Dr. O. H. Davenport, dentist, will be in his office in Tillamook City from the 1st to the 15th of each month. *
Dr. Wise will return from Nehalem about Tuesday and will remain a few days before leaving for Portland. *
On Friday evening the members of the Presbyterian church will have a social gathering at the residence of Mr. B. L. Eddy. *
Why pay $75 for steel ranges from the peddlers when you can get a better steel range from McIntosh & McNair for $45 to $50? *
Otis E. Farmer and Miss Nina Miles are two more of our young people to plight their love and their fortunes in matrimony. *
Dr. Lawless will leave in a few days for a business trip on the outside, to be gone several months. Mrs. Lawless and daughter will remain here. *
Rain, rain, rain, with occasional warm and balmy days, is what Tillamookers have made up their minds to experience the next few months. *
Mr. and Mrs. William Eason arrived over from Tillamook during the week and will make their home in this place.—North Yamhill Record. *
Nickel-in-the-slot machines, which have been running contrary to law in Portland, have been closed down upon, but in this little kingdom of Tillamook, where some people are allowed special privileges and openly ignore the law, the slot machines are still in business in this city.

Cohn and Co. has been paying 12½ cents for cheese in this city, being about the highest price paid this season. They expect the price to go higher. *
When you want to know anything about the Oregon Fire Relief Association call upon or write J. S. Stephens, who is the agent for Tillamook county. *
The editors in Yamhill County have formed an association. They must have become infatuated with the community of interest idea for self-protection. *
Rev. S. S. White has been appointed to succeed Rev. C. P. Metzler as pastor of the Presbyterian church in this city, and he is expected in for the services next Sunday. *
We want a live correspondent in every school district. Now who will act in this capacity and send us the news in their vicinity? We will supply stamped stationery. *
We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Howard Cary is seriously sick at Salem, and the doctors recommend her immediate removal to a different climate. She is at her mother's residence. *
Mayor Brodhead and Recorder Coates were the only city officials who put in an appearance on Monday evening, consequently for the lack of city dads there was no meeting. *
Elder T. H. Starbuck, of Portland, will hold meetings in the Seventh Day Adventist Church Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, commencing at 7:30. All are cordially invited. *
William B. Dennis, of Blackbutte, Ore., writes us that he is wanting the names of parties who pack Tillamook butter. If any of our subscribers have packed butter to sell they should write him. *
The steamer Sue H. Elmore came in on Saturday from Astoria with a number of passengers and freight. It was an ideal day, the weather being lovely with a calm sea. She left again on Monday. *
Now that Ralph Ackley's store has its plate glass front in it looks somewhat of a sporty place to do business in. Anyway, Ralph has a nice store and is out to do all the business he can in the sporting line. *
Miss Mandie Sturgeon, who is a licensed pharmacist by examination, and late graduate of four year course in pharmacy, has charge of the prescription department of STURGEON'S DRUG STORE. *
It was no surprise to us to hear that the North Yamhill Tillamook stage was held up and the robber went through the passengers, for this county was visited the past few months by a number of suspicious characters who evidently did considerable rubbernecking to see where they could get in their work.

The best saw on earth. Use the Great Western saws and you will soon be convinced of this fact, for they are recognized to be the best saw now on the market. For sale at McIntosh & McNair's hardware store. *
We do not think that Tillamookers, who have been in the habit of carrying big wads of money with them when they cross the mountains, will not take the chance of being relieved of it in future, for they catch on mighty quick. *
Dates have been set for taking evidence in over 40 Tillamook timber claim contests, in which G. O. Nolan and Low are the contestants. They will begin in December and will continue through January, if they are not withdrawn in the meantime. *
Otto Heins, the photographer, who was held up on Saturday was up against the real thing, so from this on one will believe he was actually in one of those predicaments which he had so often gone through with his vivid imagination. Put your hands up, Otto. *
Mr. R. W. Mitchell, secretary for the committee having in hand the matter of presenting Admiral Clark, who commanded the battle-ship Oregon, with a sword, has authorized the Editor of the Headlight to take up subscriptions in Tillamook. Let's help it along, gentlemen. *
D. T. Edmunds' new general merchandise store on Main street is another attractive place of business in this city, and is stocked with a fine line of goods. Mr. D. T. Edmunds is one of our old, reliable merchants and has a reputation for carrying a good class of goods, and in his new quarters we wish him success. *
The editor returned to his sanctum on Saturday after spending nearly two weeks in Portland on business and visiting old friends. As luck would have it, the steamer Sue H. Elmore sailed Saturday, otherwise the editor would have been a passenger on the stage which was held up that evening. *
Portland is evidently enjoying a season of prosperity. Business is brisk, improvements are going on in every direction, besides, there is a boom in erecting new and handsome residences. Portland is a substantial city, with a steady growth, and it is safe to predict that it will continue to grow for a number of years. *
Rev. C. P. Metzler will bring his ministry to a close on Sunday, when he will preach morning and evening in the Presbyterian church. The people of this city regret that Mr. Metzler is leaving, but he will take with him the best wishes of the community in his new sphere of labor in the China mission field. *
A bevy of our citizens assembled rather precociously at the Perkins hotel in Portland the other day, and being introduced to so many, a well-known person in that city jokingly remarked: "Portland must be getting lousy with Tillamookers." It so tickled the denizens of this county they all joined in a hearty laugh. *
Next Monday evening Star Lodge will celebrate the anniversary of the Ancient Order United Workmen in Todd's hall. The ladies of the Degree of Honor have prepared a short program and will serve a butter fly supper. The proceeds are to be used to take care of three little fatherless children of Father Upchurch, the founder of the order. Everybody is most cordially invited. *
Rev. Father H. J. McDevitt came in on the steamer Wednesday to fill the vacancy in the Catholic church, Rev. Father J. J. Burri being transferred to McMinnville. The reverend gentleman will hold mass as usual on Sunday next. The many friends of Father Burri regret that he had to leave Tillamook, but he carries with him their respect and best wishes.

