If Claude would have a motorcycle attached to his Sir Isaac he would be able to give the go-by to all the blooded stock that hit the race track, and turning on more of the explosive for the home stretch, he'd have to re-christen the machine the "Go Devil."

There is one thing that politicians will never do, and that is to forget and forgive a newspaper for knocking the political stuffing out of them during a campaign, and especially the legion of office seekers. Let's hope that these political grudges may not be stored up against editors in the next world.

Wouldn't it jar Tillamook City some if it was found that Bay City was going to have several saw mills started there, to become, not a busted boom city, but the manufacturing center and a city that aspired to become the county seat. And there is nothing improbable about that either.

Reliance won in the first two races, and after the third today Sir Thos. Lipton will have to return home and build Shamrock IV, if he expects to left the cup. But Sir Thomas is a game sport, and that is the reason he is the most popular visitor to the United States. Sure, if it wasn't for his nationality he would make a fine running mate for President Roosevelt.

To some of our citizens it looks as though F. H. Skinner's exertions in getting the Oregon Pacific Navigation Company incorporated, to run a line of boats between Tillamook City and Portland, has not the financial backing that he has cracked himself up to have. Time will tell whether the new company will buy out the old company, or whether it is a promoter's scheme to put on a line of steamers the same as Wm. Reid efforts to give Tillamook railroad connections—on wind and other people's money.

B. O. Snuffer and H. G. Cox filed on homesteads last week, in the south part of the county, where there appears to be quite a number of good claims left if those who have not exercised their rights and want claims will do a little rubber-necking. It is frequently stated that all the best claims are gone. This may be true to some extent, but those wanting claims will be able to find them for some years to come, and good ones too, if they will take a little trouble to investigate what is available on the Capes.

Very few of the settlers in Tillamook county, and especially the business men of this city, who have taken up homesteads, have been able to comply with the letter of the law as to residence upon the land. They have all done the best they could under the circumstances and no one was mean enough in the community to raise any objection until R. M. Watson started in to raise a fuss for personal spleen. By exercising their homestead rights a large number of our citizens have been able to improve their farms and do other things to improve the county, and by doing the same thing some of our business men have been greatly benefitted and given a new start, to wit, Geo. Edmunds, Howard Cary, E. Hoag, M. F. Lench, Ralph Ackley and dozens of others, also women and even widows with families to support. Everybody felt glad when these parties proved up and they obtained their patents. If R. M. Watson is such an infernal "knocker," why don't he ask some questions which concern himself most. Ask B. C. Hadley, Jurd Morris and A. B. Allison if they are complying with the law when they turn their saloons into gambling joints and adopt the side door entrance on Sundays. Ask the mayor and city authorities, whose duty it is to see that the law is enforced, why they allow a "wide open" town. Ask the sheriff, the constable and the marshals why they don't make arrests and close the gambling houses up. It is these institutions, we feel pained to say, which have been a curse to R. M. Watson, some of the members of his family, and the cause of the separation between himself and wife and children, which should and ought to have been one of the happiest homes in the whole land. But, alas, we are sorry to see that it is not so. As it is plain to everybody that R. M. Watson is trying to raise a fuss for those who have taken up homesteads, they will know where it originated and for what mean purpose if they meet with trouble.

England's Ex-Premier Dead.

LONDON, August 22.—Lord Salisbury died peacefully at 9:05 o'clock tonight. During the past 48 hours the end was seen to be inevitable, the life of England's ex-premier being sustained by the constant use of oxygen. Even the use of oxygen failed to effect as the evening advanced. The distinguished statesman, making a last effort to live, turned towards his favorite daughter, Lady Gwendolin Cecil, who was kneeling beside him, and then quietly breathed his last.

At Eugene, Ore., warrants have been issued by United States Commissioner Walton, on complaint of Frank McMurray, for the arrest of Frank McKins, Wiley Driver and Walker Jenny. The charge is obstructing the United States mail. The three hoodlums held up McMurray, who is a rural delivery carrier, while on duty, with the intent of doing him personal violence. By the use of a pistol and a little nerve McMurray left his assailants in the road, and when he arrived in town he entered complaint against them.

The fate of a large portion of the Oregon hop crop depends on the weather of the next few days. Vermin have infested many yards and now mold has appeared and is spreading alarmingly in some sections. With a continuance of the damp, rainy weather the damage will be great. A return of sunshine and a brief hot spell will do much to lessen the injury. In order not to lose their crop, many growers will pick their hops before they are matured. Even without a change for the better, the loss to Oregon hopgrowers will reach many thousand dollars.
