Work to Continue.
Major W. C. Langfitt in answer to a letter sent him by the Port of Tillamook Commission, sent this reply to Mr. Claude Thayer, the secretary of the Commission:
"Your letter of the 20th instant, transmitting resolutions of the Port of Tillamook Commission relative to the dredging work at Tillamook, has been received. In reply thereto, I would state that the Commission has probably been misinformed in regard thereto, as the work is progressing in a satisfactory manner. I intend to continue the dredging operations at Tillamook Bay until the depth in the channel between Hobsonville and the town of Tillamook, contemplated by the present project, is secured, reserving a balance of funds remaining after the completion of the work for repairs and contingencies."
Major Langfitt also sent to the Commission a blue print in three sheets of the last survey of the bar and bay, also a copy of the last published annual report of the Chief of Engineers of the United States Army, which was taken up in the office of the Commission.

Can We Afford It?
TO THE EDITOR TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT.
The question of the construction of a new sewer system, to be owned and operated by the city, has been before the people for about three years, and now the question will come before the people, or rather before the taxpayers, and it will be for them to say whether or not they will vote a bonded indebtedness upon themselves to construct a sewer system costing $60,000.00. This is a serious question and one that should be carefully studied before casting our vote, either for or against, for we must remember that this is a small town, and the weight and burden of taxation would fall upon about 150 taxpayers, and we must bear in mind that we shall have to pay for this new system, and must tax ourselves to do it. It will not be self-sustaining. We will have opposition in the present (unless we buy them out) so the new system can not expect to get all the patronage. The expense will not stop at $60,000.00. The bridge that will have to be built across Trask river will have to be renewed about every eight or nine years at a cost of about $200,000.00. Just as soon as the system is completed, the next question will be a sewerage system, and it cannot be denied that we need one, and when that is completed, it will mean about $30,000 more. Some say why not use Hughey creek, as Mr. Chase in his report says it is sufficient for 4000 population, and that the cost will be only about $35,000. The present company has the water right, so it cannot be done.
In view of the fact that we are only a town of 1200 inhabitants with an assessed valuation of only about $174,320 within the city, and in further view of the fact that we already have a bonded indebtedness of $10,000.00, $2000.00 of which is on the old school house, that is only kept from rotting down by constant repairs, while not one cent of the principal of the bond has ever been paid. Can we afford to incur a further indebtedness of $60,000.00 or even $35,000.00 with no visible means of ever paying it? It is a well known fact that the income of the entire system, even if the old water company were out of the way would not pay the interest on $60,000.00 at 5 per cent. It is said, we need better fire protection, and grant it that we do, but is there not some way that we can supplement the present supply of water and still keep within the bounds of our financial resources? I would suggest that as other towns that have much better water systems than we, yet do not depend entirely on the force of gravity for fire protection, but have in addition a fire engine or perhaps two or three, why not have one in Tillamook? Hoquarton slough does not go dry and water can be pumped from there to reach any of the business blocks of the city, or cisterns could be excavated at the intersection of some of the streets which would render reasonable security against fire even if the present water system should happen to be out of repair.
Now let us take a view of the state of our finance in case the people vote in favor of bonding the city to put in a new water system. $10,000.00 indebtedness we already have, $60,000.00 for new water system, making $70,000.00. There is another item of expense that is surely coming, and will have to be met soon, and that is a sewerage system, which will mean about $30,000 or more. Our tax already amounts to about 4 1/2 per cent, when we have had only $2000.00 bonded indebtedness, so I ask, how would the taxpayers of this city like to have an additional bonded indebtedness placed upon them and their future generations of $100,000.00?

I ask again, can we afford it?
TAXPAYER.

