Shakespeare Club.

The Tillamook Shakespeare Club met with Mrs. B. C. Lamb, October 13th, with all the officers present and only two members absent, Mrs. Talmage and Mrs. Crenshaw being in Portland.

A year has passed since this club was organized, so election of officers was the order of the day, and the following elected:

President, Mrs. Whitehouse; Vice President, Mrs. Groat; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Alderman.

Committee on program for six months: Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. Groat, Mrs. Whitney.

Committee on magazines: Mrs. Clough, Mrs. Bartel, Mrs. Mason.

Much good work has been done by this club in the past year, of a higher grade than was thought possible by its members a year ago. The meetings have been held at the different homes once per month, each member entertaining once a year. Nowhere can be found twelve ladies who can entertain more cordially or hospitably, and the kindly feeling established among them is very marked. They lay aside all personal feeling, if any is felt, which is very doubtful, and work harmoniously together for the good of the club. It is often wished by them, that more members could be admitted to such delightful afternoons; but the houses in Tillamook are most of them small, and on till a club room can be supported, the club membership must necessarily be small also. If several such clubs were organized in town the reading room would soon be an accomplished fact.

The club has on hand many magazines for distribution and would be only too glad to donate them to anyone who would care for the reading matter. The Century, Harper's, Review of Review, Lewis & Clark, Red Book Success, Pacific Monthly and several others are on the list. If any reader of the Headlight, or others would care for them, please apply to the president or secretary of the club.

SEAMEN'S STORY OF GREAT AGENCY.

Adrift for Five Days in Storm on Atlantic, Dying of Hunger and Thirst.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—A story of a North Atlantic shipwreck in which eight seamen suffered so fearfully from exposure, hunger and thirst that six of them either died outright, were washed away or, crazed by their fearful experience, threw themselves into the sea, was told today by the two survivors of the coasting schooner Van Name and King, of New Haven, which was beaten to pieces by a gale off the South Carolina coast on October 6.

The two men who lived through the five days and were rescued by the schooner Stillman F. Kelly, which arrived here late today are: William Thomas and William G. Warner, both 29 years old, six feet three inches tall, and hailing from Antigua, British West Indies. The six who one by one succumbed were:

Captain William A. Maxwell, of New Jersey; the engineer, a German, name unknown; Mate E. A. Chase, home unknown; colored steward, William Griswell and Alfred Arthur, both America.

The Van Name and King, which had been plying up and down the coast since 1886, left Charleston, S. C., for New York on October 3 with a cargo of hard pine. Two days later she ran into a heavy gale and after wallowing about in the great seas for several hours, sprang a leak. The pumps were started, but within a short time the engine-room was flooded and the pumps choked.

Lashed to Bulwarks, Swept by Sea.

At 8 o'clock on the morning of October 6, with her hold full of water, the little schooner was hove down on her beam ends. The crew clambered up on the weather side and lashed themselves to the bulwarks. There they remained, washed by the seas that broke mercilessly over them all day Friday. During the night the storm increased in fury and one great wave broke both legs of Arthur and swept Grizzell from the fastenings. Arthur's companions could do nothing to ease his sufferings but, when on Saturday the schooner turned completely over, they managed to cut his lashings and drag him on a piece of the after-house. It was several hours before they were all huddled together on their little raft. That night Arthur died in the arms of Captain Maxwell, and his body was dropped overboard.

Sunday brought a ray of hope when a craft was sighted, but the gloom shut in again, as she passed by without heeding the little group of seamen, who frantically signaled her.

Three Leap Crazed Into Sea.

That night the waves subsided, and a little rain fell, which was eagerly caught in a tarpaulin and brought some relief. It was only temporary, and not long after Chase's mind gave way entirely and the craft was again lightened when he jumped into the sea.

The next victim was Captain Maxwell who, on Monday morning, became violently insane and followed his mate's fate of self-destruction as a relief to his sufferings.

The spectacle of two men throwing themselves into the sea proved too much for the German engineer, and a few hours after Captain Maxwell's death he too leaped to his death.

The head steward died on Monday and his body was consigned to the waters by the two remaining seamen.

Relief to Two Survivors.

Relief came 12 hours later, when the schooner Stillman F. Kelly, bound up the coast from Ceylon, Ga., to this port, sighted the little craft and hove to along side. Both Thomas and Warner had to be taken in slings and for two days were unable to move. The rescue took place off Lookout. The Kelly arrived here this afternoon, but the seamen were still too exhausted to land.

Resolution.

