Resolutions.

To the Knights of Pythias, of Marathon Lodge, No. 89, Tillamook, Oregon: We, your committee on Necrology, to whom was referred the matter of presenting resolutions on the death of our brother, W. J. Smith, respectfully submit the following, to-wit: Whereas, on the 23rd of June, in the early morning, the angel of death entered the home of our beloved brother, W. J. Smith, and departed with his spirit to the unknown land; Be it resolved, that we deeply sympathize with his family, and that we would do all in our power to help them bear their sorrow; Be it further resolved, that a page of our journal be appropriated for the purpose of perpetuating the name and memory of our Brother. Fraternally submitted in F. C. & B. Geo. F. Zimmerman, P. L. Sappington, A. W. Plank, Committee.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt the gun would accomplish. The result of trial was therefore a great surprise, instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users claim, in that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. COLLAPSES ON WAY TO WEDDING.

Guests Wait in Vain for Bridegroom at Sellwood Home.

Constant watching at the bedside of a dying brother and his critically ill mother for more than a week, practically without rest, sleep or food, was too much for E. F. Cornett, a sawmill man of Boring, and while on his way to catch a train for Sellwood, where he was to marry Miss Ada L. Baldwin, last night, he collapsed, and had to be carried back to his home, and the wedding has been postponed. That he made every endeavor to meet the engagement at the appointed hour is shown in some of the events leading up to his sudden collapse. Cornett's brother, Al Tillamook, had been ill for some time, and for the past week his condition became more serious, but Monday afternoon a change for the better came, and so the prospective bridegroom secured a horse and rode to Forest Grove, a distance of nearly 60 miles, in order to catch the first train to Portland. Arriving here yesterday morning, he hastened to Sellwood to participate in the preparations for the wedding that were being made at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Baldwin, 621 Lexington avenue.

It was while there that he received a telegram from Tillamook announcing the death of his brother. Though stunned by the unexpected news he hired an automobile and drove at once to Boring, and then to Estacada, to get his wedding outfit and the best man. He returned to Boring, and his family noticed that he was nervous and worried, but he said that he felt all right. A few minutes later he was picked up unconscious and taken to his home, and placed under a physician's care.

It was 10 o'clock in the evening before Cornett's sister could get Sellwood by long-distance telephone and explain to the waiting bride and guests the cause of her brother's failure to appear.

Meanwhile all the details for the wedding had been arranged. The house was festooned with palms, flowers and electric lights, while a beautiful floral and foliage archway had been erected in the parlor, beneath which the young couple were to be pronounced man and wife. The guests to the number of nearly 100 and the minister, Rev. Dana A. Thompson, pastor of the Sellwood Presbyterian Church, were there. The wedding dinner was ready and scores of beautiful gifts were displayed on a large table in the sitting room.

Everything was ready, but the bridegroom did not come.

When the telephone message was received and the bridegroom's illness explained to the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin turned the wedding party into an informal reception for the intended bride, their daughter.

Mr. Baldwin stated that the wedding would take place as soon as his son-in-law-to-be has recovered.—Telegram.

Cured a Comrade of Cholera Morbus and Saved His Life.

While returning from the Grand Army Encampment at Washington City, a comrade from Elgin, Ill., was taken with cholera morbus and was in a critical condition," says Mr. J. E. Houghland, of Elgin, Iowa. "I gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and believe saved his life. I have been engaged for ten years in immigration work and conducted many parties to the south and west. I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions. No person traveling or at home should be without this remedy." For sale by Chas. L. Clough's Drug Store.
