 Next Sunday morning at the Christian Church the Bible School will hold its annual election of officers and teachers. Every pupil is requested to be present and help in the selection.
 Henry Zarfueh, who sold a valuable water right on Killam creek for $100, so that the city could put in the new water system, was paid $25 at the time, and the remaining $75 has not been paid. If this is not paid at once Zarfueh will sue the city.
 At a special meeting of the school district on Wednesday, a 11 mill tax was voted and a 2 mill tax to pay off the indebtedness on the old school building, as there is something like $900 to be raised for that purpose. As there is one less teacher this year Chairman Botts thought that 11 mills would be sufficient, the levy being 12 mills last year.
 The big log raft that has been stranded in the Columbia river for several months was floated Tuesday afternoon by the Callender Navigation Company, which had six steamers pulling on the raft at high water. The big mushroom anchor could not be raised Tuesday but will be taken up Wednesday and the raft shifted into deeper water.
 Christmas passed off quietly in the city on Monday, the weather being wet all day, which turned into a rain and wind storm in the evening. Owing to the storm, two of the pack horses with mail were lost in the mountains, the consequence of which a large amount of the newspaper mail was delayed until Wednesday, the horses having been found on Tuesday.
 The Forest Grove Times has this bit of fraternal comfort for our contemporary: "Brother Watson, editor of the Tillamook Herald, was the candidate for mayor on the wet ticket in his town last week, but his dry competitor got his scalp by 12 majority. Never mind Rolla. It is better to have run and lost, than to have run and won. We've tried both, and know." We hope, however, that Bro. Hoge's fee did not look as though a Dakota blizzard had struck it and put it all out of whack.

When the steamer Sue H. Elmore had crossed out from Astoria for Tillamook on Friday, she had among her passengers Henry M. Miller and Miss Lella Miller, both of Oregon City, who were to be married by Captain Schrader as soon as the three-mile shore limit was passed. Mr. and Miss Miller are cousins, and their wedding at sea was for the purpose of evading the state law, which forbids their marriage. Owing to bad weather the steamer had to put back to Astoria.

Road district No. 2, 5 mills.
 New year is at hand and many are the resolutions that will be made. At the Christian Church next Sunday morning a new year's sermon will be preached, subject, "A Religious Invoice." This will be especially applicable to Christian people. In the evening the topic will be especially interesting to young people. Subject, "Making a Life." At the morning service there will be a special solo, and at the evening service a double quartet will sing "Ashamed of Jesus." Everybody is cordially welcomed to either or both of these services.
 It is reported that J. F. Reher has been doing the Carrie Nation act again with the toll gates on the Wilson road. Well, the toll roads are a terrible eye sore to the people of the county, and whenever the voters get a whack at them, the toll gates will not only be demolished, but they will demolish them for good. It is time the people of the county aroused themselves and showed their utter disgust at the manner in which the county has been bottled up with toll roads so that a few persons can work a "graft." Take for instance the Wilson river road, what moral right had the county court to lease that road for 50 years without first ascertaining whether the people sanctioned it or not? The settlers along that road, under the circumstances have a right to feel indignant when they can neither get in or out without paying toll. We repeat that the Wilson river road is a "graft," pure and simple, and it is time that the "main squeeze" was squeezed out, too, but it only goes to prove that some men when they get into office barter away the people's rights to those who are looking out for opportunities to fleece the people.

 Next Sunday a jubilee service will be held at the Presbyterian church, in which the M. E. and U. B. churches will join. Although the church was practically out of debt when it was dedicated, several of the members having assumed an indebtedness of several hundred dollars when the church was built, this having been paid off during the year, the occasion is to be made one of rejoicing. This service will commence at 7:30 and continue until about one o'clock. After which the three churches will hold a united watch night service, when appropriate sermons will be preached previous to the ring out the old year and ringing in the advent of the new year. All are cordially invited to these services.

LOOKS VERY SUSPICIOUS.

Did McKenzie, who was Drowned at Sandlake, Rob the Store at Woods?

There is strong suspicion amongst the people of Woods and Sandlake that Hat McKenzie, who was reported to be drowned at Sandlake last week, was implicated in the robbery of W. D. Robe's store at Woods, as a clue has been found which leads to that belief. This is now being figured out by those who have been making an investigation.
 McKenzie lived on the Harris place at Sandlake, which is nearly ten miles from Woods, and on several occasions recently he had gone to Woods to do what little trading he had to do after the store had closed at night, when he would call upon Mr. Robe at his residence so as to get what he wanted. The robbery occurred on Sunday night, Dec. 17, and it is supposed that the robbers, after securing from the store what they wanted, made two packs of the stolen goods and then started off that night to walk the beach in the direction of Sandlake, and coming to the outlet of the lake to the ocean, where they had left their boat for the purpose of returning home. After getting away from the shore, probably in the darkness and the rough weather the boat capsized or was swamped, and the occupants were thrown into the water, when McKenzie was drowned and the other man managed to reach shore with his pack, and realizing what had happened and for fear of being detected he hid the pack by the side of a log on the beach on the south side of the outlet to the lake. The stormy weather uncovered the pack, which in a search, that was made, was discovered, and which contained three dozen socks, one pair No. 7 shoes, and two pairs gun boots. This was some of the property stolen from Mr. Robe's store. The boat was found bottom up at the head of the outlet near the island anchored, and Thos. Shillinglaw claims he saw some parties wading in the lake with water up to their necks. It is surmised, that if ever McKenzie's body is ever found, the other stolen property will be found at the same time. For some reason or other, the people around Woods did not believe that McKenzie was drowned.
 Mrs. McKenzie tells a different story. She claims that her husband left home on Monday morning for the purpose of hunting seal on the lake, and finding that he did not return, she, in company with a young man named Smith, a half brother to McKenzie, started out to find him, and went down to the outlet of the lake, where, she claims, Smith swam across, but which the settlers claim is impossible at this season of the year. Mrs. McKenzie was in the city last week and decided the property back to Mr. I. T. Harris, who held a mortgage over the place and which was about due. McKenzie having paid $500 on the place about twelve months ago, and it seems that Mrs. McKenzie and the young man Smith are anxious to leave the county as soon as possible.

