WAR! WAR!! WAR!!!
12 1/2 Per Cent Cash Discount Sale for Four Weeks. Commencing November 9th, 7 o'clock and Two Minutes Sharp.

Be sure and come and buy while the war lasts. We have decided to sell goods at the Racket Store just as low, in fact, a little lower than the lowest. We have brought all of the goods for cash, hence received a discount of from two to six per cent on the regular wholesale price. Why should we make this sacrifice? Why, bless you, it is with great pleasure to do so.
1st. Because we don't propose to be undersold.
2nd. Because we love to sell so low that everybody will be greatly pleased.
3rd. Because we don't care to get rich.
4th. Because we never did believe in skinning any body, even the dumb brute before it was dead.
5th. Because when I purchased the goods of Daddy Mills & Finley, notwithstanding I knew they were selling as low, in fact, lower, everything considered, for instance, they were then selling a great deal better grade of pins for two cents a paper than you could find in any department store for two cents, besides, bless you, when I counted the number of pins in the paper there were just 200, while at the Racket Store I found 280 to the paper and all they Daddy Mills & Finley ever asked, but never tutted their horn about cheap pins as the other fellow did in the news papers. But, by gravey, now I am also going to tell you what I just say to you, who want cheaper goods than you can buy anywhere else, just come to the Racket Store and if the other fellow should say in the paper next week that he also is going to sell his goods for 12 1/2 per cent lower you pay no attention to him, what's over, but just come a secunne right to and into the Racket Store, and by ginger, as I said if the other fellow does drop 'em down to nuthen you just pay no attention to 'em, for be sure if it comes to the worst we, since we have really got our dander up, am bound to undersell. You bet, I just do zackly what I say, and now sister, I mean business if the other fellow gives away goods then be sure you fool no time away, but just come right along and we will give you 5cts. for every dollar's worth you carry away. And now remember, if the other fellows comes down to that we will still do a little better yet.
A lot of new shoes just received and some new goods coming an ever increasing boat.

COULSONBURG.

Oh! Oregon, Wet! Oregon, As through the rain and mud we run. We look above, behind, around, And see the rain soak in the ground, And wish it would 'ent rain any more. P. R. Coulson and family, of Blaine, are visiting at Mrs. Dell Bailey's.
The streams in this vicinity are very much swollen, owing to the recent rains. They are also sporting a fine run of salmon. This is the first run of the season here.
Miss Abbie Coulson, who is here for a short stay, from Salem, and Miss Blaine Bailey, of Ohio, spent last week with friends and relatives at Blaine. They report the residents of that city very entertaining, the climate very invigorating, and the scenery without an equal. Miss Abbie expects to return to Salem in a few weeks.
Mr. Gardner and Ralph Bundy were callers at the burg one day recently. We understand Mr. Bundy is contemplating a visit to his parents in Ohio soon.
A conversation, over heard on the opposite side of the river, from Boulder Creek:
"Whew! What a smell."
"Yes, what in the world is it, and whence does it come?"
"I can't imagine, for I see no signs of decaying matter."
"Ah! I have it now, its, yes, it must be the Boulder Creek Bubble's feet."
"Do you reckon? Well, now it did smell something like 'toe jam.' But drive on."
Miss Linnie Coulson, of Beaver, spent Saturday evening and Sunday with her parents here.
We are glad to hear that the Beaversites are contemplating some sort of amusement for their long winter evenings. Hustle up, neighbors.

Mr. H. L. Jensen and family spent last Sunday at C. A. Smith's.

NETARTS.

C. Austin was down from the upper end of the bay Saturday.
Marion Phelps was putting up the telephone line between Netarts and Tillamook on Saturday, the wind having felled some timber across the line.
Several of our people went to Tillamook Saturday.
The late storms, wind and rain, did considerable damage to our road in the way of falling timber and washouts.
M. Cane went to the lighthouse Sunday.

Two dead and two wounded is the result of a shooting affray at the entrance of the Wallace Opera-House on Monday night. The shooting took place just as the theater-goers were leaving the James Neill company. The trouble arose over Cuff insisting upon smoking a cigar in the gallery. House Policeman Rose ordered him to desist, but he refused. The policeman took the cigar away from Cuff after a struggle. Cuff left the theater following vengeance. He returned shortly with a revolver and waited until the performance was over. Rose was the first man out of the opera-house. As he stepped outside Cuff began firing. The first shots missed and Rose returned the fire. Dr. Fims, who was escorting a lady followed Rose out, and as he did so, a bullet, presumably from Cuff's revolver, struck him in the head, killing him instantly. Other policemen appeared at this moment and a general fusillade followed. The panic-stricken theater-goers stampeded back into the foyer, men and women being trampled in the mad rush to get away. Cuff continued firing, wounding Chief of Police McGovern and Special Officer Rose. Cuff then started to escape, running around the corner of the theater. He was intercepted at a side exit by Policeman Quinn, who kept up a running fire, three bullets taking effect. Cuff fell unconscious and died in 15 minutes. A number of people were injured in the stampede. Cuff was a miner and served in the Philippines with the Idaho regiment. Dr. Fims was a well-known surgeon of Wallace and Lucas a family.

