

Hunters! Take Notice.

Mr. Hunter: Which do you prefer, a Cartridge loaded ten years ago at the factory, full of caked powder—they are kickers, but not killers—or our hand loaded cartridges, which are beyond competition, and are loaded with nothing but the Best, Clean Shooting Powder, Chilled Shot in Good Shells?

We have positive proof that our factory loaded to order cartridges were loaded since the order was sent in this fall, and not old stock.

Our Motto: Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

RALPH ACKLEY.

Married, on Saturday evening, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Eugene Jenkins, in Tillamook City, Mr. Howard Cary and Miss Cora Wade. Rev. E. M. Patterson, pastor of the Christian church, performed the ceremony, in the presence of a few personal friends. The groom is so well and favorable known throughout the county that he needs no word of commendation at our hands, while the bride is a pleasant and agreeable young woman, and we believe the union will be a happy one to both. The band serenaded the happy couple Tuesday evening, when congratulations and best wishes were in order.

A divorce suit has been filed in the circuit court by Fred Wheeler against his wife, Adelia E. Wheeler. These parties were married at Chinook, Wash., on the 26th October, 1901, and they lived together as husband and wife until July 6th, 1903. The grounds set forth in the complaint for the divorce are these: That on the 7th July, 1903, defendant, without just cause or provocation on the part of plaintiff, wilfully deserted her husband and left his home against his wishes, and has ever since wilfully continued such desertion and remained away from plaintiff's home and refused and still refuses to return thereto or to live with plaintiff as his wife.

At a meeting of the Tillamook Water Commission on Monday evening, a bid was received from Morris Bros. and Christenson to bond the city for $40,000 at 6 per cent for 30 years. The commission did not think it advisable to negotiate the bonds until a survey was made and an estimate of cost for a first class water system was obtained, so adopted the following resolution: "Resolved that it is the sense of the commission that the bid of Morris Bros. and Christenson, according to their letter dated October, 1904, to purchase bonds to the amount of $40,000 be conditionally accepted, and that bonds to the amount of $35,000, or as much thereof as may prove necessary from time to time. It is expressly provided, however, that said acceptance be coupled with a proviso that the city shall not be required to issue any bonds if it ultimately appears that the entire cost of a first class plant, together with the cost of buying the property of the Tillamook Water Company will exceed $5,000."

The Tillamook Literary Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. F. S. Whitehouse, with the following ladies present: Mrs. Clough, Mrs. Cranshaw, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Thayer, Mrs. Bartel, Mrs. Talmage, Mrs. McNair, Mrs. B. C. Lamb, Mrs. Alderman, Mrs. Groat. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. F. S. Whitehouse; Vice-President, Mrs. Cooper; Secretary, Mrs. Lamb; Treasurer, Mrs. Cranshaw. Committee on program for year: Mrs. Talmage, Mrs. Groat, Mrs. Alderman. A committee was appointed to secure all the leading magazines for the use of the club, in the persons of Mrs. Clough, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Bartel. Other committees will be appointed at the next business meeting to make the club profitable, both in a social and educational sense.

The study of "Shakespeare" is to be taken up at once in addition to current events. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served, and the ladies voted it a delightfully well spent afternoon. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. B. C. Lamb, November 11th. It is hoped that this club may be the beginning of many, as it has a strong tendency to draw the home people together, as nothing else will do; from it we hope to develop the Tillamook Improvement Society and Public Library and Reading Rooms. All of which could easily be maintained in such a prosperous city.

