

School Apportionment.

Apportionment of school funds, October 6th, 1902, State School Fund, $2613.04; per capita, $1.55; County School Fund, $2375; $50 to each district; total amount apportioned, $4988.04.

The County School Fund was not sufficient to apportion to each district $5.00 for teachers' attendance at the county institute. This will be made in a few weeks.

It is the first time for several years that the County School Fund had been sufficient to apportion the entire $50 in October. It has been customary to divide whatever amount there might be equally among the districts at that time, and apportion the remainder of the $50 in the February apportionment. The school district have in that way, always received the $50 to which they are entitled each year, though not always all at once.

Peele Again.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The government is becoming alarmed at the renewal of disturbances of Mont Peele, and will take some action at once for the safety of the inhabitants of the island.

The colonial office, becoming fearful of a reputation of fatalities, should Mont Peele again break forth in violent eruption, and are making rapid preparations to formulate a plan to facilitate a wholesale emigration of the inhabitants of the island of Martinique to Guiana at the earliest possible moment.

The recent report of the renewal of disturbances of the giant belcher which has wrought so much death and destruction on the island, has caused a state of alarm here for fear she will break out again.

The Council of Ministers has voted an appropriation to rebuild in South Martinique, the exact counterpart of villages evacuated in the North because of the Peele eruption, hoping to thus prevent the depopulation of the island.

The Printer's Devil Thinks

That His Nibs, Ye Editor, will not return from Portland until he has raised another moustache and gone broke.

That Representative B. L. Eddy should be the next speaker of the house in the state legislature because he belongs to Tillamook and makes a success of whatever he takes in hand.

That the Wall street currency stringency is the natural and logical result of the era of combinations, mergers and syndication of capital through which the United States has been passing.

That it looks as though Senator Simon was an object of political commiseration. But keep your eye on Little Joe at the next political friction and when he is in his element with ward politicians.

That Tillamook City doesn't care a duce whether the state legislature passed a nickle-in-the-slot law, and as the legislators did not condescend to consult the people who run the Tillamook City ranch, they'll see the legislators and the state laws to hades before they'll enforce them.

That Governor Geer ought to be long-sighted enough to know that the Salem ring is not the whole thing in the republican party in Oregon, and he is squarely up against it if he continues in the senatorial fight. You had better quit, governor, for discretion is the better part of valor.

That Tillamook county, considering its population and isolated condition, is the best and most prosperous county in Oregon. That's a fact, and the dairymen who can't make a comfortable living, and an easy one after their land is cleared up, had better get off the earth at once.

That Tillamook is putting on lots of style when the assessment of the property in the county can jump from about one and a half million dollars to three and a half million dollars. But we don't want to give the taxpayers a nightmare kind of a feeling that they will have to go down in their jeans with both hands.

That the seven mismatched couples who were made happy again on Monday by the court severing the "the knot that binds," the printer's devils extend their congratulations, and hope that the next time they hitch up double they won't live a dog and cat kind of life, jump the traces and then want the newspapers and the court to air the family linen.

That the postmaster has gone out on important business is plain to everyone who has watched the pleasant smile on his sweet countenance as he threw googoo eyes of yonder. Cupid called the printer's devil up on the phone just as they were going to press and let him into the whole secret. This is a newspaper secret, so don't tell him where you got the news, but congratulate him on his return from the honeymoon, which will last two or three weeks.

Samuel Renshaw Jumps Into the River.

At Portland on Tuesday afternoon, a letter carrier named Samuel Renshaw drove onto the east end of the steel bridge and, abandoning his horses and cart, hurled himself over the railing into the chilly waters of the Willamette below. Men are at work with grappling irons, but have not recovered the body at a late hour. The carrier's cap was found floating in the river.

No cause is known for Renshaw's rash act. He was sober and industrious and seemed to be getting along nicely. Postmaster Crossman said of the occurrence: Renshaw came to the postal service from one of the street car companies. He was put on as a substitute letter carrier and seemed to be getting along nicely. He may have gotten his distribution box mixed up, however, and had some trouble in the delivery and, becoming despondent, ended his life.

"Put a substitute on a new route and he is liable to get mixed up a little at first. It is to be expected. It is no cause for suicide, however."

Troops Shot to Kill.