Manure heaps are responsible for many diseases that appear on farms. Even the well water may become contaminated, though the heap may be some distance from it. Typhoid fever and diptheria have appeared in families living a mile or more from neighbors, and where it was apparently impossible for the families to be attacked. A French scientist who investigated diseases on farms in France, found that there was some relation between manure heaps and epidemics of diptheria. Statistics in Scotland and Prussia show that the rate of mortality from diptheria is higher in rural districts. It is suggested that all manure should be kept in closed locations with cement sides and bottoms. If manure is treated with a solution of sulphuric acid before being added to the heap, the bulk of the manure will be reduced and the plant food rendered more soluble, while disease will be prevented, to a certain extent. One point to observe is to have the well of water as far from the sources of contamination as possible, the grading being such that no surface water can flow in the direction of the well.

General News.

"There is not a bit of truth in it, so far as I am concerned," was the comment made by John Mitchell, president of the United Mineworkers, with reference to a dispatch published which stated that Mr. Mitchell would become a member of the Cabinet of President Roosevelt to succeed George B. Cortel. Mr. Mitchell has just resumed his position as secretary to the President.

New York city's sweeping victory for Tammany shows that New York may have to be classed among the doubtful states in 1904. Coler, of course, carried the city by a much bigger majority than McClellan has just rolled up, but the Republican plurality in the state was a little less than 9000. That is a perilously narrow margin on a 1,400,000 vote. Moreover, in 1904 some of the Democrats who voted for Low will undoubtedly cast their ballots for the regular candidate of the party.

Judge Livingston W. Cleveland, of the Probate Court, at New Haven, Conn., handed down a decision in the Philo S. Bennet will case holding that the secret letter directing Mrs. Bennet, the widow, to pay William J. Bryan $50,000 was not part of the will. The effect of this is to prevent Mr. Bryan from obtaining the money mentioned in the letter unless the present decision is reversed by a higher court, or unless he should be successful in legal proceedings against Mrs. Bennet, in the event that the $50,000 should be paid under clause 12 of the will.

"With a capacity of only 6,000,000 eggs the Coos Bay Hatchery will this year handle 10,000,000 salmon eggs," said Deputy Fish Warden H. A. Webster, who returned from a visit to the state's salmon fishery interests in the Southern and Coast districts of the state. This increase in the output of the station at Coos, says Mr. Webster, is due to a change in the manner of operating the plant. Racks were installed this year that withstood the freshets and permitted a continuous catch of salmon, while last year the catch aggregated only 3,500,000 eggs. The surplus in this year's catch is being deposited in the bed of Coos River after the eggs have impregnated. Mr. Webster also visited the state's salmon interests at Yaquina, Alsea and Siuslaw and reports an unusually good run of Silverside salmon this fall. He also found the hatcheries making a good showing, the catches equaling, if not exceeding, the capacity of the different plants.

More than 10,000 coal miners in Colorado went on strike Monday for an eight-hour day, increase in wages and other concessions. The strike was ordered by the National executive officers of the United Mineworkers of America, after the coal companies refused to confer with the union representatives concerning the demands of the men. Of the idle men 6000 are in the southern coal fields, 2000 in the northern coal fields and 1800 in Fremont County. One hundred mines have been closed down. A few independent properties in the northern coal fields and elsewhere will not stop work, since the operators have agreed to concede the eight-hour day and also increased wages. Less than 1000 miners will remain at work according to reports from the affected districts. The announcement comes that 600 have gone out in Colfax County, N. M. The others in that territory are now negotiating with the mineowners. The Colorado Fuel & Iron, Victor Fuel and Northern Coal & Coke Companies are the largest producers. Practically all of their properties have been tied up by the action of miners. However, they are making efforts to continue operations under the protection of a strong guard. It is estimated that there are about 140 coal mines in the state with an output of some 8,000,000 tons a year and about 1,000,000 tons of coke.
