H. Snook, of Salem, who has the contract to build the new court house, came in on Friday to make arrangements to commence work.
Wanted, to rent, a dairy farm, with 20 cows or more, by an industrious and persevering dairyman, by the 1st Nov. Enquire at the Headlight office.
Contractor Snook, of Salem, has commenced grading the ground for the erection of the new court house, which will occupy the same site as the old.
George Watt left on Monday for his home in Salem. He may in a few weeks return to the county with his family and make his home in Bay City.
Mrs. Biley Stephens whose health has been poorly for the past year, left for California on Wednesday. Mr. S. J. Stephens drove her out by way of Sheridan.
Ed. Donaldson's saw mill was destroyed by fire Tuesday evening, also what lumber and box shooks he had on hand. The mill was insured for $3000.
Haltom sells American Lady Corsets.
The case of the State vs. Jess Earl for selling liquor, was postponed until three o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon on account of nonappearance of witnesses.
The schooner Marion has been chartered by the Tillamook Lumbering Co. and is expected in any day to take on a load of lumber. She will carry 350,000 feet.
William Proyost and Miss Edith Ostrander, two popular young people of Bay City, were married on Sunday at that place. The Headlight extends its congratulations.
The screw schooner Oakland, which arrived at Astoria on Saturday, after vainly trying to make Tillamook Bay, has been chartered to load lumber at Vancouver, Wash.
The piece of machinery which broke and had to be sent to Portland to be welded, belonging to the oil boring machinery, came in on the steamer on Monday, and work will be resumed.
Dr. Percy Wiley performed a successful operation upon W. P. Campbell, who was in a critical condition last week. He left by stage on Tuesday to resume his position in the hospital at Portland.

A large whale drifted in on the beach, on the south side of Cape Lookout a few days ago, it is 66 feet in length, and has evidently been dead some time. It is a feasting place for hundreds of sea gulls.
The schooner Guide was towed in on Monday, after beating about outside for several weeks for the want of a tow boat in Tillamook bay. She will load lumber from the Tillamook Lumbering Co.'s saw mill in this city.
Haltom is paying 27c. for Eggs. *
The academic course in the Holmes Business College is a condensed college education. It is peculiarly valuable to those who wish to acquire a good deal of knowledge in a short time. Write for catalog, 28-36 Y.M.C.A. Building, Portland, Or.
I have a fine saw mill site on my place on the Wilson river, half a mile from where river empties into the bay. Has already 10 acres boomage and about three million feet spruce timber near the boom. Will sell at reasonable figures.—L. G. Freeman, Tillamook, Or.
The Sue H. Elmore left on Thursday with the following passengers: H. Morton, E. Hall, Miss Younger, Ed Morgan and wife, A. J. Stillwell and wife, George Tone, W. Provost and wife, Mrs. H. Edmunds, John Melchior, D. P. McDonald, E. Doughty, John Donaldson and wife, W. Doughty, E. Fahrny, Mrs. Ellison, A. Lohman, J. H. Lesley wife and family, Mr. Weston and wife, F. C. Baker and wife, Mrs. McIntosh and son and Eva Bunn.

The farmer always welcome. We want the banking business of the farmers and want them to make their headquarters at this bank. Our experience has taught us that their business is safe, and we want every prosperous farmer in the vicinity of Tillamook to give us a trial.—Tillamook County Bank.
It took the jury but a few seconds to decide that W. S. Cone was not entitled to $100 which he sued R. W. Watson for and which was tried on Friday. It seems that Cone claimed that amount of money as compensation for selling two timber claims, but Watson's contention was that he had not entered into an agreement as to commission, having sold the claims himself. He had asked Cone as well as others whether they knew of anyone who would buy the claims.

By the terms of an option held by E. H. Heriman, which terminates in November, the Astoria & Columbia River railroad may be linked with the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific Oregon lines. Such a purchase would prevent the rival Hill system acquiring the only existing road to the mouth of the Columbia River, and with this line and the new Drain-Coos Bay branch from Drain, the Harriman system would have the only water level routes from the Willamette Valley to the Coast, in Oregon.
The steamer Sue H. Elmore, having been detained several days in Astoria on account of bad weather, came in on Sunday, her passengers being Mrs. Jacobs, R. Clements, Mrs. Palmer, T. Elliott, Mrs. Snow, H. Beach, G. M. Hoopen-garner, J. Ferr, L. H. Arehour, O. Fitz-une, J. Roy, J. F. Martin, G. P. Platt, J. Allen and U. Terry. Owing to the recent storm, the channel over the bar had changed, and Captain Schrader being unaware of this the steamer hit some of the high places which scared some of the passengers.