AGAIN IN FLAMES.
Aberdeen's Surviving Buildings Burn.
ABERDEEN, Wash., Oct. 28 3 A. M.—A fire, which promises to equal in magnitude the recent holocaust which destroyed the major portion of the business buildings, is now raging, and the fire department is wholly unable to cope with it.
An early hour this morning fire was discovered in the center of the Commercial block. With indescribable rapidity it has spread to the Glasgow block, the postoffice, the Becker block and the Y. M. C. A. building, all of which are now a mass of flames.
The fire department is utterly powerless to stay the progress of the flames, which the wind is fast driving toward the unburned portion of the town.
The Commercial block contained 10 stores, beyond several which opened temporary quarters there after the recent fire. The Glasgow block contained eight stores.
BLOW OPEN BANK.
Gang of Robbers Make Raid at Sheridan—They Carry Away $5000.
SHERIDAN, Or., Oct. 26.—With intricate and borrowed tools, three safe-crackers forced the vault of the private bank of Scroggin & Wortman, here early Monday morning, took $5000 in gold and silver and escaped without leaving a clue, notwithstanding that J. Z. Eakin, the mayor of Sheridan, took three rifle-shots at them from close range.
So similar were their methods to those of the bank gang who attempted to rob the Newberg Bank on October 1, that no doubt exists in the minds of Sheriff Sitton, of Yamhill County, and his deputies that the robber bands are identical.
The robbers entered the bank by prying open the front door. A brick vault with walls three feet thick were cut through with tools borrowed from the railroad toolhouse at Ballistor, four miles away. The small safe inside the large vault was then drilled, nitroglycerine was poured in and an explosion occurred, which wrecked the safe, the vault and the interior of the bank, and the plate glass windows in front. Pieces of the safe were thrown through the steel door of the vault and into the street.
Mayor First on Scene.
The sound of the explosion alarmed Mayor Eakin and other citizens. With bullets singing over their heads, the robbers climbed into a buggy with the valuable contents of the bank as freight, and drove to the southward. Within half an hour all Sheridan knew that the only bank in town had been robbed. At first there was talk of a citizens' committee taking charge of the remains, but the cool-headed element decided that S. L. Scroggin, manager of the bank, should not be interfered with.
The bank was only slightly crippled financially, as most of the funds are kept in Portland vaults. Had the robbery occurred a few weeks later, however, several thousand dollars more would have been the prize. The vault and safe have always been considered absolutely burglar proof by the management. Now the interior of the building, a small one-story brick structure, is a ruin. A $10 gold piece bent double by the explosion was picked up by George H. Howe, who, with Mayor Eakin, was asked by S. L. Scroggin to enter the bank with him.
The identity of the safe robbers is as much a mystery as their present location and it was the belief of Sheriff Sitton that the gang who terrorized Newberg returned immediately to Portland. If this holds true in the Sheridan robbery, the move to the southward was merely a blind.
Stole Their Tools.
Monday morning the gang procured their tools in the same way as at Newberg. Again was the nearest section toolhouse broken into and a clawbar, two picks and a sledge taken but left behind at the bank. These were used to drill through the vault wall.
Sheriff Sitton and Deputy Sheriff Henry reached here from McMinnville at daylight. All tracks of the burglars' buggy had long before been obliterated by the excited and curious townspeople. After riding several miles to the southward, the Sheriff returned and passed the day in communication with the Sheriffs of adjacent counties. Sheriff Ford, of Polk County, is laid up by an injury and cannot join in the search.
Mayor Eakin, a hardware merchant, whose store and residence is almost opposite the bank, was the only man actually to see the forms of the retreating bandits. He was awakened by the sound of the explosion and at once thought of the bank. Said Mr. Eakin:
Fired at the Robbers.
"I went through the store and got a heavy Winchester rifle and began to load it. Then through the window I saw a man moving along the sidewalk toward the bank. I think that he was the lookout and heard me in the store and was about to warn his companions. I opened the front door and fired directly across the street at him. It was dark and foggy, however, and he did not seem hurt. When I saw two others come from the bank building I fired two more shots. From the way they were bunched I am sure they went off in a vehicle. They went southward and were lost in the fog in a minute. To attract attention I yelled fire, but it seemed several minutes before anyone answered."
Some of them living on the same street believe there were two explosions, but as they were timed very differently it seems almost certain that one explosion wrecked the safe, the vault and the interior of the bank. The time generally given at 3 o'clock. Eakin saw the three bandits leave the looted bank less than five minutes after. So much more explosive was used than necessary that it looks as if the safe crackers were not expert in the use of high explosives, but they certainly made Major Delmar time in the get-away.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure not known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Farm for Sale on the Trask.
For sale, a Farm of 160 Acres, about two miles west of Trask House, on the Trask road. Contains house, barn and orchard. Partly cleared with enough meadow land to support 15 cows, the rest easily cleared, having, it is estimated, 30 tons of chittim bark on the place. Is a good place for a fruit farm. Near good school.
Call upon or address Fred C. Skomp, Trask, Oregon.

Hellow! STOP AND READ.
The following bargains will fully explain why C. Mills is having such an unexcelled amount of success in disposing of REAL ESTATE on short meter time. The following are a few of the bargains now for sale. Be quick or you will miss them:
160 acres, all good land, all of which grades much better than prairie, but not so good as first-class or sediment bottom. 25 acres of the 160 is sediment bottom. Will keep about 12 cows at present. Has the greatest amount of chittim or bear berry on it that C. Mills knows of, and he has been through the chittim district pretty thoroughly. The buildings are poor shacks, except the barn, which is good. About 120 acres level enough to mow with machine. Unimproved part is mostly large fine maple and chittim. Quite a goodly number of the chittim trees will peel 100 lbs. to the tree. About 1 1/2 miles to cheese factory, telephone, U.S. mail box and good school house. Anyone having idle money, whether they want a ranch or not, will surely find the above a snap bargain. Easy to clear. Price, $1050.00.
Also, I have 160 acres, right on the leading road or the main road in this county. 100 acres of it is the very best of sediment bottom. A great bargain. Price, $8000.00.
130 acres, ready for occupancy, comfortable house, barn, all out door buildings, two acres of young orchard and splendid variety of fruits and all kinds of berries. Quite a good lot of chittim. Can drive to the door in a buggy. Price $650.00 if sold soon.
A six roomed house, well furnished with well of water on lot. For rent cheap in Tillamook.
Other bargains too numerous to mention.
