The petition sets out all the objections made before the county court and published in full in the Headlight, and in addition calls into question the action of the county court in not trying the case, with a number of other objection where the court erred. County Clerk G. B. Lamb is instructed, on or before the first day of the next regular term of the circuit court, to file a transcript of all the records and proceedings, with all things touching or pertaining to the same, as fully and entirely as they remain. As the matter will not be reviewed until April, the order of the county court prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in the county will go into effect on Sunday, and will remain so until the court or the people by a vote orders otherwise.
 At Beaver, Ore., on December 25th, at high noon, a pretty wedding was solemnized by Justice Hiner at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sailing, when their daughter, Miss Delia and Mr. Ernest Tyler, of this city, were married. The bride was prettily attired in a dress of cream albatross, while the groom was dressed in the customary dress suit. After the marriage the guests were invited to partake of a sumptuous wedding dinner. Those present were Grandma Dixon, of Dolph; Mrs. Peck and Mr. Jones, of Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Hiner and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. O.

Jackson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Peck and children, of Tillamook, and the immediate family of the bride. All joined in wishing the happy couple a long life of happiness and prosperity. The bride is much respected by a large number of friends about Beaver, while the groom is an industrious business man of this city. They left later in the afternoon for their new home in this city, where a number of friends welcomed and congratulated the happy couple. On Tuesday evening the band boys gave them a musical serenade.
Circuit Court Cases Decided.
 Judge Geo. H. Burnett has rendered decision in four cases he took under advisement at the last term of the Circuit Court, which are as follows:
 Joanna Tomlinson, plaintiff, vs. Samuel C. Tomlinson, defendant. Action for divorce. Divorce granted and that neither party recover any costs or disbursements from the other.
 Isaac H. Moore, plaintiff, vs. John N. Simmons, B. W. Turner, Fred Robitch, Elmer Hall and School District No. 12, defendants. Injunction suit, to restrain the school district from paying expenses in suit over the removal of the fence in front of school-house. The injunction was sustained and it was further ordered that the plaintiff recover from the defendants costs and disbursements amounting to $27.80. Judge Burnett holds that the voters of school districts cannot lawfully authorize directors to issue interest bearing warrants without fixing the amount of such warrants and the time of payment of the same.
 Armada McCormack, plaintiff, vs. T. H. McCormick, defendant. Injunction suit. The order of the court was that the defendant and all persons acting for him are perpetually enjoined and restrained from maintaining a ditch on a gravel bar in Trask river, except on a straight course in continuation of the course and direction of the upper half of said ditch. Neither parties were allowed to recover costs and disbursements.
 Fred Wheeler, plaintiff, vs. Adelia E. Wheeler, defendant. Action for divorce. Divorce granted and neither party allowed to recover costs or disbursements.
Society Entertainment.
 One of the most enjoyable programs of the year was given last Wednesday evening in the Opera House under the auspices of the two High School Societies, the Emersonians and the Cicronians, assisted by the High School Orchestra. The program was divided into two parts.
 The entertainment of part I was furnished by the contestants of the two societies, the Emersonians being represented by Sadie Watt and Herbert Cooper, the Cicronians by Grace Whitehouse and Ralph Moore. The delivery was creditable to each side and the contest was very close. The prize, consisting of Whitcomb Riley's complete works in eleven volumes, furnished by the generosity of E. T. Haltom, was awarded to the Emersonian Society.
 The oratorical part of the evening was varied by a violin solo rendered by Miss Eleanor N. Macdonald which deserves high credit, both as to technique and musical ability, and also a piano solo by Miss Ruth A. Cooper rendered with great delicacy of touch and sympathetic feeling.
 The numbers of part II which deserve special mention are the "Flora" and "Dream Thoughts." Mr. Trombley furnished a very enjoyable baritone solo, which was highly creditable to his well known musical ability, two violin solos were given by Ruby and Chester McGhee, which were fully appreciated and endorsed by the audience.
 The decorations showed unusual taste, solving harmoniously the combination of the colors of the opposing Societies. In spite of the inclemency of the weather a highly appreciative audience was in attendance.

More Land Fraud Indictments.
 The Federal grand jury made its second public appearance Tuesday afternoon, at which time it returned indictments against Salmon B. Ormsby, of Salem; Clark E. Loomis, of Eugene; William H. Davis, of Albany; Henry A. Young, George Sorenson, of Portland; John Doe and Richard Roe. The charge is that the indicted men entered into a conspiracy on December 29, 1901, having as their object the defrauding of the government of the United States out of a portion of its public lands in township 11 south of range 7 east, and that by means of false and forged application, false and forged affidavits and proofs of homestead entry and settlement, some in the names of real and some in the names of fictitious persons, the Government was induced to issue patents to the lands.
 It is charged that in furtherance of the conspiracy William H. Davis swore to an affidavit before S. B. Ormsby in which he said he had resided upon the claim taken by him as by law required, and it is also alleged that the conspiracy was a part of the one entered into by S. A. D. Puter, Horace G. McKinley, D. W. Tarpley and Emma L. Watson.

Storm in the East.
 CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—One of the severest storms of recent years has raged throughout the territory lying between the Rocky Mountains and the Great Lakes since early this morning, and has caused much trouble to street-car companies, railroads and telegraph companies. The latter were the greatest sufferers from the blizzard, which swept through the West and North west during the last 24 hours, and which was preceded by a heavy fog and drizzling rain, which made the wires almost unworkable.
 The intense cold and terrific gale that followed close upon the fog coated the wires with ice, and later in the day threw poles to the ground, crippling the companies badly. Railroad trains were badly delayed all through the West, some of them being 24 hours in arrears. Street-car traffic in all the cities of the West and Northwest was practically at a standstill at some time during the day.

 In its extent the storm was the most widespread of any during the last 15 years. Counting the fog as a component part of the storm, it stretched from the Rocky Mountains to New York, and from Winnipeg to New Orleans.
 At Chicago, while Elmer Hunt, 19 years old, balanced a bottle on his head William Dougherty, who had been boasting of his prowess as a marksman, it is alleged, attempted to emulate William Tell by shooting the bottle. At the second shot Hunt fell to the floor with a bullet between his eyes, and died almost instantly. Dougherty escaped and the police are searching for him.
 The Chefoo correspondent of the Telegraph says it is reported that General Nogb, the commander of the Japanese forces besieging Port Arthur, has been taken to the hospital at Dalny. He was wounded severely in the arm and leg by three rifle bullets, according to the correspondent.
