

ROLLER SHOT LIKE A DOG.

Follows Creffield to Sisters Were Among Victims.

Wash., May 7.—Frank Creffield, who styled himself "Joshua" of the so-called "rollers," met his death here...

Creffield was released last December from the penitentiary, in Salem, Or., where he had served two years upon his conviction on a criminal charge...

BELL TAKES NO CHANCES.

They crossed over to the side of First avenue and had only a few blocks when, just reaching Cherry street, Mitchell stepped from behind, and, without a word, placed the muzzle of a 32-caliber pistol at the back of Creffield's head...

LAYER GIVES HIMSELF UP.

Controlman Leconte and Special Officer Huth were a short distance away when the shot was fired, and, trying to the scene, placed Mitchell under arrest. The slayer made no attempt to escape, but calmly handed his weapon to the officer...

SEARCHING FOR HIS SISTERS.

Mitchell said he had come to Seattle from Portland last Wednesday, and had learned that Creffield and his wife were living in this city.

It was on the mission of looking for his sisters that Mitchell came to Seattle. He was on the street early this morning. He was walking up First avenue when he saw Creffield and his wife going down the street.

For the last week the Creffields have been living in an attic room, two chairs, a small table and a camp cot comprised all their furniture.

PROMISED A NEW SKIRT.

She and her husband had arisen earlier than usual this morning, for Creffield has promised to buy her a new skirt, and they wanted to reach one of the downtown stores before the morning rush.

OFFERED AID FROM CORVALLIS.

During the afternoon a telegram was received by Mitchell from several prominent citizens of Corvallis, offering their assistance to him to the extent of their resources that he might be set free.

SWORN TO BE REVENGED.

"But that is not all. This brute who declared he was appointed 'Joshua' by God, betrayed both these girls. I swore that I would be avenged and my time came this morning. I am sorry, of course, that I have been compelled to take a man's life...

but there is no man among you who can appreciate my feelings.

"No brother could love his sisters more than I. To have a man of the stripe of Creffield take them away from me and ruin their lives under the guise of frenzied religion was too much to bear.

"The more I thought of it the more angry I became, and resolved at the first opportunity to meet Creffield and secure my revenge. It was willed that I should meet him today, and Creffield suffered the end that he was entitled to."

Creffield was released last December from the penitentiary, in Salem, Or., where he had served two years upon his conviction on a criminal charge, which connected him with Mrs. B. E. Starr of Portland, and which was preferred by the woman's husband.

WIFE A FIRM BELIEVER.

Mrs. Starr had left her family to go with Creffield, and was a firm believer in his peculiar doctrine. She was a sister of young Mitchell, who killed Creffield yesterday. The second sister, Ester, who is only 18 years of age, was living in Seattle with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurst, up to two months ago.

Creffield was divorced from his wife while he was in the Oregon prison, but was remarried to her in Seattle on April 2 of the present year.

Justice George performed the ceremony. Creffield then persuaded his wife and the members of the Hurt family to accompany him to Ocean View, Or., where he had gathered some of his old adherents, including the two sisters of Mitchell, for the purpose of taking up Government land and starting a new settlement.

TOOK A CIRCUAR ROUTE.

The people in that section, however, soon found out who their new neighbors were to be and made things so unpleasant that Creffield left, and, instead of coming through Corvallis, which would have been the ordinary route by train, he drove for many miles up a circuitous route, in order that no one might know that he was in the country.

Mrs. Creffield alleges that during the week that her husband was at Ocean View was the only time that he was near the young Mitchell girl, and that he was well behaved during that time. Last Wednesday Mrs. Creffield started to this city, and while at Albany, where she had to lay over for several hours to wait for a train, she says that the police of that city informed her that some one was shadowing her. She saw the man and recognized him as young Mitchell. After that, she had not seen him till this morning, when the shooting occurred.

WARNED AWAY FROM CORVALLIS.

A. J. Johnson, Mayor of Corvallis, who is also a National bank inspector, was in Seattle today, and made the following statement:

"Creffield never dared to come back to Corvallis after his release from the Salem penitentiary. He had been treated to a coat of tar and feathers while in the city and warned that if he ever showed his face there that he would be shot down like a dog. Mitchell was not the only man looking for him on account of his conduct.

"The outrages that have been committed by the Holy Roller in Corvallis and in the vicinity of Oregon City have been too numerous to mention. They have broken up dozens of families with their doctrines of free love. In the case of the Hurt family there was only one member of the entire family that was not under the influence of Creffield at the time of his death, that being the father, O. V. Hurt, who is a respected citizen in Corvallis, and even he was under the hypnotic spell of the infamous creed for some time."

OFFERED AID FROM CORVALLIS.

During the afternoon a telegram was received by Mitchell from several prominent citizens of Corvallis, offering their assistance to him to the extent of their resources that he might be set free.

The postmortem examination was held by Dr. Borles tonight, and showed that Creffield met his death by a bullet that entered the back of the neck, breaking the spinal cord at the base of the brain and then ranging through to the right jaw, which it shattered.

Mitchell was removed to the county jail this afternoon by order of Prosecuting Attorney Mackintosh. Mrs. Creffield was placed under the charge of Mrs. Kelly, the police matron, to be detained as a witness.

There will be no inquest held by the Coroner, as Mitchell acknowledges that he killed Creffield, thus doing away with that formality. He has retained Will H. Morris as his attorney.