At a special meeting of the board of county commissioners on Monday, at which County Judge Conder and Commissioner Bodyfelt were present, it was decided to keep the location for the new court house at its present site. It was reported that one acre on what is better known as the Dav property was offered to the county, with $500, provided it was erected there, but there was no written promise or guarantee before the court to that effect. The court ordered warrants to be drawn to the amount of $3,700 to pay H. Snook, the contractor, and it also staked out the ground where the new court house was to be built.
Married, on Sunday evening, at the home of Mr. Pate Wells, father of the bride, in this city, Mr. Preston Marolf to Miss Carrie Wells. Justice Carl Haber-lach performed the ceremony in the presence of a few guests who were invited to see two more young people belonging to Tillamook county plight their troth. The happy couple have the respect of a large number of friends, who extend to them their congratulation and best wishes for their future happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Preston Marolf will continue to reside in the county, and now that they have gone to house keeping, there is no reason why their new home should not be blessed with the many happy hours and firesides in Tillamook.

Haltom sells "Kirschbaum's" Crav-ettes.
The schooner Oakland, 16 days out from San Francisco, bound for Tillamook City, under charter of the Truckee Lumber Company, entered this port at nightfall Friday, under her own canvas and came to an anchorage off the Lindenberger dock. She has been buffeted about for over a fortnight, beating back and forth off Tillamook Bay, waiting for the tug Roscoe to tow her into that "sanctuary," but the Roscoe was bar-bounded in Yaquina Bay and could not do service expected of her. The Oakland has been off the mouth of the Columbia for nearly a week, and with a genuine grouch against tugs and pilots and all other sorts of relief, concluded to come in by herself. She had a fierce time of it during the past 48 hours, having lost her mainsail and two of her headsails. She will bend some new canvas and take on fresh supplies, here, and make a new dash for her destination in a day or two.—Astorian.
Haltom wants 20 thousand Good Shingles. *

Editorial Snap Shots.

Tillamook City is having a taste of high finance. The city was bonded for $40,000 and the water commission had to borrow something like $1,350 to pay the first six months' interest so that the city's credit should not be questioned. * * *
The editor of the Headlight will represent Tillamook at the republican pow-wow in Portland to-day, when all the big bugs in the party will advocate har-mony and a united republican party founded upon republicanism. As the republicans all over the state are getting together for the purpose of pulling together in future elections, republicans in Tillamook ought to get together and do the same thing. * * *
According to the Astorian, Rollie W. Watson is a bigamist or a polygamist, we don't know which, for it has him married to Ethel Gladys Newell. Now, Rollie, own up, what did you have to do with it, that is "I'd rather be an old man's darling than a young man's slave!" Rollie will have to buy his new bride a buckboard auto to prevent strife between his plural wives or get the Head-light man to prove an alibi for him. But, my, what a reputation previous Tillamook editors, and married men in the same time, have obtained by getting in-fatuated with other women's petticoats. They are so numerous, and with so few exceptions that we must ask Rollie to pray for us. This is how the Astorian has obliged Rollie by giving him another wife to fondle over and caress: * * *
The wedding of Rollie M. Watson, the general editor of the Seaside Signal and Miss Ethel Gladys Newell was solemnized at the Occidental Hotel yesterday morning with Judge Trenchard officiating. * * *
The old line life insurance companies have made a desperate effort to down the fraternal life insurance orders, and it is now in order for the latter to retaliate. True it is that the fraternal orders have had some difficulties in adjusting equitable rates on account of giving life insurance below cost, but it can be said of them that they were not in the "graft" business. Out of the enormous amount of money paid into the old line life insurance companies, it took but a trifle over one half of the money to pay the death losses. No wonder that the big muck-a-mucks could draw princely salaries, donate big wads to the political "pot," loan enormous sums of money to irresponsible persons, and with crediting up a million of dollars as borrowed by the "colored porter." That is where the money has gone by those who have paid exorbitant rates in the old line life insurance companies. The investigation that is going on in New York is a good thing, for it demonstrates the fact that the old line life insurance officials are a pack of "graffers." * * *
To show the large amount of business that is done in the Tillamook City post office, about 38,000 pieces of mail are handled every month. The postal and route inspectors were in last week and were well pleased after giving the office a thorough inspection, congratulating Postmaster Severance upon the correctness and manner in which the office is conducted. With that amount of mail to be handled every month it is not surprising that one piece of mail will get into the wrong box once in a while in the rush to get the mail sorted. We know from experience how soon some people get up in arms against a postmaster if one piece of their mail happened to get misplaced, and they never quite talking about it. The postmaster who never misplaced a piece of mail or made a mistake in some slight particular—well, to be plain, there are none. It is an easy thing to growl about postmasters, but as a rule people who do most of this if they could see how unreasonable they are from a postmaster's point of view there would be but few complaints.

