Married, in the parlor of the Allen House, in Tillamook City, on Monday, the 6th inst., by Rev. W. N. Blodgett, pastor of the U.B. church, Mr. J. Benjamin Wilkeison, of Portland, to Miss Pearl Adkins. The latter has been teaching school at Three Rivers, coming from Lane county to Tillamook.

On Friday afternoon, while Thos. H. Goyno, Nels Thompson and Carl Svenson were working on a new barn on the former's place on Bewley Creek, it suddenly collapsed and pitched them to the ground, injuring Goyno and Svenson, so much so that Dr. Smith had to be sent for to attend to their injuries.

The steamer Geo. R. Vosberg left with the following passengers on Monday for Astoria: Misses Jessie and Ethel Davis, Mrs. Jos. Butts, Frank Fowler, W. B. Holman, W. Brown, J. J. Crawford, F. R. Morand, S. W. Closser, Miss Freda Wheeler, Mrs. Clara Trotter, Mrs. Fred Wheeler, W. Sides, L. H. Brown.

Married, on Monday, the 6th inst., at the parsonage of the United Brethren church, in Tillamook City, by the Rev. W. N. Blodgett, Mr. Clifford S. Nelson to Miss Dorris Donaldson. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Amanda L. Donaldson and is well known throughout the county with a number of friends, while the groom is a representative of a portrait company.

Rain, as usual, somewhat marred the pleasure on the Fourth, yet for all that a large crowd was in the city. The races on the 3rd, when the weather was beautifully fine, attracted a good crowd. F. R. Beals' Merrygo won the trotting race and B. O. Snuffer's Julia the pacing race. The McMinnville brass band rendered some fine music each day and Mr. C. V. Galloway, of McMinnville, delivered a splendid oration.

Mrs. Juliette Jones, of the Oregon Children's Home Society, is visiting Tillamook and vicinity in the interest of orphaned, neglected or abused children. Oregon is one of the 24 states engaged in this home finding method with the aid of an institution. The association has been instrumental in placing 20,000 children in good Christian homes. They keep a careful supervision of the children in their care until of legal age, making it well nigh impossible for abuse or ill treatment to occur. The expense of this home finding method is only $50 per child, which includes all expenses to society until grown. This fund comes from membership dues and contributions. We bespeak for the work the hearty co-operation of the people of this county.

Married, on Saturday, at the residence of the bride's parents (Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Baker), in Tillamook City, Mrs. Lee M. Travis to Miss Lily Rose Baker, the Rev. J. R. Welch, of the Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. Mr. C. V. Galloway, a former class mate of the groom, acted as best man, and Misses Nellie and Lottie Banfield, of Portland, who are on a visit, acted as bridesmaids, were the only persons present outside the family circle. The bride was daintily attired in a dress of white organdie, trimmed with white satin, and the groom was fashionably attired in the usual conventional dress suit. After the ceremony Mrs. Baker served a nice wedding lunch, during which the McMinnville brass band serenaded the happy couple with several selections of music. Mr. Travis is a graduate of the State university at Eugene and Ann Arbor, Mich., was one of the boys who joined the Second Oregon and went to Manila with that regiment. He is now practicing law at Eugene. Mr. and Mrs. Travis left the same evening on the steamer, going to Astoria and Portland to spend several days with friends previous to going to Eugene. A large number of friends were at the docks to congratulate them and to bid them good bye, and until the steamer pulled out at the lower dock they were showered with rice and old slippers.

There are three districts which have not yet reported to Supt. G. B. Lamb, viz., Nos. 1, 9 and 40. Of the 46 districts which have reported, the census is 1,374 persons of school age, or a gain of only 18. As district No. 9, which includes Tillamook City, will add to the number of persons of school age and give a gain of 15, making the total gain about 33, it is plain to see that the county is not making much progress in that respect for a new country.

Portland has a number of footpads holding up people on the street and the trolley cars, and Tillamook has a night prowler, on the Wilson river, north of this city, who visits the milk houses of dairymen and swipes the cream from the milk cans. He visited Bert Alderman's at mid night on Wednesday and is again milking the milk cans in that district and the factory man is getting blamed for not giving a fair test. It is time that this night prowler and sneak thief was in the penitentiary.

The editor has been repeatedly taken for Claude Thayer by some and J. Pierpont Morgan by others this week, and all because he is wearing a new suit of clothes which he bought from Todd for $7.50.—Independent.

Gracious, what levity with the name of Claude Thayer; and, worse still, for the silly little man to personate himself as looking like that gentleman. It's too ridiculous for anything, and no wonder that people snicker. That kind of journalism is enough to make a monkey snicker; but, hush, it's Mr. Thayer's Independent newspaper plant that is causing the snicker.

If you can't get a living any other way and you think the taxpayers owe you a living, it's altogether too soon to get a political bee buzzing in your bonnet and to figure out that you're going to be the next county clerk or sheriff, for the people, more so in the future than in the past, will decide who they want for the county officials—not this or that faction. Anyway, men who continually want a public office and use all manner of plans to force themselves on the public do not as a rule make good officials, as they are generally failures in their own line of business but think they can run one the magnitude of a county. Do not worry, the taxpayers will nominate and elect the next county officials, and it won't be the few who are now trying to figure out how lightning is going to strike them.