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., Oct. 6.—While a company of the Fourth Regiment Infantry was patrolling the Lehigh Coal Company's colliery early this morning, three men armed with shotguns were discovered hiding behind a long building close to the engine-house. They were made prisoners. They told Colonel O'Neil, of the Fourth Regiment, they were hunting for birds, and they were released. About midnight a crowd of unknown men hurled rocks at the soldiers' camp. Sentries fired in the direction of the place the rocks came from. Part of the regiment searched the woods but found no one. Colonel O'Neil says the troops shot to kill, as he will not allow his men to be made targets of.

No new mine was started up here this morning, and so far as is known no non-unionists were attacked.

Gave Dead Heart Life.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—In a dispatch from Moscow, the correspondent of the Daily News says a Doctor Koulatke has succeeded in his experiments in reanimating the heart of an infant. He extracted the heart from a child that had died 20 hours previously. It beat with normal regularity of one hour. Dr. Koulatke hopes that his discovery will assist in reanimating in cases of death by drowning.

Miners Vote to Stay Out Until They Win.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 7.—In accordance with the address issued by President Mitchell last night calling upon all local unions to meet and take a vote on the question of remaining on strike, and the miners of the Prospect, Oakdale and Midvale coal collieries, of the Lehigh Coal Company, held a meeting in this city today, and at conclusion it was announced that the men had unanimously decided to stay out in a body until they had won the strike. This is the first meeting held in this anthracite field under the instructions of President Mitchell.

The news of the calling out of the entire National Guard of Pennsylvania did not become generally known through this region until this morning. It did not cause any commotion or surprise. The entire Wyoming Valley, of which Wilkesbarre is the center, was extremely quiet this morning. The situation, so far as the mining of coal is concerned, remains absolutely unchanged. The quantity of coal being shipped is very small compared with the normal production.

The coal company officials and others who hold the same views as the operators, predict that the military protection for the men who went to work there will be no trouble in getting a sufficient number of men to produce enough coal to relieve the fuel famine.

The strikers, as a result of the Governor's action, are even more firm for holding out than they have been at any time since the suspension was inaugurated. The leaders say they look upon the struggle now at a general one of capital against labor, and maintain that with the help of organized labor the country over the miners can stay away from the mines until the operators are compelled to yield a point.

The borough council of Plymouth at its meeting last night, passed a resolution with one dissenting vote protesting against the presence of troops in the borough. A battalion of the Ninth Regiment was placed in that community yesterday.

President's Proposal to Miners.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The following statement was made public at the White House this afternoon:

"On Monday, Oct. 6, Hon. Carroll D. Wright, Commissioner of Labor, went to Philadelphia and gave to Mr. John Mitchell the following from the President: 'If Mr. Mitchell will secure the immediate return to work of the miners in the anthracite regions, the President will at once appoint a committee to investigate thoroughly into all matters at issue between the operators and miners, and will do all in his power to obtain the settlement of those questions in accordance with the report of the committee.' 'Mr. Mitchell has taken this matter under consideration, but the President has not yet been advised of any decision.'"

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 7.—It is learned from a reliable source that the proposition made by President Roosevelt was discussed at the afternoon session of the coal conference, and that President Mitchell had taken an unfavorable attitude toward it.

Urges the Government to Buy All Coal Mines.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 7.—At the meeting of the Anaconda, Mont., Trades & Labor Assembly last night it was decided to circulate a monster petition asking the Government to lease all the coal fields and operate them for the good of the Nation. An appropriation will also be made for the striking miners in Pennsylvania, and a benefit, at which it is expected $1500 will be raised, is to be given in the near future.

Boers in Brussels.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 8.—The Boer Generals, Botha, Dewet and Delarey, arrived here this evening and were greeted by an immense crowd. In a speech from a balcony of his hotel, General Dewet reiterated that they had not come to Europe to seek vain succor to regain their independence, but to obtain help in repairing the ravages of the war. In a subsequent address Dewet said:

"In presence of this immense enthusiasm we ask ourselves why was there no intervention? God willed that we should lose our independence, and we will remain faithful to our new country if the conditions of peace are observed."

Rancher Shot to Death.