We have moved to our NEW STORE, three doors South of the P.O., where we have a big Stock of Sporting Goods, Guns and Ammunition, Bicycles, etc. Sell at no frills. Work hard for your trade. Have no schemes, fads, or questionable methods to exploit. Don't run down our competitors or their goods. Keep plugging away trying to satisfy you and incidentally make a little profit. Nuff said.

Ralph Ackley.

It may be interesting to the people of this county to know that North Yamhill will soon have a large and commodious hotel, which is a long felt want in that dusty burg. The only place that the editor could find where he could change his duds after crossing the mountain was in the livery barn. *
We call the attention of our readers to the advt. of Everding & Farrell, of Portland, who want more of our dairy products. These people are hungry for Tillamook fancy creamery butter, because they know that the butter manufactured in this county is the pure, wholesome and unadulterated stuff and they can easily get the top prices for it. *
A union service will be held in the Presbyterian Church next Sabbath at 7:30 p.m., in recognition of the faithful work of the Rev. C. P. Metzler and for the purpose of wishing him God speed upon his departure for China, where he will soon take up the great task of a gospel missionary. Members of all churches as well as non-members are cordially invited. *
W. N. BLODGETT,
GABRIEL SYKES.

While in Portland the editor called upon Captain W. C. Langfitt, United States engineer, who has charge of the river and harbor improvements. He was somewhat in doubt when the government improvements would be resumed in Tillamook as he was waiting for the survey of the bay, which is now being made, before he decided what is best to be done by way of dredging. In all probability a dredger will be fixed to the scow to take the place of the bucket dredge, and on that account it may be several months before work is resumed. *
The steamer George R. Vosburg arrived in from Astoria Wednesday and reports having towed the schooners Oakland and Lizzie Prie to sea from Nehalem last Thursday, and the schooner Letitia out on Sunday. These schooners are all loaded with lumber for San Francisco carrying altogether about 1,000,000 feet. She also reports having towed the schooner John F. Miller into that port to load lumber on Thursday. Her passengers were: W. S. Thompson, Father H. J. McDevitt, S. M. Rothchild, W. J. Vogart, J. K. Hicks, J. J. McCoy, Miss Hicks, Mrs. Morris.

At a meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Tillamook Lumber Company on Wednesday, the interests of that company changed hands for the consideration of $11,500, which includes the saw mill property, but not the Headlight building. The new company elected F. S. Whitehouse, president; P. McIntosh, secretary, and J. R. Harter director. The possession of the mill will be obtained as soon as arrangements can be made with Mr. Taft. The sawmill will be improved as soon as possible. *
There is very little difference between the man who holds up a stage and goes through the passengers and the man who runs a gambling game for the purpose of causing those to go broke who are foolish enough to allow themselves to be held up and gone through at a gambling table. All the difference is one uses one method of relieving a man of his money, while the other uses another method of extracting money unlawfully, therefore, if gamblers are allowed to run gambling houses contrary to law, we do not see why the same privilege should not be granted to those who go through the passengers on the stage or want to crack and go through the safes in the banks and stores of this city. That's logic.

R. M. Watson has returned to Tillamook after exhausting his "hot air" and credit at Elma, Wash., where he made another miserable financial fizzle in the newspaper business, and is now doing the "baby act" trying to work on the sympathies of his former friends for help to assist him start another newspaper in this city, and for the express purpose of bucking his nephew, Rollie Watson, who bought, with hard earned cash, the Herald plant and his uncle's goodwill in the same. It is most contemptible on R. M. Watson's part, under the circumstances, for him to identify himself with a newspaper in this county, for having sold his goodwill his nephew has a recourse at law. We would suggest that the new newspaper be called the "Baby Act Graft" and should give a graphic account of Watson's last 'bout with his wife, going home drunk, running into delit and borrowing money from his son-in-law, an honest, hard-working boy, and suddenly skipping out without paying the same; also the tight place Watson found himself in when he had to clear out of Elma or commit suicide, which he threatened to do. These reliable facts will make the "Baby Act Graft" exceedingly interesting to those who allow the man who has guzzled down whiskey enough to float the Sue H. Elmore to tap them again. But we have a spark of sympathy, however, for Watson, for it is distressing to see a man at enmity with his own relatives and healed for the asylum.

Held Up and Robbed.
Having been held up and robbed, I ask those who are indebted to me to call and settle at once, either by cash or note secured. *
Being in need of ready cash, and must have it, special prices will be made for a short time only. Call and see me and inspect my work. None better in the city. HEINS, the Leading Artist.

The Opening Ball of the Season will be given at the Tillamook Opera House, on Thursday evening, October 30th. Music will be rendered by the new four part orchestra. Dancing will commence at 9 o'clock sharp. A banquet consisting of the best the season affords will be served in the gallery of the Opera House from eleven to one o'clock. Good prompting and good order is insured. The hall will be decorated for the occasion. Gentlemen not desiring dancing tickets will be charged a small admission fee at the door. A good time is insured. The public is invited.
