When your banker sends you a notice that your note is due, don't get mad and go off and growl to your neighbor, or go to another bank and borrow the money to pay him, expecting later to borrow from No. 1 to pay No. 2. If you cannot pay, an explanation of the circumstances is all that is usually necessary to effect a renewal or an extension.

The Netarts pugilistic scrape occupied the attention of Justice White and a jury Tuesday afternoon in this city. G. W. Coffman had sworn out complaints against M. J. Cone and Mrs. Cone for assault and battery. Deputy District Attorney withdrew the case against M. J. Cone and that against Mrs. Cone went to trial. Coffman described the trouncing he received at the hands of Mrs. Cone, that it came so thick and fast that after the first few blows he hardly knew what was happening. However, when the female pugilist let up, Coffman had two black goggles and was somewhat used up and decided the second round should be in the justice court. The defence tried to prove that Coffman was the cause of the fracas, but after Mrs. Cone admitted on the stand that she had fistified Coffman, the jury brought in a verdict against Mrs. Cone and the justice fined her $10.

His first wife died in 1870, to whom he was married when 22 years of age and had four children, viz., Ed. Woods, of Burlington, Iowa; Angeline Woods, of Nashua, New Hampshire; Julia Woods, of Omaha, Neb.; and W. M. Woods, of this city. Date of Land Fraud Trial is Set.

Judge Hunt has set the date for the alleged Tillamook land fraud trial for the 16th of August to come up in the federal court, the defendants in the case being Claude Thayer, Clark E. Hadley, Maurice Leach, Walter J. Smith (since deceased), Thomas Coates, Chas. E. Hays, John Tuttle and G. O. Nolan. The indictment against Smith was dismissed on motion of Mr. Hency and Hays filed a motion for a separate trial.

That John H. Hall, when United States District Attorney, told a Federal Grand Jury that the statute of limitations had run against Claude Thayer and other Tillamook parties, and thus dissuaded the grand jury from indicting them, came out during the argument for a separate trial, which was asked for on the ground that Hays was not connected with the conspiracy, but that he had exposed the plot several years ago. Mr. Hency said the case had been taken before the grand jury before, but that the interests of the defendants were, he thought, protected from the District Attorney's office, and no indictment was returned.

Colonel A. R. Green placed the case before the Grand Jury on information given by Hays, but no indictment came of it, and it is said that three of the jurors made affidavit that Hall told them that the statute of limitations had run. Three years later Mr. Hency, as District Attorney, took the case before a Grand Jury and procured indictments.

The motion in the Hays case was allowed to stand over until Mr. Hency had time to look closer into the evidence.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure not known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

We wonder how that fatherless committee we mentioned last week is getting along with the baby show for the fair?

We do like something artistic, pretty and neat. But, holy Moses, that physiognomy on the button is enough to give Tillamookers the jaundice and would scare a yellow dog.

The first offence in Yamhill County under the local option law was tried on Tuesday at Newberg and the fine imposed upon Ed. Kinney was $250 and 20 days in jail. How's that for getting in money?

Probably the best thing to do, owing to the friction and butting in amongst the local people, is to quit talking about securing rights of way for a railroad, especially as nobody appears to know where they are at.

Senator Fulton says Secretary Hitchcock is in his dotage and this has raised the wool on the letter's cranium and his indignation as well. What he intends to do to Fulton no one knows, but, really, gentlemen, wouldn't it be better to kiss and make up?

Is the committee on pamphlet going to steal another man's designs and then get the work done in Portland? It looks that way. Oh, yes, patronize home industry and home merchants, is what the newspaper men are advised to preach in season and out of season and from the 1st January until the end of December. Let those who want to patronize other towns go on record. So we'll hold our whist for a while.