County Court.

Anna Simmons, plaintiff, vs. W. H. H. Cary and E. O. Quick, defendants. Upon motion of plaintiff case was dismissed. The First National Bank of Astoria, plaintiff, vs. A. Zuercher and John Zuercher, defendants. On motion of plaintiff case was dismissed.

Tillamook Logging and Company, plaintiff, vs. W. B. Alderman and A. Anderson. On motion of plaintiff the case was dismissed.

Benoit Brovost, plaintiff, vs. Tillamook Lumbering Co., defendants. Judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $84.44 and the cost of the action.

To Correspondents

CURTIS E. WILMER (McMinnville)—Your letter shall appear next week. It came too late for this issue.

Editorial Snap Shots.

It's poor business policy to advertise in a newspaper and lose customers by doing so.

The next thing in order is to pack up and be off to the beach or to rusticate in the mountains, for the next few months the weather will be delightful.

If the driving association would move the stand to the other side of the tract, facing it south, it would be a great protection from the wind and where people could watch the events in comfort.

The editor has received many congratulations on the marriage of his daughter, but however much he may appreciate the kindly congratulations, there is a feeling of a link missing in the family circle and happy home.

The fourth ward is, without a councilman, so if the voters in that ward would signify by petition who they would like to confer the honor of city dad upon, it is safe to say the city council would prefer filling the vacancy in that way.

What a nice thing it would be if Tillamook City had a nice band similar to that from McMinnville which played for the celebration. Bands, like other organizations, require a good leader, and if the local band boys could secure one, they would render just as good music as any band brought in from the outside.

So the initiative and referendum law, which was voted upon at the last election and carried with a large majority, is declared unconstitutional by four judges in the circuit court in Multnomah county. That is another nail in the populist corpse, for it was with that party that the idea found so many exponents.

Every once in a while business men are pestered with new advertising propositions, but the best advertising medium after all is the home newspaper. That makes the HEADLIGHT, the oldest and most reliable newspaper, the best advertising medium in the county, for it enters the homes of the people, is read and re-read and passed round to neighbors to be read. That's why wide-awake business men prefer the HEADLIGHT when they want to reach the people.

constitutional? We will allow the legal lights of the city to decide the point, but it will have to be decided in the courts, anyway, if the judges in Multnomah county are sustained by the supreme court. The amendment to the city charter was framed and submitted to the city council and then sent to Representative B. L. Eddy at Salem and became a law. If the amendment to the city charter is unconstitutional then it will deprive the citizens of voting upon the question: Do they want a $60,000 bonded indebtedness or not.

We understand that the county court has about decided to have the county books experted at some future date. We believe this is right and proper that this should be done every two years, previous to county officials time expiring. This is something the officials who handle public money honestly should insist that the county court have done, for it would establish the fact that they were honest officials and they would retire with a good record; whereas, on the other hand, it would detect any leakage of public funds and expose the guilty parties. To have the county books experted so often is only a public safe-guard, but to allow them to go for years without being experted is not satisfactory to the public nor the county officials. And the proper time to do it is before officials retire from office, for, as in private business, a few trivial irregularities will creep in, so it may be with county affairs. No official who is honest need fear having his books experted, not so, however with the official who is dishonest.

Why is it that the saw mills in this county are shut down, and at a time when there is a demand for lumber at good prices? There is a cause for this industrial stagnation and loss of employment. And why not probe to the bottom and ascertain the real cause? Is it for the want of enterprise? Is it for the want of a reliable tow service? Is it because Tillamook has been subjected to monopoly transportation companies.

Is it because false reports have been circulated about Tillamook bar for the purpose of scaring shipowners from sending their vessels here?

Is it because there are those who do not want to see competition in transportation and the introduction of new saw mills?

Is it because the business men and manufacturers have never come down and worked together for a "community of interests" vessels, owned and operated for the benefit of Tillamook City and county?

Or, are we satisfied with this industrial stagnation, lack of business, bottled-up condition, and lack the energy to surmount the difficulties which confront the county? Or, are they too difficult to surmount until Tillamook bar is improved or we get railroad connections?

We will leave our readers to form their own conclusions, for there is a wide difference of opinion. However, it seems to us, although it may be impossible to remedy all the drawbacks to the county at one sweep, some concerted action should be taken by the business men and manufacturers to relieve the present stagnation in the milling business. It is of vital importance to this city, and an effort in that direction is certainly in order at this time.

School Boundry Board.

The School District Boundry Board, consisting of the county court and Supt. G. B. Lamb, met this week and established a new district, to be known as No. 59, and was taken from districts Nos. 8 and 32. It will embrace all that part of district No. 32 south of the Nestucca river, and also secs. 1, 2, 3, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 from district No. 8.

The petition before the board for a change in the boundary between districts Nos. 14 and 46, was not allowed. The petition called for 40 acres of land belonging to Daniel Perry to be transferred to district No. 46.

In the matter of the dissolution of school districts 28 and 35, not complying with sec. 25, art. 4 of the school law of 1903, having less than the required number of children to form a school district, an order was made for the county superintendent to receive all monies in the hands of the school clerks, to be disposed of as the law directs. These districts will remain without schools until the people in the districts petition to be annexed to some other district or they secure enough children in the district to re-organize.
