Sheriff Alderman's Shortage

It is expected that the auditors will be through with the county books on Saturday, and on Monday at the adjourned meeting of the county court their report will be opened and the actual shortage in Alderman's accounts made known. Up to the present it is $6,173 87. It is not anticipated there will be any more shortage, with the exception of a few clerical errors, which may mean only small sums of money. What shortage there is Mrs. Alderman has decided to pay, so the boudsmen will not be at a loss.

Bay City Store Robbed.

Peter Nelson's store at Bay City was broken into on Saturday night and the sum of $245 15 was stolen. Entrance was made by tearing out a window in the back of the store. Suspicion fell upon Alvin Jurhs, who is a Grand Round half breed, and Frank Long, jr., of Bay City. Word was brought to this city Sunday morning that the young men were headed this way with the intention of leaving the county, one walking and the other on horse back. They no sooner made their appearance when they were greatly surprised to find themselves placed under arrest and taken to Deputy District Attorney Botts' office and searched. The money was found in a sack rolled up in a blanket and they were locked up. They had a hearing in Justice Alley's court on Monday, when they were bound over to the circuit court, Long's father furnishing the bond for him and he was released. The young men admitted that they broke into the store and took the money.

Men who will gloat over the sad end of Sheriff Alderman and then endeavor to make political capital out of it before the body of the unfortunate sheriff was cold is enough to raise the indignation of every citizen. This is what the 'Dependent did on Sunday, and it is no wonder that it caused another shock of pain, for that is what it did, to pass through the community and is a damnable reflection upon those who are at the back of that yellow journal.

Politics may be a good thing in their way, but they are the unmakingo f quite a number of men, still for all that there are always a large number of aspirants for office every election. Politics are not what they are cracked up to be, and a word of advice is not out of place at this time: If you can make a good living at any other employment, don't think you can get rich by holding public office and place yourself in a position where you are a kicking post for those who never have a word of commendation for a public servant.

A Call to Work.

Git to work there, idle man,
Don't lie 'round a-loungin',
Work as lively as ye can,
Workin's better 'n spongin';—
Git to slashin', diggin', sawin',
Merchandizin', preachin', lawin',
Printin', paintin', balin', haulin',
Choppin' timber er rail mauliu;—
Git to work an' never stan'
Er lie 'round, a loafin' man!
—Hearthstone.

Fie! Mr. Baker; what an ungallant way to describe your brother editor: "Victim," forsooth! If you had said "lucky fellow," "fortunate man," or the "happy party," how different the ladies would regard you! It would serve you right if Mrs. Rollie would give you the "cut direct" when next she meets you on the street. [The Editor is not conscious that he used the word "Victim" wrong when a young man falls a victim to Cupid's arrows, and our fair correspondent should not chide us for using that expression. As to being the "lucky fellow," that will follow when the "happy party" has to get up in the dead hours of the night and do something to shut off the matrimonial music by walking the floor in his night shirt singing the nursery ditty: "Did 'em, did 'em, wake 'em up, a pretty little chap," etc. The editor has been there and knows something of the "fortunate man"—behind the baby. We hope our fair correspondent won't give us the "cut direct," for we shall have to concede to her the last word when and at what time the "lucky fellow" is the "fortunate party."—Ed.]

The members of the State Board of Barber Examiners might as well be so many ambassadors to islands in the Dead Sea for all the power the office gives them. Judge George ruled that the board is unconstitutionally on earth. This, the court holds, is because the act of the legislature creating the body allows them to fix the standard to which all applicants for tonsorial honors must attain. By doing this, Judge George believes the Legislature delegated the examiners with legislative authority, which, he avers, is a very unconstitutional thing to do.

The temperance forces of the State have seized upon the initiative amendment as a means to make still more trouble for those unfortunate and numerous people who make a living by distilling, brewing or selling spiritaous liquors. Numerous petitions, each in charge of a committee, are being circulated in Portland and throughout the state asking for the submission of a local option law to the people, to be voted in June next. This proposed law provides that, for instance instead of the City Council of Portland deciding if saloons shall be allowed to operate, the question shall be voted on by the citizens at large. Under this law any community in which the prevailing sentiment is against saloons may enact prohibitory laws and the power to do this is taken out of the hands of official bodies with whom the temperance advocates claim the liquor interests can deal to easily.

Frank T. Wrightman, clerk of the corporation department in the office of Secretary of State Dunbar, prepared and submitted his first annual report of the business of his department. The report covers a period beginning May 21, 1903, when the Eddy corporation tax law went into effect, to December 31, 1903, a period of seven months and ten days. The report shows that the total receipts of the corporation department for that time were $94,570.31. It is also shown that 131 corporations have not yet paid their annual license fees, and that the amount due from them is $7610. Some of these 131 are practically out of business, while others have been awaiting the result of the suits brought in Multnomah County to force payment of the license fees. Since the suits have resulted in favor of the state the delinquents will probably pay what is due from them and the total receipts for the year will be very close to $100,000.

In Interest Indian War Veterans.

Eugene, Ore, 1 20 04.—Editor Tillamook Headlight.

In conversation today with my neighbor, P. P. Newell, I read over the names of the 635 names of Indian War Veterans who have money due them in Washington, and he gave the names of the following who have money due them as follows:

John Crawford	$9.61
A. Z. Noland	66 28
James Thompson	74.09
Pullan Higginbotham	32.93
R. L. Williams	84.00

These parties or their widows I am informed live in or near your city, and I ask as a special favor of the papers of Tillamook kindly call the attention to those concerned, to the above facts.

Mr. Newell informs me that at least one of the above named parties has for years been asking for a pension through one of the most successful pension agents in Portland, but who failed for the reason that she could not prove that her husband had ever received, or was entitled, to any pay from the government, but when she receives the amount due her as above it will establish her right to a pension, I have some blanks suitable which I will mail if asked for. This money is for the heirs whose parents are dead —Yours truly, "Uncle Sam" Handsaker.

Nearly 200 Men Perish.

Pittsburg, Jan. 26, 2:30 a.m.—Rescuers an hour ago reported that miners were alive, but this hope was rudely shattered at 2:25, when the body of Selwyne Taylor, was brought to the surface. He had evidently been dead for several hours, and now hopes for the other imprisoned men have been abandoned. The rescuers are being brought out coated with ice, drenched to the skin and unable to walk. They report that dead are scattered one above another as thick as pine needles. Water is fast pouring into the mine, covering the corpses with a shroud if ice and making the work of rescue almost impossible. After damp is collecting in quantities.

During the month of December there were enrolled 576 pupils in the schools of the county, with an average daily attendence of 508, which is certainly a good record for this month. 260 children were neither absent nor tardy.

The Tillamook City School has an excellent report for the month. Out of 230 enrolled, 151 were on the roll of honor. Much credit is due Mr. Whitney and his teachers for the excellent condition in which the school is working.

The High School Orchestra, of eight instruments, renders good music.

The conditions in the country schools this winter are very encouraging. No small difficulty has been experienced in securing teachers for all the schools. It is hoped, however, that teachers can be secured for the spring terms.

School boards desiring teachers, should correspond early with the Superintendent regardiug teachers.

Eighth grade examination will be held as follows, April 13, 14 and 15; May 18, 19 and 20; June 15, 16 and 17.
