr. Hill is endeavoring to promote trade between the Pacific coast and the Orient. He believes there is a great commerce to be built up between our western states and the far east. His aim is to encourage this trade and in order to do this he is disposed to make favorable transportation rates on grain and flour to the Pacific coast.

If Mr. Hill and those associated with him in railroad management shall do anything to benefit the farmers of the northwest they may be sure of commendation. It is manifestly in the interest of the transportation companies to do what they can to promote the development of the section from which they get business, so that it is no extraordinary sagacity, but simply good business judgment, that has led him to adopt the policy he is pursuing.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces.

General News.

Rudolph Fliedner, of New Brunswick, N. J., is dead after a lingering illness from a rare disease of the skin, known to scientists as pemphigus vulgaris. No other case of the disease has ever been known in the United States, it is asserted. Fliedner's skin became as if scalded, and his nurses had to swathe his entire body in cotton. Mr. Fliedner was taken ill in May. Specialists were called who studied the case with great interest, but could do nothing to relieve him, and he died from exhaustion. He was 44 years old, and starting as a factory laborer, had built up a large business.

Word reached New York city from Danbrook, Oneida County, that Hiram Cron, the only soldier of the War of 1812 upon the Government pension rolls, is dying at his home there. Cron is in his 103rd year, and he has had the distinction of having lived in three centuries. About three months ago his health began to fail, and for some time he has been confined to his bed and growing weak. He spends much of the time sleeping. Last week he slept for three days and two nights. Until two years ago the Government allowed him $8 a month, but Congressman Sherman secured the passage of a special act increasing the pension to $25.

Details concerning the Farmers' Trust, which has been incorporated at Pierre, S. D., with a capital of $50,000,000, are just being made public. Under the plan of the concern no one but farmers will be allowed to own a share of stock. Branch offices are to be established all over the United States, the chief branch establishment to be in Chicago. All kinds of farm products are to be dealt in and handled on a commission basis or for cash, as circumstances may direct. Deals on the Chicago Board of Trade in cash grain are also contemplated, with the object of giving the farmer a chance of getting a better price for his product and at the same time shutting out the middle man. It is believed by eliminating the middle man and having the farmers of the country behind it, the organization can maintain a uniform price to the benefit of the farmer without injury to the consumer.

An electrical company at Lynn, Mass., is building a train which is soon to be used in Illinois, says a special dispatch from Lynn, and which the engineers estimate will make 90 to 100 miles an hour. It is added that the track for the train in Illinois is almost completed; that the line is about 150 miles long, and is remarkable for solidity and strength. As far as possible grades have been eliminated. Electricity will be the motive power, and the third rail system will be used. A train of three cars has been built for the first trials. The train will be equipped with 12 motors of 120 horse power each. Instead of the high speed increasing the danger, it is claimed that the train will be safer and run less risk of leaving the rails than an ordinary street-car. The theory held by electricians is that the train is practically electrically welded to the track and cannot leave it while the power is on.

William U. Shaw killed his father and mother, and afterwards committed suicide at Salem, Mo.