Double Wedding Anniversary.

A pleasant gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. McGhee on Christmas day. It was the celebration of a double silver wedding anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. J. McGhee and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stanley, the former being married in Wisconsin and the latter in Kansas in 1880. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. A. Stockwell, after which a delicious dinner was served. A number of beautiful presents were received, among them were two silver cake baskets from the ladies of the Circle.
 The guests were: Chester McGhee, Miss Ruby McGhee, Miss Ruby McGhee, Clyde Stanley, Clarence Stanley, Verle Stanley, Mrs. Murphy, Arthur Murphy, Kenneth Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Billing, Mr. and Mrs. Snodgrass, Mrs. E. R. Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Watt, W. S. Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Lucy, Mrs. Bane, Verne Bane, Mr. and Mrs. Wilt, Misses Maggie Wilt, Gladys Snodgrass, Claire Snodgrass, Bella Watt, Clara Watt, Flora Lucy.

Referred to Sheriff Woolfe.

TO THE EDITOR TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT
 DEAR SIR,—I see by Headlight received today that there is to be a boxing contest in your city next week. I believe you are certainly opposed to such exhibitions, knowing that such do not tend to better the morals of any people, but on the other hand the more one witnesses such things does the finer sensibilities become dwarfed, and things once looked upon as had and even repulsive are looked for with a feverish anxiety. Now if I understand correctly the law of our state forbids such contests and makes it the duty of sheriff, constable, justice of the peace or any peace officer to stop them. So I suggest that you notify such officers as you think best, and with other good citizens see that the right steps are taken before it is too late.
 Respectfully,
 P. E. NORRTON.
 Woods, Or., Dec. 23, 1905.

We are not aware that a boxing contest is a violation of the law, for it does not come under the law defining prize fights unless one of the participants are injured. However, we will refer the letter to Sheriff Woolfe and allow him to do what he seems best. It is up to him to stop it if it is in his power. Boxing was always considered good manual exercise when indulged in for that purpose, but as so many prize fights have taken place under the guise of a boxing contest we are inclined to think that the peace officers will have some trouble in arriving at a conclusion whether this is simply a boxing contest in the strict sense of the manly sport or a prize contest in which the participants are fighting for a wager in the form of a purse or for gate money. There is no danger, the local sports are not going to hurt one another.—Ed.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

Castle Hall of Marathon Lodge, No. 89, K. of P., Tillamook, Oregon, Dec. 22nd, 1905, P. P. xlii.
 To the Chancellor Commander—
 We, your committee on Necrology, to whom was referred the Relief Committee's report of the death of Brother T. B. Handley, fraternally submit the following to wit:
 On the 11th day of this month, in the stillness of the night, while we were at rest, the angle of death entered our castle and carried away our beloved brother, T. B. Handley who but little past the meridian of life's journey, in the midst of an active career of one of the most honored of the professions, with greater possibilities and larger fields of usefulness within his grasp, his real self, his individuality, his immortality was conducted across the mighty river into God's invisible world, where with an eye of faith we seem to see him in the beauty of a more perfect manhood.
 Brother Handley was proven a knight in I. O. lodge in the year of 1884, and later became a member of Marathon Lodge at the time of its institution. His loyalty to true Pythian principles and his devotion to the best interest and welfare of his lodge were of the highest order, making it possible for his life to be an intensely fraternal one.
 The abundance of his love centered in his family, and was sufficient to envelope them in a magnificent garb of tender affection.
 Resolved, that we earnestly sympathize with his family whom he loved so dearly, and would help bare their burden if we could. We do ask them to believe that they will one day meet him and continue the journey throughout all eternity.
 Resolved, that this letter and these resolutions find place upon the journal of this lodge and that a page be set apart perpetuating the memory of our brother.
 Fraternally submitted in P. C. and B. A. W. Severance, John P. Allen, F. L. Sappington, Committee on Necrology.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is no other medicine manufactured that has received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective, and prompt relief follows its use. Grateful parents everywhere do not hesitate to testify to its merits for the benefit of others. It is a certain cure for croup and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is especially adapted to children as it is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. Mr. E. A. Humphreys, a well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. E. Lock, of Alton, Cape Colony, South Africa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to ward off croup and colds in my family. I found it to be very satisfactory and it gives me pleasure to recommend it." For sale by Chas. I. Clough's Drug Store.
