

HARRIS' PLAIN TEAT BISTOURY

Cutting Obstructed Teats.

Illustration shows instrument both open and closed for inserting. Obstruction may be a stricture or growth of a tumorous nature. It is often the result of the bite of a tick or a bruise caused by going through a fence or through a dense undergrowth. The cow may have had some trouble with that quarter of her bag, in milking and forcing the thickly packed milk out, a small rupture had formed, so that when the scar tissue healed, the opening became smaller. Also carry of German silver milking tubes, four different lengths. Improved instruments for opening obstructed teats without cutting. Feed Probes or Sounds.

Fire completely destroyed the residence of W. H. Hoskins at Foley on Friday morning, at about 10 o'clock, when he was working on the road near his farm. Although every effort was made to save the building, the fire had taken such a strong hold that it was impossible to do so, and most everything in the house was destroyed. Mr. Hoskins was partly insured. *
After eight months of instruction, Rev. C. G. Zipp admitted by the rite of confirmation six young people to the Reformed Church of Tillamook. The names are: Henry Schild, Annie Schlappi, Elsie Zurluh, Emma Neizer, Helena Schlappi and Elsie Luethi, and the services were held at Pleasant Valley. Rev. Zipp goes to classes, which is the annual meeting of ministers and elders of the Oregon district, to be in session at Portland, June 7th. *
The Tillamook Development League decided to give a Fourth of July celebration at its meeting on Thursday evening, and an effort is to be made to make this one of the most attractive and enjoyable celebrations ever held in Tillamook. There will be the usual parade, a barbecue in which two heaves will be roasted, and with bread, will furnish a free lunch; prizes will be offered for the best plug uglies; $100 in prizes for horse races and numerous other attractions. *
The remains of Dudley Newell, son of P. D. Newell, who formerly resided at Nehalem, the University of Oregon student who was drowned in the Willamette River the afternoon of May 22nd, were discovered on Thursday on Good-pasture's Island, about two miles below Eugene. The two Deadman brothers, expert river men, have patrolled the bank of the Willamette for three days, and late Thursday afternoon they found the body, partially buried in the sand. No inquest was held on the remains. The body had been in the water nine days, and was probably rolled along the bottom of the river a distance of four miles before the recent high water washed it ashore. *
County Clerk G. B. Lamb has received a letter from Attorney General A. M. Crawford in regard to setting out fire and the issuance of fire permits by the county clerks, which reads: "Your favor of the 22nd instant, in relation to burning logs and stumps on pasture land upon which there is no standing timber or brush, is received, in which you ask whether in the opinion of this office it is necessary for the owner of such pasture land to take out a fire permit before setting out fire to such logs or stumps. Section 5 of chapter 227 of the Laws of 1905, found at page 399 of said laws, contains the requirements for obtaining a fire permit before setting out fire, and it seems to me that the case you mention does not come within the requirements of said section. You do not state in your letter whether the lands upon which the stumps and logs are proposed to be burned are contiguous to grain fields, but supposing it is not, I am of the opinion that a fire permit is not necessary in such a case." *

The opera house was packed Friday evening by patrons and friends of the public school, who had taken a lively interest in the high school and the pupils who were to graduate that evening from the eighth and high school grades. The program was nicely arranged with music by Jenkins' orchestra and vocal music by pupils of the school, all of which were nicely rendered. The salutatory by Miss Ella J. Hays, whose subject was "The Influence of the Idea," was well spoken and received a well merited applause. The orations by Whitman Lamb, "Applied Science"; Howard Drew, "Education, the Chief Function of Government," and Miss Grace Whitehouse, "Strength Through Opposition," were also good and received the plaudits of the audience. The valedictory by George H. Gobar, the subject of whose oration was "Should the Majority Rule?" showed his ability as an orator, and as the subject matter of his oration was somewhat readily understood by the audience, he carried off the laurels of the evening. Prof. E. H. Whitney addressed the class, making some appropriate remarks, as did also Mr. H. T. Botts, member of the board, in presenting the diplomas to the high school graduates and the graduates from the eighth grade. The latter was composed of: Elmer Allen, Clarence Stanley, Elza Dawson, Gladys Beals, Lillie Anderson, Irah Quick, Robert Hays, Cloyd Dawson, Robert Stillwell, Carl Dawson, Theodore Finney and Hugh Barber. Each of the graduates were the recipients of a large number of beautiful flowers, after which the audience congratulated them. *

Sore Muscles.
Prominent athletes throughout the country find that the best treatment for sore muscles after severe exercise or hard work of any kind, is a hot bath at bed time, which opens the pores. This should immediately be followed with an application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm vigorously rubbed into the skin. This liniment removes all stiffness and soreness and has become a favorite rub down, as it acts promptly and keeps the muscles in excellent condition. For sale by Chas. I. Clough's Drug Store. *
ABOUT FARM MACHINERY.
McCormick's and Osborne's are the Best and Cheapest.
You don't want a rake that is weak in the head and weak in the joints or that has faulty teeth do you? Well, better buy a McCormick or Osborne and take no chances. *
A telephone connection with all the world's wheat fields would enable one to hear McCormick and Osborne machines at work continuously from January 1st to December 31st. *
A McCormick knife grinder will sharpen any thing from a pair of scissors to a mowing knife. *
A fool and his money are soon parted. Buy a McCormick and don't part with your money for repairs on your mowers. *
A successful farmer is a practical one who thinks out his work and then works out his thoughts. *
McCormick and Osborne machines might well be indorsed by the humane society—they are so easy on the horses. *
McCormick and Osborne machines have been tested through seventy-four harvests and have grown in favor through each one. *
McCormick levers are always within reach; a fact which every farmer appreciates. *
McCormick's and Osborne's world-wide reputation is not the result of accident—it is the reward of merit. *
Like the town cries of old, the farmers sing out the praises of McCormick and Osborne machines until they are known wherever grain is grown. *
Now is the time to get your machine oil and extras.—B. O. SUFFER, Agent. *