PRINEVILLE, Or., Oct. 5.—A shooting affair resulting in the death of Ed Glenn occurred yesterday about 40 miles from Prineville at the farm of the deceased, known as the old Carson place, near Moory postoffice. The farm was rented and in possession of Charles Roberts, who did the shooting. Both men were armed with pistols at the time and the trouble seems to have been brought about by a misunderstanding regarding a verbal contract relative to some live-stock. After the trouble Roberts rode 40 miles and delivered himself up to Sheriff Smith at 2 a.m. The Coroner, accompanied by a doctor and an attorney, has gone to the scene of the trouble to make an investigation. Roberts came from and is well known in the neighborhood of Crawfordsville, Or.

Cup Challenge Signed.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Sir Thomas Lypton's third challenge for a series of races for the America's cup was signed this afternoon at Belfast, Ireland, by the officials of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club. The Hon. Charles Russell represented Sir Thomas Lypton. The challenge was immediately posted.

Americans Called Down.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—General Corbin, General Young and John W. Gates had had an unpleasant experience with the English motor laws. Both on Saturday and Sunday they were driving a car which was stopped by the police, who summoned the Americans for exceeding 13 miles an hour. The car in each instance was a fast, new vehicle, just purchased by Sir Thomas Lypton, who had lent it to Mr. Gates to show the Generals around the country. On Saturday they were driving through Windsor when a policeman arrested the chauffeur and took the names and addresses of Mr. Gates and General Young, who were the occupants of the car, and General Corbin was nearing Brighton, when a policeman stepped out of a hedge and stopped the car.

When the summonses are called up no defense will be made, for, as one of the Americans said: "The police have got you at their mercy. You may be morally sure that you were not driving at over the speed limit, but that is ineffective against the police with their stop watches."

An impressive lesson in taxable valuations is supplied by the assessment roll of Tillamook County.

In one year the value of taxable property in that county leaps from $1,439,005 to $3,412,573, an increase of about 135 per cent. The actual increase is twice as great as in Multnomah County. It's a fine showing for Tillamook; but would it have been made if the law fixing the proportion each county shall bear of the state expenses had not contained this line: Tillamook County.....0.087 per cent. It doesn't cost the counties anything to be generous with their valuations nowadays.—Oregonian.

TRAIN STOPPED BY WIND.

The Illinois Central "Diamond Special" Has a Most Thrilling Experience.

Passengers on the Diamond Special over the Illinois Central had a thrilling experience in the storm of the other morning. There were 250 persons aboard. When the train pulled out of Kankakee, south-bound, the storm was first noticed. Soon it broke with terrific violence. There is no stop between Kankakee and Gilman. Twice before reaching the latter place the train was brought to a standstill, it being impossible to breast the heavy gale which prevailed.

At Gilman the yards were flooded and a box car had been wedged into the switch of the St. Louis line. The train had been stopped by the wind, and this alone prevented a terrible wreck. Conductor Dawson waded through water nearly to his waist to the telegraph station, where it was learned that all trains on the St. Louis line, north or south bound, in the division between Springfield and Gilman were lost or stalled in the storm. The train reached Springfield one hour and a half late and arrived in the Union station at St. Louis one hour behind time. The passengers who had gone to their berths in the sleepers, aroused by the storm, arose and made hasty toilets, expecting every moment that the train would be blown from the tracks.

CAUTIONS COLLEGE MEN.

Charles M. Schwab Tells Them They Must Not Find Fault with Ways of Self-Trained Men.

Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, delivered the address to the graduating class at Pennsylvania State college. Among other things, he said that in order to become successful a college man must not find fault with the ways of self-trained men. He must not think himself above the common class.

"One reason why practical men arc at the head of organizations is because the college man depends too much on his diploma," he said. "The worst thing you can do is to start in life with influence. Be energetic. Make mistakes if you must, but keep working. People must respect you for it."

"The business of the country must be continued under organization. Trusts cannot be stopped. One thing that stands in the way of their success is the lack of men to manage them. Here is a chance for trained young men. No man will entrust his fortune to your hands, however, until you have demonstrated your ability. Ability is sought everywhere. Capitalists bemoan the lack of it." Mr. and Mrs. Schwab presented the college with $60,000.

Let us hope, says the Chicago Chronicle, that Mr. Edison is mistaken in his prophecy that he will make automobiles as cheap and plentiful as bicycles. We all remember the bicycle invasion of six or seven years ago, and the thought of Grand boulevard jammed from curb to curb with sizzling, tooting, screeching automobiles is enough to turn one's hair gray.