The following is a resolution adopted by the Oretown Grange at the last meeting:

Whereas, The roads from Tillamook County leading into the Willamette Valley are not on the easiest grades, or in the best condition, and

Whereas they are all much worse in grade and condition than there is any necessity for and also have an unnatural obstruction across all of them that ought to be removed, for the best interests of the county, and

Whereas, if there were better roads across the coast range of easy grade, it would increase the population, the traffic and convenience of the whole of our people many fold. Therefore be it

Resolved, that we members of Oretown Grange favor a sensible and progressive policy by our County Court that will most speedily result in giving us a good road out to Sheridan, on the easiest grade via Grand Ronde.

Signed, F. C. Varner, Wm. Redberg, A. W. Fletcher; A. M. Commons, W. M. Stella Christensen, Secretary.

Editorial Snap Shots.

It is perfectly right and proper that the republicans should hold state and county conventions, otherwise there will be no opportunity for them to get together.

Rah! Rah! Rah! Watch Tillamook grow! When we get a railroad—and it is coming sure! Only a few more years of patient waiting. Tillamook County will then have more openings for industrial investments than any county in Oregon.

Tillamook's delegation to the republican love feast in Portland failed to reach that city in time. A. J. Stillwell, finding he could not get there owing to the steamer being bar bound, returned from Garibaldi on Thursday, while Fred C. Baker went out and arrived at the scene after the republican brethren had barred their political dynamite and destructive and deadly weapons of torture, consequently the ladies of the party have buried the hatchet, and have kissed and made up.

It is about ten years since Ed. Porter took a trip to the outside world last week, but Father Neptune thought he was a fit subject to be baptized before he co-mingle with anybody who did not have Tillamook ear marks. When on Columbia bar, Father Neptune got all ready for the performance, and before Ed. could avoid it, a big wave broke over the vessel and baptized him, submerged him from head to feet, and sent him as a penitent down on his marrow bones. No one questioned after that Ed's right to hobnob with the best people on the outside world.

"Harmony!" That is what the love feast last week in Portland accomplish ed, and it is to be hoped that it will be a lasting peace in the republican party of Oregon. The rank and file of the party are tired of the factional fights which have brought defeat to so many staunch republican standard bearers. Now let republicanism rise head and shoulders above the greed of political leaders who used the party for their own aggrandizement. These remarks apply as much to the long and bitter strife in the republican party of Tillamook county as to other counties, so the best way to show sincerity, is to put into practice right here at home what the republicans of the state are going to do to prevent strife in future.

BOULDER CREEK.

Contractor Wood and his men have resumed work on the bridge.

H. L. Jensen went down to Hebo last Thursday and returned Friday.

Professor Moore came back from Tillamook last Sunday and reopened his school Monday morning.

W. N. Bays went to the metropolis last Monday.

Mr. H. Bays is spending a few days with the family of his brother, Mr. Chas. Bays.

Mr. W. D. Gladwill is the proudest man in the county, if not in the state, today. It's a boy and a twelve pounder in the bargain! Now, what d'ye think of that? Six times has the stork visited the Gladwill home, but this is the first boy it has brought. We heartily congratulate Mr. Gladwill and wish health, wealth and a long life to his son.

Mr. Jim Tompkins went to Dolph Saturday to take out his sister, Mrs. Miller, who has been visiting him for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Kinnamin came home from Wolfe Creek last Sunday morning after a visit with Mrs. Kinnamin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dye.

Mrs. Laura Bays is installed as chief cook and head nurse at W. D. Gladwill's.

Have you heard the latest joke? It is on Mrs. H. A. Chopard, who went for a buggy ride on a fine Sunday afternoon, and had to walk home and pull the horse, while Misses Una and Flutah Bays pulled the buggy. Cause the horse refused absolutely to do his duty, although Messrs. Roy Brady and Elmer Lucas attempted for half an hour or more to persuade him that it was not at all polite to leave a lady in the lurch that way. Mrs. Chopard says the next time she goes buggy riding she will stay at home, or walk.

We regret to state that Professor Moore did not leave his grandfather much improved in health, when he came back from Tillamook.

October gave a party, the leaves by hundreds came.

The Ashes, Oaks and Maples, and forests of other names;

The Sunshine spread a carpet, and everything was grand;

Miss Weather led the dancing, Professor Wind the band.

The Chestnuts came in yellow, the Oaks in crimson drest,

The lovely Misses Maple, in scarlet looked their best; All balanced to their partners, and gaily flattered by; The sight was like a rainbow, fallen from the sky."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure not known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Don't Borrow Trouble. It is a bad habit to borrow anything, but the worst thing you can possibly borrow, is trouble. When sick, sore, heavy, weary and worn-out by the pains and poisons of dyspepsia, biliousness, Bright's disease, and similar internal disorders, don't sit down and brood over your symptoms, but fly for relief with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years as a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.