One of the peddlers who came in on the steamer said Tillamook was the hardest place to do business that he had struck anywhere for a long time, and he claimed to be a crackerjack in his line. Previous to this most of the peddlers have said Tillamookers were "easy" and they could sell them stoves, sewing machines, etc., which they could buy at the stores for much less money. It is to be hoped that the people of the county are getting "next."

To pick upon and blame Supt. Wiley for the mistakes made in counting the votes at the recent election goes to show that our contemporary is trying to rub it in to Mr. Wiley. Eight precincts made mistakes, involving 48 persons, and to pick onto one person in particular and not onto the others is unfair criticism, but it is characteristic of the persons who are allowed to run that paper. It was unfortunate that the mistakes were made, but we do not believe any of the judges and clerks of election did so intentionally, hence why is it that Rollie is "beefing" about Wiley, who until recently seemed to be such good friends?

After going the gait of a millionaire with his little "Honk! Honk! Honk!" and his big "Honk! Honk! Honk!" the editor of our contemporary returned to the city last week Big-Honk Less. It is really too bad, after talking a blue streak for the past six months about a automobile line between this city and Sheridan that it should all end up in "hot air." We are sorry it could not be made a go, but don't "Honk" so loud on "hot air" another time, Rollie. "Honk! Honk!" to the de-honked auto line. "Honk!" It has given up the ghost. We mean the third "Honk" that balked twice between Portland and Forest Grove. Please do not say "Honk" to the promoter of the honks line.

If there's going to be a bill prepared to curtail the expenses of candidates who run for office, by all means stop treating and such like methods of bribery and corruption. We noticed a few weeks since in England that a member was deprived of his seat in the house of commons because he gave a garden party to his friend when he was a candidate. It may not be necessary to be so exacting in this country, but where a person can procure an office by the lavish expenditure of money, we say give the person with limited means a show also and put them both on an equal footing in the expenditure of money. It is no new thing to be told that after running for office in Oregon, that a candidate went broke, and the gait set by others was what did it.

Before the county court made any appointment for janitor for the new court house, it seemed to be the opinion of the court that a few dollars difference in the wages of those who wanted the job did not cut much figure, for they wanted a man who was able-bodied and capable of keeping the building clean and in good shape, who would put in his whole time. As W. D. Bodvfelt had worked on the building and had an excellent recommendation from Mr. Snook, he was appointed because he was thought to be the most suitable and active person to do the work. What Rollie has to "knock" about is hard to tell, since he appears to be in a "knocking" mood as he could not be mayor, could make the voters take Oak for county judge and could get one person to bite at the auto line.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

During the summer months children are subject to disorders of the bowels which should receive careful attention as soon as the first unnatural looseness of the bowels appears. The best medicine in use for bowel complaint is Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as it promptly controls any unnatural looseness of the bowels, whether it be in a child or an adult. A flood in a town in central New York filled the streets with carp weighing from 3 to 30 pounds each. This looks like luck, but some of the citizens are mad because they failed to get trout.

After a journey of more than six months the dry dock Dewey has arrived at Manila, having been towed from Baltimore. All is over except the shouting when Uncle Sam sees the bill.

A few days ago the health authorities in Philadelphia pounced upon 16,500 pounds of decayed sea fish just as the owners were about to freeze it for sale. The pure food crusade is no idle fad.

After sampling all of the European climates John D. Rockefeller has found an ideal spot in France where the air is spiky with the scent of white strawberries and the daily expense bill can be offset with a couple of gallons of crude petroleum.

CLOUGH'S PLAIN TEAT BISTOURY

For Cutting Obstructed Teats.

Illustration shows instrument both open for cutting and closed for inserting. This obstruction may be a stricture or other growth of a tumorous nature, which is often the result of the bite of a dog, a kick or a bruise caused by going over a fence or through a dense underbrush; or the cow may have had some trouble with that quarter of her bag, and in milking and forcing the thickly curdled milk out, a small rupture had resulted, so that when the scar tissue healed, the opening became smaller.

I also carry of German silver milking tubes, four different lengths.
