Haltom's Clean up Sale continues.

All timber claim proofs taken before the county clerk will be held up pending further investigation by a special agent of the land office. This should not cause uneasiness to those who have filed on timber claims and intend complying with the conditions of the timber and stone act, for the intention of the department is to detect fraudulent entries.

Mr. Royal Stillwell and Miss Florence M. Ford headed the grand parade in the matrimonial procession for this year in Tillamook. They were married at the Methodist parsonage on New Year's Day by the Rev. Gabriel Sykes. They are both well known in this county, with a large number of relatives and friends, who extend their congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple.

Mrs. Looser, wife of Rev. J. Looser, will teach German on Saturdays. She has been given the use of one of the rooms of the public school for her class, which meets on Saturday morning from 9 till 11.30 a.m. and from 12:30 till 2:30 p.m. The studies will be in reading, writing and language. It was at the solicitation of a number of persons that Mrs. Looser decided to start a class.

William Heimiller, who was sent to the state penitentiary for four years for attempting to kill Emil Arndt by shooting and wounding him twice at the saw mill at Hobsonville, died at Salem on Monday from typhoid fever. His death was anticipated on account of the seriousness of his sickness. His body will be brought to Tillamook for burial.

By request Mrs. Goddard will give the famous court scene from "The Merchant of Venice," impersonating six characters. Remember the date, one week from Saturday.

It is a source of satisfaction to know that Tillamook City is practically out of debt and upon a cash basis. This is as it should be and if it can be kept so it is far better for the city and the taxpayers. Ex-Mayor Brodhead and the previous city council are to be congratulated for this satisfactory state of the city's finances, and if the present council can retire with such a record it will be leaving the city in good shape.

While in a state of despondency on Saturday Ben Bunn made an attempt to commit suicide, but was prevented from doing so by his wife. She saw him draw a revolver with the intent of killing himself, and seizing the deadly weapon she placed him hors de combat, thus preventing him from taking his own life. Bunn is an old and respected citizen of this county, and it was owing to sickness he became despondent, and while in that condition he decided upon the rash act.

It is to be hoped, whenever there is another fire in this city, the general public will rubber at a distance, and not crowd into and about the burning building like a swarm of bees. It only impedes the work of the fireman, for the rubbernecks who persist in crowding in are much annoyance as a swarm of bees would be. As the safety of the city somewhat rests in extinguishing a fire in its infancy, rubbernecks should stand back and give the fire boys free scope to grapple with it.

The editor thought he would vomit at the city council on Monday when the city dads were again told of the wonderful things they do over in some of the sound cities in regard to municipal ownership of water systems. There's enough brains and originality in Tillamook to know what is required in this city. We don't have to, and we don't intend to, follow in the foot prints of Elma, Hoquiam, etc., even if it is necessary for the city dads every once in a while to have their time taken up with the little bassoons directly the water question comes up.

On Monday evening the Degree of Honor had another rousing time. Initiation of new members and installation of the officers-elect, followed by a banquet, was the order of the evening. Mrs. Davis, with appropriate remarks, and in the name of friends and members of the lodge, presented Mrs. Anna Todd, the retiring past chief of honor, with a badge. The retiring officer thanked the members for their token of respect. This lodge has closed a most successful year's work, having added 27 new members to the roll, about half of whom are beneficiary. The lodge has quite a nice little sum on hand for the newly installed officers to commence the work for this year.

Rollod Barley, Bran, Oats, Mill Chop, Oil Meal, Hard Wheat Flour, at Ganloff & Snuffer's.

Hugh Rittenhouse met with an accident on Sunday which came near causing him to bleed to death, but as it is he will be animated for life. Rittenhouse, who is about 19 years of age, was batching on his mother's place at Balm, and on Sunday Alva Ricket went up there. The latter loaded a gun for the purpose of doing some shooting. After the young men had been in the house, Ricket came out and saw there were a number of ducks on the lake. Ricket told Rittenhouse to come out and shoot them, but he at first declined and told Ricket to take the gun and shoot them. Rittenhouse took the gun and went out to take a shot. He did not examine the gun to ascertain whether the weapon was correctly loaded by Ricket, and after taking aim and pulling the trigger, Rittenhouse was suddenly surprised to find only the butt of the gun in his right hand and his left hand badly shattered. He did not stop to ascertain what had become of the barrel, but started off for where he could get the wound dressed. It bled profusely, and after proceeding nearly a mile he became exhausted from the loss of blood. Mr. F. R. Beals, who was returning from Nehalem, brought the unfortunate young man to the city Sunday evening, and Dr. Wiley found it necessary to amputate the hand above the wrist. Rittenhouse was so exhausted after the operation that it was necessary to keep him in the doctor's office all night.

At a meeting of the hose company on Thursday evening, the annual election of officers took place, with this result: Fred C. Baker, president; Henry Crenshaw, chief; Howard Edmonds, secretary; C. I. Clough, treasurer. The city has been remarkably free from fires the past year, only two alarms being turned in. These fires were promptly put out without any loss of property, one with the chemical appliances added to the equipment last year by the company, the chief remarking that at that fire, had the water been turned on, it would have destroyed more property than the first cost of the new appliances. This was thought exceedingly satisfactory, so much so it is suggested that more chemicals be added as soon as the company is in a position to purchase them. Treasurer Clough's report showed a little over $20 in hand. The annual fireman's ball will take place on the 22nd Feb. As the tendency of the general public is to crowd in where there is a fire, to wit, such as took place at the Ackley and Woolfe fires, the city council will be asked to pass an ordinance giving the firemen the authority of special policemen to keep the crowd back. It was reported there were a number of defective flues and chimneys within the fire limits, and in order that these fire traps be removed, on motion of the company, it was recommended that Mayor Talmage appoint Chief Crenshaw the fire warden of the city. The newly elected officers promised an "At Home" at the next regular meeting, at which every member is expected to be present.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The partnership hitherto existing between A. K. Case and Frank Fowler has been dissolved by mutual consent. A. K. Case will retain possession of the machine shop, pay all liabilities and collect all accounts owing the firm. Tillamook City, Ore., Jan. 6, 1903. A. K. CASE, FRANK FOWLER.
