Don't wait until Flour goes higher before you buy.—Gangloff & Snuffer.

Geo. T. Potest, while coming to the city from the south of the county, his horse slipped and fell on his leg, which has crippled him up some.
Mr. G. W. Kiger has charge of Mr. F. R. Beals' real estate office during his absence, who has a complete list of the best dairy farms in the county for sale.
We understand there is trouble brewing at Garibaldi, for it is reported that P. Byrom is doing some shooting down there and threatening N. McMillian.
Engineer W. B. Chase's bill for furnishing the city with an estimate of cost for a new water system amounted to $160, which the city council ordered paid on Tuesday.
C. & E. Thayer have provided a separate department of their business for a savings bank, and depositors in the savings bank branch will be paid interest on their deposits.
Engineer W. B. Chase, who had been employed by the city council to furnish an estimate for a new water system, having completed the work on Monday, left for Portland on Tuesday.
Can repentance be preached by a gentleman, or must one appear as did John from the wilderness with his strange garb and food, or as humiliated as the Nazirite?—J. C. Gove.
Eli O. Mills, who was charged with a criminal offense upon his daughter, has waived examination before the justice of the peace and was bound over to the circuit court, being admitted to bail.
P. W. Todd resigned as school director and A. W. Severance has been chosen by the board to fill the vacancy. He will make a good director and will look after the interest of this progressive school.
F. H. Skinner came in from Portland on Wednesday. He is general manager of the Oregon Pacific Navigation Company, and has come in to arrange a meeting of those who agreed to take stock in the new company.
Owing to a controversy between two of the local preachers and Elder Arthur Allen, of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, the latter has been having good congregations at the Ad-vents' church this week.
The remains of D. C. Quick, who died in Portland, were brought in on the Sam Elmore on Thursday and taken to the home of the deceased parents, and the funeral took place the next day, a large number of sympathizing friends attending.
Rev. S. S. White, who was pastor of the Presbyterian church in this city, and who had to leave on account of poor health, is much improved in health since he has been in the East. Mr. White was called to a church in Jersey, Ohio, where he was installed last Thursday.
The passengers who came in on the Sue H. Elmore on Wednesday were: Rev. P. A. Olivotti, J. S. Scholus, A. A. Hill, Dock White, Mrs. W. Smith and son, Roy Trout, Nora Vaughn, Mr. Williger, E. Weston, E. West, D. Donald, Mrs. Blum, F. Peterson, A. Berdely, Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Geo. Edmunds, Homer Mason, Mr. Gambol, Sam Elmore, F. H. Skinner.
The steamer Sue H. Elmore came in on Thursday, and her passengers were: W. W. Ridalgh, Andy Nolan, G. W. Day, D. W. Rhoades, Miss Pettis, the Quick Bros., T. Brown and Robins. She left this city on Saturday, her passengers being Mrs. Bowen, N. Olds, Frank and Miss Emma Peterson, N. Ford, Rev. E. T. Allen, C. Merrill, C. A. Redmond, Miss L. Hunt, Mrs. Giardina, Mrs. B. O. Snuffer and Mrs. F. C. Baker.
We are sorry to hear that Rev. Father P. A. Olivotti has been withdrawn from Tillamook, and will be given work in Portland. He returned on Wednesday and leaves again this evening for his new field.
We regret to see Father Olivotti leave, for the short time he has been here he was greatly liked by all those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. Father LeMiller, of Cedar Mills, will fill the vacancy in Tillamook.
Rev. E. T. Allen lectured in the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, his subject being "Persia." Owing to receiving a telephone message that his wife was sick, who had given birth to a daughter, Mr. Allen returned to Portland on Saturday, consequently was unable to lecture that evening and preach on Sunday. By Rev. C. D. Merrill deciding to go to Seattle, instead of Tillamook on his arrival at Portland, that leaves the church without a prospective pastor.
Walter Ridehalgh, who was arrested on a charge of packing salmon at Garibaldi without a license, had a trial in Justice Alley's court and a jury on Saturday. The defence showed that Ridehalgh had made application, previous to the arrest, for a canner's license, which had since been issued, but it was contended by the prosecution that he should also have taken out a packer's license as well. Ridehalgh also testified that he was not packing salmon for himself, but was acting in the capacity as superintendent for the Elmore Packing Co., and that the salmon sent from Garibaldi was only salted enough to preserve it until it arrived at Astoria. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty, but had the charge been brought against the company, it is more than likely the verdict would have been different. Master Fish Warden Van Dusen stated to a News reporter at Astoria that the case will be appealed in order to test the constitutionality of the law under which Mr. Ridehalgh was prosecuted. If the report of the findings and verdict of the jury in the case is true, it would seem if all license laws were unconstitutional, provided, of course, the supreme court affirms the lower court. If the law regulating the operation of canneries and cold storage plants is defective, Mr. Van Dusen says that he will refund the license money paid by the other operators.
Large Stock of Flour just arrived at Gangloff & Snuffer's.
All Kinds of Guns at Reduced Prices at Ralph Ackley's.

