The new stock of ladies' and gent's shoes at the Red Front Store is the best assorted stock of goods ever brought to Tillamook. If you want a shoe that is fashionable and well made, and can be worn with ease and comfort, you must go to Brownie's Red Front Store.
C. E. Reynolds has bought from Nels Thompson his stock of caskets and undertakers' supplies, which makes him the only person in that line of business. Mr. Reynolds has added a very handsome hearse to his establishment, making him an up-to-date undertaker.
The school directors opened the bids on Monday for the erection of the new eight roomed school building, which were as follows: S. A. Brodhead, $5,930; Melcher & Arndt, $5,960; Nels Thompson, $6,115. Mr. Brodhead's bid was accepted, which calls for the building to be finished on the 1st September.
N. L. Barnes has located in that thriving town of Bandon, in Coos county, and from all accounts business is booming over there. That must be the reason a number of Tillamook people have gone there, for where there is a rush of business is the place to make money. But wait until Tillamook takes a notion to expand.
The public will have another opportunity to hear the pupils of the Tillamook high school address them on eight interesting subjects, when four young women and four young men will be given seven minutes each to make their addresses. This will take place at an entertainment previous to the close of the school.
A suit was filed on Wednesday by W. J. Smith against Claude Thayer and Clark E. Hadley in the Circuit Court for $1848.75 for cruising out and furnishing estimates to certain timber lands in Tillamook county; and for the further sum of $150 for furnishing valuable information then in Smith's possession and as acting as witness in the Oregon City Land Office.
Captain Dodge goes out to Astoria today with the intention to taking charge of the gasoline schooner Gerald C., which is to be commissioned for the purpose of running into the small ports along the coast with freight. Women's Shirt Waist in every imaginable style and fabric at Haltom's.

Wilson Taylor, who is employed at Grayson & McNamer's livery stables, met with a serious accident on Saturday. He fell from the loft and it is supposed he struck his head on the manger. He was rendered unconscious and taken to Mr. Grayson's residence, where medical aid was sent for. He remained in a semi-unconscious state for several days; and it was thought he would not recover. He is now reported much better.
While outside Mr. A. J. Cohn ran across some condensed milk which was manufactured near Hillsboro, by Mr. F. Schomburg, who was a resident of Tillamook county some five or six years ago. Mr. Cohn brought in several cans of the sterilized evaporated cream, which is called the Oregon Grape brand and it is a splendid article, containing nothing but pure fresh sweet milk and cream, thoroughly sterilized and evaporated, making it a very rich cream. It certainly is a fine article and a credit to Mr. Schomburg. Let us hope at no distant date Tillamook City will have a condensed milk factory, and we understand an effort is to be made to start one here.
Probably in about a week the Tillamook Lumber Co.'s saw mill will be in operation again, when the electric lights will be turned on. With new machinery and the mill reconstructed, it is in good shape to chew up saw logs at a rapid rate. A shingle mill will be operated in connection with it. Mr. F. S. Whitehouse is deserving of credit for the enterprise with which he has turned the old dilapidated saw mill into a mill that is a credit to the city, and, as an industry, will become valuable to the city now that the company is going to cut lumber for the export trade. We wish we had a dozen similar saw mills in the vicinity of Tillamook City, for then business would be rushing.
A large number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Svenson gave them a surprise party at their home on Wednesday evening, previous to their departure from Tillamook. The party was composed mostly of neighbors, who hold Mr. and Mrs. Svenson in the highest esteem and who are sorry to see them leave. It was quite a surprise to Mr. Svenson to see so many of his friends, and a real social time followed, which will long be remembered by all present. The ladies served a tempting supper in the dining room, which was a credit to them. Mr. and Mrs. Svenson have resided in the county for 25 years, and their neighbors Tuesday evening testified to the high respect in which they are held in the community and regret in seeing them leave. They intend going to California.

GEORGE WILLIAMS, Secretary.
The population of Tillamook is not increasing, as it should, although the dairy industry is doing so.

H. W. Corbett Dead.

Hon. Henry W. Corbett, one of the best-known public men of the Northwest and of the State of Oregon, with which his name has been closely identified for a lifetime, died Tuesday morning. Although his health had not been the best for some time past, with that characteristic energy that has been his always, he was active in looking after business until within a few hours before his final indisposition. Mr. Corbett's death at this time was entirely unexpected. The immediate cause was heart failure. He was conscious to the last, and expired peacefully, before relatives outside of the household could be summoned. The end came at a quarter to 7 A. M.

Will Eddy Get the Nomination?

The Evening Telegram appears to be under the impression that Mr. Eddy is a "dark horse" in the congressional fight, but that newspaper is mistaken in that respect, for we have clearly defined and made public his position. But this is how the Telegram sizes up the situation: "There is no reason why Eddy should be considered as altogether out of the game; in fact, conditions may put him on the top of the deck, when the drawing comes. His home delegation from Tillamook will go to Eugene, it is understood, without instructions, but ready at any propitious moment to switch to their own man. He would also stand a good chance to secure the Marion delegation should a second choice be found necessary by that county, more particularly, of course, if the delegates were controlled by Gatch.
Other counties might be swung in line, and it is for this reason that he must be taken into consideration. Eddy did as much for the cause of Fulton as did young Hermann, and with less cause, for the Fulton people elected Harris Speaker over his head. So, Sis Hopkins' bit of philosophy, "My ma says don't never do nothin' for nobody who don't do nothin' for you," might be inversely spoken by Lane, for Lane was desirous of seeing Fulton elected, and must appreciate what Eddy did for the new United States Senator, and indirectly for them."

■ A Missouri preacher has declared that hereafter he will tell the truth and nothing but the truth in delivering funeral sermons. It is suspected that the clergyman does not care very much about officiating at funeral services, anyway. At least his calls, after this declaration, are likely to be few and not close together.

Quaint Features of Life.

A prominent citizen in Randolph county, Virginia, succeeded in getting relieved from jury duty through the novel excuse that he was engaged in studying the habits of a groundhog, for the benefit of Meteorological science, and that his absence from home in the jury room might ruin the results of his investigations.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat challenges all Illinois and Missouri—it might have included the United States also—to produce a larger family than that of Frank Hubert, who lives near Carlyle in that state. There are eighteen in the family and sixteen of them are children, the oldest being 28 years of age and the youngest 3. The father is 51 years of age, the mother 50, and all the children have been born in the house where the parents now reside. There are twelve boys and four girls. One of the boys is married and he is following his father's example, and has already three children. It is a remarkable feature of the record of this big family that not one of the children ever has been sick or injured by accident and that the parents are in perfect health.

Silenced by a whipping he thought he did not deserve, Jerry Miller is now a hermit in a farm house in the wild regions of Ohio, not far from Chillicothe, says the Chicago Tribune. He is now past 40 years old, and no one can remember having heard him say a dozen connected words. His father, who is still living, is said to have been a stern taskmaster and a firm believer of the old ideas of punishment. Jerry was accused of some offense which he stoutly denied. His father, thinking the boy guilty of the offense, said he would whip both for original offense and then for not telling the truth about it. The boy protested and pleaded with his father, but without avail. The whipping administered was not a gentle one, but the boy took it stolidly and did not even cry. The days grew into weeks, and still the boy maintained the same gloomy silence. Years passed. The father was heart broken at the boy's determination. He tried every means in his power to show the son that he was eager to make amends for the wrong he had done. The boy, grew to a man, worked on in silence. Doctors were called in to see if there was any mental defect in him, but they could make no progress, as that baffling silence stood always a bar to all inquiries.