The local option law is constitutional, at least in part and was properly adopted by the people at the election in June, Judge George so declared Wednesday, and denied the application for an order restraining County Clerk Fields, of Multnomah county, from placing the prohibition question on the ballot used at the November election. The decision was rendered in the suit brought by the late Henry Weinhard for that purpose against the County Clerk, L. R. Webster, County Judge. The Court found that act is not an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power, that it does not delegate to the Court the right to say what the law shall be; that it was not necessary that the act be presented to the Governor to allow him to exercise his veto power, or otherwise, as he might

There seems to be some prospects of a steamer being put on the run between Tillamook City and Portland, for parties were in the city last week for that purpose and making contracts with some of the merchants. The steamer that is to be used is the Toledo, which is some six feet longer than the Sue H. Elmore but, we are informed not so wide by three feet. Coha & Co. have a picture of the steamer and she looks to be a nice boat and suitable for the trade.

The total number of votes cast at the June election were 1102.

Death of a Tillamook Pioneer.

In the death of Mr. James William Latimer, Tillamook county has lost another pioneer and a gentleman greatly respected by a large number of friends. He had been sick for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism, which continued to grow worse day by day and his suffering increased. A week previous to his death, when he lost consciousness, his relatives gave up all hope of his recovery, and he passed away early Saturday morning.

The deceased was born in Jefferson City, Coal County, Missouri, on December 20th, 1841. He was married to Miss Perlina A. Jenkins, at Ohio City, Franklin County, Kansas, on April 9, 1863. In May of the next year, he, in company with other emigrants and ox teams, crossed the plains. They arrived at French Prairie, Marion County, Oregon, in October, 1864, and the following year he moved to Tillamook and took up a claim on the Wilson river. This he continued to farm up to the time of his death, but a few days which before he willed it to his wife.

The funeral took place on Sunday, the religious service being in the Christian church, of which the deceased was a member, conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. M. Patterson, who preached an appropriate sermon. The burial was in the L. O. O. F. cemetery. The funeral was largely attended by people from all parts of the county, in token of respect for the deceased and in sympathy for the bereaved family.

Mr. Latimer leaves a devoted wife, and nine children and many relatives to mourn their loss.

Death of Dr. D. J. Wiley.
It is with considerable regret that we have to announce the death and burial of Dr. D. J. Wiley, which occurred last Friday, the sad event causing a shadow of gloom to pass over the entire community, for he was so well known and respected all over the county that people realized that they had lost a friend. He has been failing in health for some time on account of heart trouble, and it was only a little over a week before his death that he was taken down with a severe attack, when it was realized that the doctor was in a precarious condition and his relatives and friends knew that the end was not far distant, and he passed away peacefully. It is hardly possible to think that Dr. Wiley, who did so much to alleviate the sufferings of others and bring them back to health has been taken away. The doctor was a genuine gentleman, a true Christian friend and he will be greatly missed in the city and county, for most everybody had a kind word to say about him.
Dr. D. J. Wiley was born on the 10th of March, 1843, near Fredericton, New Brunswick, Canada. He was prepared for college in Woodstock, and entered Harvard University in 1861, and graduated from the medical department of the University of Vermont in 1862. He practiced his profession in New Brunswick for 27 years and was a member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of that place. He moved to Maine in which state he practiced three years, after which he moved to Oregon, in 1892, where he practiced in different parts of the State for three years, when he located in Tillamook. In New Brunswick Dr. Wiley was married to Miss Elizabeth McCaine, a native daughter of New Brunswick.
The doctor leaves a loving wife, one daughter, Mrs. Thos. McCain, and three sons, Dr. James, Robert and Percy Wiley to mourn their loss. It will be remembered that it was only a few months since that the doctor lost his daughter, Mrs. A. R. Griggs, in this city, which was a sad bereavement to the family.
The funeral took place on Sunday morning, the religious services being held in the Presbyterian Church, conducted by Rev. S. A. Foster, of which the deceased was a deacon. The rev. gentleman spoke in high praise of the deceased and delivered an appropriate discourse. The Masons took charge of the funeral at the grave and the beautiful ritual of that order was solemnly rendered. A large concourse of people attended, for Dr. Wiley was one of the best known and most respected citizens of the county, and in this their second bereavement, the sorrowing family have the sympathy and condolence of the entire community.
