SCHOOL CLOSES NEXT WEEK

Baccalaureate Sermon on Sunday

Next week will bring to a close another successful school year and with it another class of graduates from the high school. If there is one thing more than another that the people of Tillamook City have reason to be proud of, it is the public and high schools. For the past four years Mr. E. H. Whitney has been the principal and has gained for himself a reputation that places him in the first rank as a teacher and principal of high schools, and in severing his connection with the school in this city, Mr. Whitney is deserving of a great deal of credit, which is justly due him. Mr. Whitney has proved himself a thorough principal and all admit that his school work here was highly satisfactory. Tillamook City has been fortunate in recent years in getting good principals, and it is gratifying to know that little or no friction exists between directors, teachers, parents or pupils. This year another class will graduate from the high school, and the patrons will have another opportunity to judge for themselves as the ability of the pupils who obtained their educational training in this city.

At the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning, the Baccalaureate sermon

OREGON STUDENT DROWNED

Dudley R. Newell Tries to Shoot Rapids at Eugene.

Dudley R. Newell, son of P. D. Newell, who previously resided at Nehalem, a junior at the University of Oregon, was drowned in the Willamette River Tuesday evening after "shooting" the rapids near the head of the millrace. With Charles Neal, as a companion, Newell went up the race in a canoe and paddled some distance above the rapids. At this time of the year the rapids are so rough that a boat requires skillful handling to pass them safely, but both students agreed to risk a docking and let their boat drift with the current.

According to Neal, the survivor, they had safely reached the bottom of the rapids when the canoe struck a rock and capsized, throwing both into the water. After a short struggle each regained the upturned canoe and floated down stream safely enough until, as they attempted to right the half-submerged boat, it slipped away under the water.

Newell then started to swim for shore, while Neal, afraid to attempt the distance, waited for the canoe to reappear, and, as he caught it, glanced across the water to see his mate sink for the last time. Panic-stricken, he left the boat, swam ashore and ran nearly two miles to secure help.

The news spread like wildfire, and almost immediately 200 students were on the scene and five boats supplied with grabbing hooks and divers were searching for the body, but the water is very swift and murky, so that there is little hope of recovering the body.

Newell was one of the most popular students attending college, and held a very responsible office as business manager of the Oregon Weekly. He was a resident of Eugene, but was originally registered from Nehalem, Tillamook County.

Puter is Captured.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Assistant United States Attorney Black stated this morning that S. A. D. Puter, who was apprehended in Alameda yesterday for alleged complicity in the Oregon land frauds, will be taken to Oregon immediately, where proceedings in the federal court will be begun against him.

Puter was captured within two blocks of the city prison, and a woman proved his undoing. When arrested Puter was about to keep his appointment with Mrs.
Fred Ware, sister-in-law of Mrs. Horace McKinley of this city. Puter was not resigned to his fate when the officers clapped him on the shoulder and asked him to surrender. In a moment he had drawn his heavy Colts revolver from his belt and was menacing his captors.

Remembering the desperate methods he employed several months ago to escape from Secret Service Agent W. I.
Burns, Puter again attempted to fight for liberty. One of the officers, however, threatened him with a club and others covered him with their guns.

Even then Puter fought every step of the distance to the police station and tried at every turn to break from the hold of the officers. The five men who succeeded in taking Puter prisoner were R. H. Perry, D. F. Cecil and Robert Spaulding, in the employ of William J.
Burns, and Chief of Police Conrad and Policeman Wohmuth, who were asked by the government detectives to aid in the capture.

It was learned Sunday from Mrs.
McKinley that her sister had an appointment to meet Puter at 3 p.m., but Puter missed the car on which she came and started to walk to the corner where he expected the car to stop.

It was while he walked this short distance that the secret service men gave a sign to two officers who immediately stepped forward and took the man into custody.

Burns' men by shadowing Mrs. E. L.
Watson, residing at 1979 Fifth avenue, East Oakland, discovered where Puter lived and all about his movements.

He came here from New York three days ago and immediately took a room in a lodging house in this city. Saturday night he visited his wife at 1517 Spruce street, Berkeley. He remained with her several hours and then returned to his lodgings in this city.

When captured and securely locked in a cell, Puter savagely informed the detectives that he had already engaged passage on a steamer to China and hoped to leave for that country in a few days.

He had taken the name of James William Barr and traveled under that alias since leaving New York.

Card of Thanks.

wishes us to thank the many kind and generous friends for their assistance during the sickness of her husband.