Pride Waldo Hills Four at Gangloff & Snuffer's.

Hand Loaded Shells Guaranteed to be the Best that money can buy, at Ralph Ackley.
A new system of picking cranberries has been tried at Sandlake by M. Summers and Harris Bros., which turned out most successful. The berries are raked off the vines in a row, and after this is all done the marsh is flooded to a depth of six inches to a foot with water. A flood gate is put in at the lowest end of the marsh and the water allowed to drain off. By this means the berries, which float on the water are caught in screens, as the water runs off. It is said that the berries can be picked and brought to town for 25c. a bushel, while the process of picking by hand cost about $1.00, and there are not nearly so many berries destroyed.
Editorial Snap Shots.
Now that the city is boarding a number of prisoners, a rock pile would be a good industry for them to start upon.
Time don't count for anything in trying a little case in Tillamook City, when it takes nearly the whole day to dispose of it.
Is it a fact that Ralph Ackley is to be married on Sunday? We thought he had been casting goosy eyes in the neighborhood of Netarts, where Cupid was actively at work.
The moral, or we should say the immoral, side of life in Tillamook county is being gradually peeped into. And it is a good thing, if all is true of the immoral conduct of some people.
There is one thing that never troubles the people of Tillamook county at this season of the year, and that is the zero weather and blizzards that the Middle West and East are preparing for, and which are unknown here.
In our correspondence this week we find a letter which concludes: "I have been interested in what the HEADLIGHT has said regarding the prospective rail road, and you will keep the work going till Dundee's crowd put up or quit."
It is true to a certain extent that most every business in Tillamook City is overdone, or, in other words, the city is long on business places and short on industries that create wealth. Until such time as the city can procure industries to give a weekly payroll it will be a survival of the fittest.
There is one thing that should be settled before a vote is taken to bond the city for $60,000, and that is: Is the management of the proposed new water system to be placed in the hands of a commission or in the hands of the city council to be dragged into city politics every annual election?
It's a little premature to chew the rag over politics, even though some of the slick and slippery politicians may have it all figured out how they expect the dear people to cast their votes at the next election. But then Tillamook voters are not dead any more for those who think their party owes them a living and are continually wanting office.
Abe Cohn is manager of the Pippins, and the HEADLIGHT man is anxious to see him chasing the pigskin and calling "Down" with all the players piled on top. We move that his position be half or quarter back, for, surely, he is going to give us an exhibition of his prowess on the football field. Anyway, Rah! rah! rah! For the Pippins and Manager Cohn.
If there is one distressing scene in life and an object of pity, it is a person who has become insane and a raving madman. The public is apt at times to make light of such cases, but to relatives and friends it is a sad and sorrowful spectacle, even more so than death. But to josh, make fun and indulge in the common vernacular that a person is "Rattv," "Buggy," etc., is making light of a sad case where our human sympathies should be exercised to a greater extent.
Some people have a vague idea that the HEADLIGHT will oppose bonding the city for $60,000 for a new water system. It will do nothing of the kind. It may do so, however, if the building and management of the system is to be left in the hands of the city council to be made a political shuttlecock every year, but more on that point later. What the HEADLIGHT will strive to do will be to bring out all phases for and against bonding the city, and after doing that leave the taxpayers to vote as they wish.
Most every city on the Pacific Coast appear to run up against the gambling problem at one time or another, but as long as the officials fail to perform their duty and dodge the law by allowing the gamblers to operate by paying "blood money" for protection, it is not expected much will be done to stamp out the evil. We are beginning to think that if men are fools enough to think they can buck professional gamblers in percentage games and slot machines—it is the same old adage—fools and their money soon part.
That the human race is degenerating on account of alcoholism there is plenty of proof of that right in Tillamook City, and it does not take the eye nor the knowledge of a scientist to discern it either. It is a fact that alcoholism is being impregnated into the human race and is inherited in the same way as consumption is. The inebriates we see on the streets are suffering with the malady what is known as alcoholism. They are born with the disease or acquire it. But the most pitiful scene in any city is that of young men, bright intellectually and fine physique, becoming victims of alcoholism and the degradation that follows. There is no hope for the old sots that have been put in "sots" in the Tillamook
