Editorial Tit Bits.

As the nomination of Binger Hermann for congress is satisfactory to both factions of the republican party in Tillamook county, there is not the least doubt but the party will work harmoniously together.

Mr. Eddy informs us that Mr. Hermann, if he cannot come to Tillamook during the campaign, will do so this summer, so as to ascertain and become more fully conversant with the proposed improvement of Tillamook bar.

"Press Day" in court did not amount to much. We were exceedingly sorry to disappoint the crowd, but the general public will be satisfied with the veracity of the HEADLIGHT when they read the verbatim report of the libel case at some future date.

There ought to be some kind of an understanding with the people of this county what is best to do with the parties who are contesting homesteads of those who reside in Tillamook. A lynching or a coat of tar and feathers would have a good effect and be the means of protecting the settlers from those who are after "blood money."

For the first time in a number of years hay is a scarce article in Tillamook this year. What with the dry spell last fall and the late spring, pasture, which is general good in the winter, has been very poor, consequently, with every dairyman wintering as many cows as possible, hay has been used up at a rapid rate.

Who set the report about on Wednesday that Cupid had been dealing in real estate and had not only kidnapped the affections of a rustling real estate agent but had conveyed, signed, sealed and delivered them to a certain young lady? The HEADLIGHT does not vouch for the accuracy of the report. C. Ben about it.

Perhaps, the fine of $50 imposed upon M. Potter, of Sheridan, on Tuesday last for shooting at a coat he saw hanging to a stump in a field as he was driving along the road, ought to teach visitors to this county in the summer that they cannot deliberately destroy people's property and then make the plea that they were shooting at a kingfisher. However, kingfishers come high.

Will the republicans of this county ever drop their personal and factional fights and get down to first principles? This is a good opportunity to do so if they feel disposed. But, somehow, the temperament of the people of this county is so peculiar it takes but very little fanning to turn the smoldering spark of personal prejudice and factional discord into a blazing fire. We hope we are wrong, but it looks as though personal jealousies are so strong with people in Tillamook it is impossible to bury the hatchet and keep it buried.

The same old hoodoo hangs over Tillamook. Lumber schooners outside but unable to get in for the want of a tug, consequently they go elsewhere for a cargo. Will Tillamook people ever rise to the situation and change this serious obstacle to the county's development? It's the same old story, what's everybody's business is nobody's business, and while other parts of the state are doing a booming business in lumber and selling it at big figures, Tillamook people are letting these splendid opportunities pass without making an effort to get out of the manufacturing apathy they have fallen into. The tug boat problem must be solved, and solved right, and then it will be an inducement to lumber buyers to come to Tillamook. But who's going to put money into a saw mill when it is as plain as plain can be that he'll get stuck under present conditions. But a city that won't help itself, when it can easily do so, shows a lack of enterprise and public spirit.

CHAS. I. CLOUGH,
Reliable Druggist,
Tillamook.

Mr. A. E. Reames of Jackson county, was nominated for congressman on the first ballot by the democratic convention of the first district at Albany on Saturday. He is a son-in-law of the late T. H. Tongue. The HEADLIGHT man is acquainted with Mr. Reames, who is a bright attorney, a fluent speaker, and a nice gentleman, but he is on the wrong and hoodoo ticket. It is reported that Mr. Reames will tour the entire district on a campaign expedition, making speeches in the large cities of every county, including Tillamook, which is regarded the "enemy's country" in the eyes of the untried. Of course, we shall be glad to see Mr. Reames come to Tillamook, and we hope he will send an invitation to Binger Hermann to accompany him.

Mr. Thurston, of Dallas, who came to Tillamook about two months since for the purpose of looking up the saw mill prospects in this county, and who went away perfectly satisfied with the bright prospects in Tillamook, but not at all satisfied with our narrow, clannish ideas in a manufacturing sense, has bought a saw mill and a big tract of timber near Albany. It is the same old story. We lack the push, we lack the energy, we lack the enterprise to foster and promote manufacturing industries to develop our splendid resources. But when it comes to doing something for the interest of the county there is a lack of interest and a suspicion that someone has a scheme on hand and a trump card up the sleeve to work a graft. So we go on from year to year, prattle about our wonderful country, but if we go on at the same rate we are going, it will not be the present, but the next generation, that will participate in the manufacturing boom that is sure to come to Tillamook as soon as we get away from the contracted ideas of pulling down, freezing out, and discouraging new enterprises and start out on an expansion policy. Tillamook County has an enormous amount of standing timber. There is a great demand for lumber all over the Pacific Coast, the Middle West, in fact, all over the world, and it figures that will pay handsome profits to those who invest their money in the manufacture of lumber.

Mr. B. L. Eddy is just as pleased that he was not nominated for congress as the HEADLIGHT is that lightning did not strike him. Mr. Eddy is leaving out a reputation for himself at a rapid rate for a young man who reside in this neck of the woods, and it will not be many years, if we do not miss our guess, before he will become an important factor in state politics, more so than he is in Tillamook politics. It behooves Tillamook people to be loyal to our favored son, especially as we are a small—only in population—and isolated county. It is to this county's interest if Mr. Eddy becomes a prominent figure in state politics, for it will place him in a position which will bring the county into prominence, and where he can ask and almost demand appropriations for Tillamook harbors. Therefore, we think it would be exceedingly unwise for any little local prejudices to cause any friction to thwart his progress in the future, for to do so is only putting a stumbling block in the county's development, which has been kept back too long already. And should such a thing as another factional and personal fight be made on Mr. Eddy, the people who attempt it will find how unpopular they are. The HEADLIGHT is glad Mr. Eddy did not get the nomination. He can well afford to wait, for in a few years there is every probability that it will come his way, or some other equally important office, for we are not blind to the fact that Mr. Eddy went to the state legislature in 1901 a comparative stranger. He proved himself the leader of the house, as he did also in the house this year. People on the outside are cognizant of these facts and at the proper time will reward ability, industry, honesty of purpose and a clean, out spoken gentleman. See, in a few years, whether our predictions will not prove true.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, in doses from two drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The writer wishes to compliment the republican party for not putting him in nomination for congress.

We have been told that the republicans, democrats and prohi's were represented at the primaries some time ago in our burg. It begins to look like the lion, lamb and the goat would occupy one fold without injuring the flock.

L. Norburg, while at work for the Yellow Fir Co., got his hand smashed pretty badly the other day, and Mr. Kinnaman, who works there, while working in the woods was driving in a wedge, it rebounded and struck him a severe blow over the heart and almost put him out.

Invitations to Hanging.
EUGENE, Or., April 14.—Invitations were sent out today by Sheriff Fred Fish to those who are to be admitted to witness the execution of Elliot W. Lyons, which will occur at 9:30 A. M. on Friday of this week. All preparations for the event are now complete, and nothing remains to be done but to carry into effect the order of execution. A high board inclosure has been constructed in the jail yard on the east side of the jail, within which the scaffold has been erected. The scaffold was tested today and was found to work satisfactorily. The trap will be sprung by an electrical attachment, so that upon signal a button is pressed and the platform is released.
About 125 permits have been sent out and will include among the number of visitors to be allowed, the members of the last Grand Jury, the members of the trial jury before which Lyons was convicted, all the Sheriffs in the state, physicians in Eugene, press representatives and a few others.