In Cupid's Realm.
Miss Carry Foland and Mr. Edward Dunn were married at the home of Warren Dunn, in this city, at 8 o'clock, on Sunday Oct. 1st, Rev. J. B. Thompson officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by about thirty relatives and intimate friends.
Mrs. Claud Dunn, of Portland, played the wedding march as the bridal party entered the parlor. The bride was attended by Miss Lona McCollum, of Dayton, while Dee Dunn, of this city, was best man. The bride wore a handsome costume of crape de china, and the bridesmaid was prettily attired in blue silk. After congratulations, delicious refreshments were served.
The bride is a sister of Mrs. A. H. Harris, and has made many friends during her few months' residence in Dallas. Mr. Dunn is a son to Warren Dunn and is an honorable and industrious young man. They will visit the Portland Fair a few days this week, and will be at home to their friends in Dallas after October 15.—Dallas Ex.

SANDLAKE.

The hop pickers are all home now, so we look for some good weather again.
Some of the Sandlakers have taken to frying their potatoes in whale oil, since a large whale came ashore last week, even the bear hunters are taking a rest.
Charley Atkinson had a runaway last week as he was returning home from Tillamook, a badly wrecked hack was the result.
Cranberry picking is ended for this year. There were 340 bushels which is much less than last year's crop.
T. J. Harris was on the lake on Monday.
Since the Spruce post-office has been moved to Pleasant Valley, where the Nestocton office used to be, it makes the arrival of the mail here over a hour later and stops here only an half hour, which makes it very unhandy for the people here and about 12 miles extra travel for the mail carrier.
Clara Eichinger commenced teaching school here last Monday.
Mrs. Nettie Sommers is expected home from Albany in a few days.
The sawmill will soon be running again.

BOULDER CREEK.

Professor R. Moore received a message Friday morning that his grandfather was not expected to live, and he left for Tillamook immediately. The children are therefore having a vacation.
H. L. Jensen is finishing up his house, putting on rustic, putting in windows and building a porch, he is also having a bay window built for the accommodation of his wife's flowers.
Bids have been solicited for a daily mail between Blaine and Beaver, to go into effect next July.
Mrs. Grace Chopard, Master Norman and Miss Edna Getchell spent last Sunday at H. L. Jensen's.
M. T. Suarez and H. A. Chopard who have been home from the logging camp the past week, went back to work Sunday.
After a few days visit at home, Miss Bessie Bairs returned Sunday to Long Prairie where she is attending school, and boarding with her brother.
J. Meyers, of Netarts, was out on Boulder Creek the first of the week.
C. A. Smith went to Tillamook Friday and returned Sunday.
We understand the cheese factory at Hazel Bend will be in operation until about November first.
BAYS—MCINTYRE.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bays was the scene of a very pretty wedding, Wednesday, October 4th, when their daughter Lena was united to Mr. Donald Hunter McIntyre, at 6:30 p.m.
The bride was gowned fashionably in white silk and wore the time honored veil, with other bridal accessories, combining to form a most charming picture. Justice I. Hiner performed the ceremony which joined these two "as long as ye both shall live."
Only the immediate relatives of the bride were present, and after the congratulations and good wishes of all had been extended to the happy couple, a splendid wedding feast was set before the party, and as all who have ever partaken of Mrs. Bay's toothsome viands can testify, there was nothing lacking to make it perfect.
Mrs. McIntyre is a most lovable young lady and is well known in this neighborhood, having lived here nearly all her life. Mr. McIntyre is the genial and popular cheese maker at Hazel Bend factory, he has held the same position for three summers, which certainly speaks well for his ability and honesty.
These young people have the best wishes of their numerous friends, for their prosperity and health, and most important of all, their wedded happiness. May good fortune ever attend them, and may their future hold little of sorrow and much of joy is the heartfelt wish of your correspondent.
Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre will be at home to their friends after October 15th, at Mr. Ralph Bundy's house, which they will occupy for the present.

