The editor left for Portland on Tuesday on business, and will remain there a week or so to visit old friends, so if the Headlight is a little more newsworthy and spicier than usual, our readers will know that the devils are in charge of the editor's sanctum sanctorum and have their fighting duds on ready for those who have a kick coming.
Some 22 neighbors and friends met at the home of Mrs. Augusta Boyington at Bay City on Saturday evening to give a farewell reception to Mr. and Mrs. Asa Hare, who are soon to leave there and take up their residence in this city. The evening passed off very pleasantly, with music, games and social chat. Mr. and Mrs. Hare are highly respected in Bay City and their many friends there are sorry to lose them from their midst.
Collector Robb has decided not to appoint a deputy collector for the port at Tillamook at present, there being no business at that port.—Astoria Herald. As there would be only a limited amount of business for a deputy collector to attend to, the Herald ought to be better informed than to say there is "no business at that port." Tell us, Bro. Curtiss, what the two lines of steamers are running between Tillamook and Astoria for, and the lumber schooners from California?
Mr. Wm. Bays and wife were in from the south end of the county last Friday and Saturday. Mr. Bays bought up a home grown squash weighing 46 pounds, which is on display in Riesland's real estate office. This shows what can be grown on Tillamook soil. He also brought up some of the largest onions we have seen here. Wild cats have been killing off some of his goats, but two were killed by his boy after they had slain six of his best goats.

Deputy U.S. Marshal Roberts came in on Friday, and after serving papers on Frank Severance, Fred C. Baker, M. F. Leach and Frank Herrington to appear before the U.S. grand jury in Portland today (Thursday), left the same evening on the stage. His visit was anticipated, and is in connection with a preliminary investigation by the United States grand jury of the alleged fraud and collusion in the Tillamook timber contests. We understand that a number of persons will appear before the grand jury who have not been subpoenaed.
Frank Simmons, formerly of North Yamhill, and son-in-law of Frank Martin, of Pike Valley, met with an accident near North Yakima, Wash., on Saturday or Sunday last, which caused his death a short time afterward. No particulars have been received, except that a breaking singletree struck him in the stomach, causing his death. Mr. Simmons was a member of the Oddfellows lodge at Tillamook, and was well-known here. Funeral and burial will be cared for at this place by the local lodge today, under directions of the Tillamook lodge, interment being made at the Pike cemetery.—North Yamhill Reporter.
James Ribble, wife and five children, drove from Portsmouth, Ohio, to Tillamook, arriving here last week. He came interested in this county by reading the special edition of the Headlight, and drove that long distance to find out whether the conditions were as represented in that edition. He is more than pleased with Tillamook, and in comparison with the country he has passed through in his long journey, this county suits him best. When Mr. Ribble takes another ride across the continent, that is if he goes into the dairying business in this county, it will be in a palace car on the railroad, for that is the style the people of Tillamook travel.
Dr. Wise, the dentist, is now at his office, and will remain as long as busy. Those wishing to see him, please call early.
The lumber schooner Redondo sailed on Saturday for San Francisco with 800,000 feet of lumber and with a number of passengers, including Mr. O. C. Haslett, president of the Truckee Lumber Company, Messrs. A. W. Kruger and D. I. Nosziger, Messdames N. A. Kruger, A. Gardner, O. C. Haslett, and Misses G. Haslett and M. E. Victors, who came up in the steamer on a pleasure and business trip. The Redondo was recently built in the East for the Truckee Lumber Company, and is a steel vessel, burns oil, has a double hull, and carries 800,000ft. of lumber and has accommodations for passengers. When she left on Saturday she was drawing a little over 14 feet at the stern.
Rev. C. P. Metzler, pastor of the Presbyterian church, announced on Sunday evening that about a month ago he offered his services for the foreign mission field, and on Friday he received the information that he had been accepted, and that he would sail from Seattle on the 18th of next month for China. He will close his ministry in his city at the end of this month, and a meeting of the members of the church is called for next Sunday morning to accept the resignation and to make application to the presbytery for a new pastor. Mr. Metzler's resignation was a surprise, as he was the pastor of a flourishing church and was instrumental in doing good in this city. The members of the Presbyterian church are sorry to lose Mr. Metzler.
The town is posted for the Margarita Fisher Company which will play for one week commencing Monday October 13. C. Ben is to be congratulated for having secured such an able Company of players numbering twenty people with band and orchestra. This will give our city the privilege of seeing a traveling company of merit, changing the play every night, introducing new singing and dancing specialties. Seats now on sale at the office of C. Ben Riesland. Six tickets, covering the entire series of one week's plays will be sold for the price of five, giving one free night to everyone securing a season ticket in advance. Get your tickets early as the demand promises to be great.

Harry Mitchell, of Garibaldi, was in the city Tuesday.
A large run of silver side salmon was reported in the bay Sunday.
Elder T. H. Starbuck will hold meetings in the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Saturday and Sunday evenings, beginning at 7:50. All are cordially invited.
Mrs. B. O. Snuffer left on the steamer Redonda last week for California, for the improvement of her health. She will remain there until next spring.
Wm. Easter drove out over the Willson river road Tuesday with M. F. Leach, Frank Severance and Frank Herrington as passengers.
The Endeavor Society of the Christian Church will give an experience social, the date of which will be announced later. In the meantime if young ladies should ask you for wood to pile, or young men to wash dishes, it need not surprise you, as the young people expect to make money in any novel way and tell their experiences at the social.