Piano Tuning & Action Repairing

S. SCOVELL,

Socialist Candidate for Joint Representative, Tillamook and Yamhill Counties.

Esteemed Friend:

Having been chosen as candidate for Joint Representative of Tillamook and Yamhill Counties by the Socialist County Convention, and not being able to visit you personally, I take this method to invite you to study the Socialist platform and principles.

If you are a laborer and would receive the full product of your labor, or a farmer, the most oppressed of all workers, a merchant, perhaps, that the trusts and the colossal mercantile establishments will soon put out of business, should you be a Christian and would like to see an environment in which one could live and do the Golden Rule, if you want a square deal and equal rights to all, Study Socialism.

You will find it a beautiful study, in harmony with Divine and natural laws. I invite you to make me your choice at the ballot box on June 4th, in harmony with the Socialist doctrine.

Fraternally, S. SCOVELL.

Acceptance of Nomination.

As the Democratic party in Yamhill and Tillamook Counties at the primary election have voluntarily tendered me the nomination of their ticket for the office of Joint Representative in the Legislature, from the 14th District, without solicitation upon my part, and in fact without my knowledge in advance of their intention so to do, I deem it my duty to accept it, and make the race for the position, and in accepting such nomination, to state briefly some of the principles I adhere to, so that those who wish to favor me with their votes in June, may know before hand what to expect of me in event of my election.

First.—I adhere firmly to, and pledge myself to support the statement known as "Statement No. 1," which is in effect that I will support the people's choice for United States Senator, without regard to my personal preferences, or his political affiliation.

Second.—I am opposed to grants of all kinds, believing in equal rights to all and special privileges to none, and am especially opposed to the custom of grouping appropriations of public funds for different purposes, into one appropriation bill, thereby forcing the people to support a weak proposition with a strong one.

Third.—I believe the quickest, cheapest and easiest way to develop the whole country, is by building and maintaining good permanent highways, and if elected will favor such laws as will in my judgment facilitate the opening and permanent improvement of our roads with less expense and less "red tape."

Fourth.—I believe in the taxation of franchises and the gross earnings of corporations, as a means of reducing the burdens of taxation to the producer and the laboring classes.

Fifth.—While running for the office, I am running on the democratic ticket, yet if elected I will not favor the passage of any measure that I do not believe will benefit the whole people, as I believe the representative is no greater than the people he represents. I am a citizen first, and a democrat afterwards.

Very respectfully yours, W. W. CONDER.

NEHALEM.

Every voter in the state should post themselves in regard to the Barlow toll road question. It is another attempt to "graft" the state.

A. Anderson returned from Astoria last week, bringing word that the Wheeler Lumber Co. would start up their mill at Nehalem this month.

F. R. Beals, T. Kingsley and Mr. Wilson visited the former's place on Tuesday.

A book that awakens the interest of President Roosevelt should be read by everybody. Sinclair's "The Jungle" is the book.

DEED SUDDELY

How frequently does a head line similar to the above greet us in the newspapers. The rash, push and strenuousness of the American people has a strong tendency to lead up to valvular and other affections of the heart, attended by irregular action, palpitation, dizziness, numbness, sensations and other distressing symptoms.

Three of the prominent ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made are recommended by some of the leading writers on Materia Medica for the cure of just such cases. Golden Seal root, for instance, is said by the UNITED STATES DISPENSARY, a standard authority, "to impart tone and increase the power of the heart's action."

Numerous other leading authorities represent Golden Seal as an unsurpassed tonic for the muscular system in general, and as the heart is almost wholly composed of muscular tissue, it naturally follows that it must be greatly strengthened by this superior general tonic. But probably the most important ingredient of "Golden Medical Discovery," so far as its marvelous cures of valvular and other affections of the heart are concerned, is Stone root, or Collinsonia Can. Prof. Wm. Payne, author of Payne's Epitomy of Medicine, says of it: "I not long since had a patient who was so much oppressed with valvular disease of the heart that his friends were obliged to carry him up-stairs. He, however, gradually recovered under the influence of Collinsonia medicinal principle extracted from Stone root, and is now attending to his business. Heretofore physicians knew of no remedy for the removal of so distressing and so dangerous a malady. With this it was all done—work, and it fearfully warned the afflicted that death was near at hand. Collinsonia unquestionably affords relief in such cases, and in most instances effects a cure."

Stone root is also recommended by Drs. Hale and Ellingwood, of Chicago, for valvular and other diseases of the heart. The latter says: "It is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence."

"Golden Medical Discovery" not only cures serious heart affections, but is a most efficient general tonic and invigorator, strengthening the stomach, invigorating the liver, regulating the bowels and curing diarrheal affections in all parts of the system. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure Constipation.

Mr. Gladwill went to Tillamook last Monday.

Messrs. Maurice Hays and Henry Smith were callers in our neighborhood last Sunday.

"In speaking of a person's faults, Pray don't forget your own; Remember those with homes of glass, Should never throw a stone.

If we have nothing else to do, Than talk of those who sin, 'Tis better that we look at home, And from that point begin."

Mr. W. N. Bays hauled some lumber last week, we are informed, he intends putting up several buildings this summer.

A tree falling across the road near Blalock's broke the telephone wire, but as it was almost immediately repaired, business was not delayed much.