ANNIE LAURIE.
Across the sea a fragment,
Blown with the spray and mist
Shoreward from rosy distances,
Where shade and shine hold tryst;
An old song set in colorings
Of gold and amethyst.
A ship on the horizon
Where misty curtains cling,
Lightly to clearer levels
Her sails of violet swing;
A schooner nearing the harbor—
Listen! The sailors sing:
"Maxwellton braes are bonnie,
Where early fa's the dew,
'Twas there sweet Annie Laurie
Gave me her promise true."
Oh, the rainbow lights of boyhood
Kindle my skies anew.
"Maxwellton braes are bonnie,"
How sweet that old refrain!
The promises of morning
Break into bloom again,
And on the lowly roof I hear
The music of the rain.
"Maxwellton braes are bonnie."
There's mother at the door,
The cattle down the dusky lane
Are coming as of yore;
And, mounted on the pasture bars,
I swing and sing once more.
"Maxwellton braes are bonnie."
Oh, bonnie maid of mine,
Thro' all the mists of distance
Again the dark eyes shine;
The world is full of music,
And living seems divine!

Across the sea a fragment,
Blown with the spray and mist
Shoreward from rosy distances,
Where shade and shine hold tryst;
A vision and a memory,
In gold and amethyst.
—James Hodge Johnson, in Lewiston Journal.

THE PRIVATE.

They call his title private—
He reached no higher grade,
But waited for his orders
And died when he obeyed.
No pen may write his story,
No chisel carve his name,
No monument rise o'er him,
No multitude acclaim.
For he was but a private,
And served another's fame,
And, dying, gave his country
A never-dying name.
He gave to order's progress
The life 'twas his to give,
And in his country's annals,
Though nameless, he shall live.
He fought as but a private—
Without promotion he—
To carry freedom's banner
Beyond the rolling sea;
That purpose might not falter,
That peace might have her reign
And justice work with honor
For man's eternal gain.
He fought and died a private,
And never held the sword;
Renown did not come nigh him,
His hand holds no reward.
He wrought to give the lawless
The hope of righteous laws,
Nor vengeance marred his valor,
Nor malice cursed his cause.
They called his title private—
He sleeps in glory's bed,
And where he fell advancing
Now other private's tread;
Nor eulogy nor marble
Can honor such as they,
Who answers duty's summons
And die when they obey.
—Frederick C. Spalding, in Chicago Inter Ocean.

Man Disappears With $100,000.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 10.—The startling discovery was made late today that the Adams Express Company has been victimized to the amount of $100,000, supposedly through the speculations of an employe. The following official statement of the affair is given the Associated Press for publication:
"At 4:30 P. M. Monday, Oct. 8, a bank of Pittsburg delivered to the Adams Express Company at their office at 610 Wood street, Pittsburg, a package of currency containing $100,000. Of this amount $50,000 was in $100 bills, $10,000 in $50 bills, and the remainder, $10,000, in $5, $10 and $20 bills. The package containing this large sum of money was consigned to a bank in Cincinnati.
"This package was received and receipted for by Edward George Cunliffe, who was then acting in the place of the regular money clerk, who was ill.
"Cunliffe left the office at the usual time last evening, and this morning when he failed to report for duty a hurried examination was made of his department, and it was learned that about $1000 of funds entrusted to his care were missing. General agent Hiner, of the Adams Express Company, immediately called in detectives and placed the matter in their hands. Later development brought to light the fact that in addition to the $1000 missing, the banks package containing the $100,000 had not been received at the money forwarding office at the Union Station, this city. Inquiries made at his residence, showed that Cunliffe arrived home at the customary time last evening, and, after changing his clothes, bade his family good bye, saying to his wife that he was going out for the evening, and nothing further has been heard of him.
It may be regarded as significant in Oregon politics that a dispatch from Gumsbu pass reports that 100,000 bandits refuse to recognize "harmony" and lay down their arms.
On Saturday evening, the 21st of October, at the Fairview Hall, Fairview, a good old fashioned dance will be given. Come everybody and have a good time. Under good management.
