

CANDIDATE FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATION AS STATE TREASURER.

Judge Thos. F. Ryan, of Oregon City, Oregon.

Candidate of the People and not the Choice of the Banks and Corporations.

Judge Ryan's record as a public officer proves him a man of business ability, well fitted to perform every duty required of the State Treasurer.

Being neither officer, stockholder, agent nor employee of any banking institution, he is under no obligation to any corporation and stands squarely on the following platform:

"That the funds of the state belong to the people, and should not be used for the benefit of any bank or money loaning institution; that moneys of the state deposited in banking institutions should draw interest, which should be paid into the state treasury. That the State Treasurer should be prohibited from speculating or using the state funds for his personal benefit, receiving for his services only the salary allowed by law; that it be made unlawful for the state treasurer to have any interest, either directly or indirectly, in any bank in which any of the moneys of the State are deposited or loaned."

This platform is a good one, and as the other prominent candidates for this office are all bankers or employees of banks, it looks as Judge Ryan will surely be the choice of the people as State Treasurer.

A Comparison and Prediction. A prominent politician in commenting upon the candidates for congress from the First District in speaking of Hawley, of Salem, had this to say:

"The weak feature of Prof. Hawley's candidacy lies in the fact that he has not been conspicuous in republican councils, nor in republican conventions. He has more prominence as a Chatauque lecturer, and a professor, than as a republican leader. He has presided at one home republican convention, where he afterwards went out and fought the ticket, and laid the foundation for the success of the citizens party, which ruled the capital city for five years. His next appearance in politics was in a mass meeting called at the Methodist church to nominate a candidate for mayor against the regular republican nominee, who was elected.

Another weak point of Hawley's candidacy, is his prominence for many years as the president of the sectarian college. The other candidate for Congress, S. B. Huston, of Washington County, has no republican record to speak of, while Walter L. Tooze has always been recognized as one of the republican war-horses. He was out making speeches for the gold standard when many of the republican leaders were catering to free silver doctrine and Mr. Huston was supporting the Bryan democracy. Back of all this, Tooze has doubled strength by his close identification with the producers.

He is one of the largest dealers and shippers of hops and potatoes in the State of Oregon. He has made the Oregon Burbank a familiar product in commercial circles from Texas to Montana. The farmers and live stock men of the First District recognize him as a champion of their interests. He has been, until recently, a general farmer and hop grower on a large scale. His humble origin as a country school teacher, and his only political distinction of being a country postmaster incline the people of the smaller towns and the laboring classes generally to favor his candidacy. His life is democratic, his home is hospitable, his business methods are direct and frank. He is a hard fighter for any cause that has his support. While not posing as a great Statesman, nor a profound scholar, he has a quick wit, native ability, and common horse sense that endears him to the common people everywhere. His nomination and election can be safely predicted."

Taxation for School Purposes.

As the question of taxation for school purposes is one that concerns the farmer and rural inhabitants more than any other class in this state, a few words will probably not be amiss in regard to the workings of the present law. Under the present laws the county court makes the levy, which is based upon the valuation of all taxable property in the county, and the rate is uniform in every school district. Then the county school funds so raised are disbursed according to enumeration of children.

Thus a school district, no matter how high its valuation, and how much it contributes towards the county school fund, can receive only as much per capita for children enrolled as do those districts where the enumeration is doubly as large as compared with the valuation. There are some instances in this county (Polk) where school districts receive only about one-half of the money collected from them, while a few of the large districts—mostly incorporated cities and villages—because of their comparatively large population, receive much more than they are paying.

The rural taxpayers of Polk county have become thoroughly awake to the situation and have organized for purpose of getting some relief. By endeavoring to secure a delegation to the next legislature that is favorable to their ideas, it is hoped that a law can be passed which will give more satisfaction to the country people.

Hoping that other countries will join in the movement, I remain, yours truly, John R. Loy.

At a meeting of school directors and officers of Polk county, held in Monmouth on March 17, the question of the apportionment of school money was discussed and the following resolutions adopted:

"Your committee on resolutions submit the following report: Whereas, the distribution of school funds under the present school laws is based upon the enumeration of pupils and thus works an injustice on the districts of large valuation and small enumeration; be it resolved by the taxpayers and school officers here assembled that the laws should be so changed that each district receive all the money raised for school purposes by taxation on the assessed valuation of the district; and be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be sent to the state school superintendent, to the candidates for the legislature from this county and to the press. Signed by J. C. Peterson, J. A. Whitrow, J. R. Loy, A. B. Lacey, committee.—Homestead.

A Well Conducted Office.

J. R. Whitney, State Printer, in asking a renomination at the hands of the Republican voters at the primary election in April, is following a well founded custom of the party in Oregon, that when a state officer performs his duties acceptably and makes a creditable record he is given a second term.

Mr. Whitney is a life long Republican and edited the Albany Herald for nearly twenty years, a paper known throughout the State for its unswerving course in behalf of the republican ticket and candidates nominated by the party. He is a native Oregonian, a graduate of the University of Oregon, and a practical printer.

Since assuming charge of the state printing office he has devoted his entire time and attention to the affairs of the office, and with his long experience in the printing business he has been able to give the state a good, clean, business-like administration.

Mr. Whitney is conducting a straight forward primary campaign, and his many friends are confident that he will be renominated by a large majority.
