

Editorial Snap Shots.

Size up a man's character and it is easy to tell what he will do under certain circumstances.

The editor of our esteemed contemporary has gone to the beach to recruit his health. Any "blind pigs" in your tent this summer, Rollie?

Those land fraud conspirators whom F. J. Heney is tickling up appears to be headed, not for the woods, but are making arrangement to take board and lodgings at Uncle Sam's hostelry.

The next time we see a Tillamook attorney in court with his nasal organ all smeared over and indelibly beautified, it will be proper to ask the judge whether that is not contempt of court.

Attorney Pipes told us that if ever he had an editor up for murder he would do his level best to hang him. This is right. But the newspapers will, as usual, be the first jury to try the case because the attorneys and courts are too slow for this age of the world.

One newspaper man, Charles Nichell, of Jacksonville, and editor of the Democratic Times, has been sentenced to 13 months in jail for some crooked business while acting as land commissioner. The muck rake don't even exempt newspaper men, but we are sorry for Charley, for he was a congenial sort of a fellow.

The toll road question has bobbed up again. There is but one way to settle it, and settle it right, and that is to make all roads free and in this way open up the county, for we don't think Tillamookers are half civilized that they have to be shut in and bottled up behind toll gates. The toll road people are not in the toll road business for their health, but as long as they can persuade Tillamookers that they are half crazy, the toll road "grat" will continue.

There appears to be trouble brewing again on account of a number of settlers on the Wilson river tearing out the toll gate recently erected by John McNamer. This is the second time the gate has been torn down, so it begins to look as if something will pop before long so as to bring that illegal contract more prominently before the people. Is it going to be another case of persecution, the same as in the Conder-Thayer 40 per cent. persecution cases?

Rollie says: "The Tillamook Herald is a newspaper, not an organ." As usual, he is honking again. As Rollie swiped the whole of the report of four and a half days proceedings of the Hembree trial from the Headlight and republished it on the first page of the Herald, Rollie would have come near telling the truth if he had said the Herald was a "Second Hand" Organ. Honk! And here is another proof of it. When the news of the murder was first published Rollie copied the Oregonian's report, which was written by the Headlight man.

The Alderman bondsmen are not worrying. If the past is any criterion to go by, the whole thing will be outlawed before the attorneys for the county get into court, unless they look after the county's interest better in the future than they have in the past. We do not know what the people of the county think about it, but it looks exceedingly peculiar and suspicious to us that in the space of two and a half years the case is not in court yet. Well enough might we ask again where is the county at, for it looks at present that the county will recover little or nothing of the Alderman shortage on account of the Conder-Thayer contract.

We have been frequently accused of unjust criticism, especially in the heat of a political campaign. It depends upon whose ox is being criticized. If it is the other fellow who is getting gored, why, that is right, but when it strikes home, why, that is a cat of another color. But the Headlight is going to criticize, no matter who it may offend or who it may please. It was legitimate criticism when we pointed out to the taxpayers previous the election that Sheriff Woolfe had been drawing extra pay for making arrests, which he was not legally entitled to. We think we are justified in making another criticism, and, from a newspaper's standpoint, it is proper that we should do so. Without any further comment, we wish to point out the glaring difference there is in the expenses of taking Hembree to or from McMinnville:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes Sheriff Woolfe's expense bill ($20.00), Sheriff Crenshaw's expense bill ($16.00), Sheriff Woolfe's expenses ($30.00), Deputy Sheriff ($18.00), Total ($68.00).

When a young man begins to make regular visits to a girl, how it would knock out the romance if it were said that he was calling on her to make arrangements for hiring a cook.—Acheson Globe.

What is best to do with the Hembree case? To answer that question from a public point of view, if Hembree is guilty of murdering his daughter, and there don't appear to be any doubt about that in Tillamook, then he is also guilty of murdering his wife. As he was only charged with murdering his wife in the recent trial, does not justice demand that he now be charged with murdering his wife? Justice and public safety demand it, no matter what the cost may be, for if murderers cannot get their just deserts after a fair trial, what is the use of arresting them, anyway, and then turning them loose.

Pointed Paragraphs. No man is as dangerous as his threats. When some men have nothing to do they become reformers. If a man asks a candid opinion from a friend and gets it, it makes him mad. Some people invariably get the worst of it, because they are always demanding the best of it. As soon as a man gets a notion that his employer can't get along without him he is getting ready to lose his job. There is always the danger that every man will become the hired man and every mother the hired girl to their family. When a young man begins to make regular visits to a girl, how it would knock out the romance if it were said that he was calling on her to make arrangements for hiring a cook.—Acheson Globe.

BELSHAZZAR.

A Sacred Opera in Five Acts.

For the past three weeks the singers of Tillamook have been drilling hard on the sacred opera of Belshazzar, under the master hand of Prof. M. E. Robinson, of Chicago.

The marvel of it all is, that amateur singers can, in so short a time, be taught to sing and act their parts like professionals and yet this is true. Much latent talent will be brought out in this production, of which the general public had little or no knowledge of. In this respect the work of Heritage and Robinson will be a great musical uplift for the little city by the sea.

Belshazzar will be the best and most elaborately staged musical production ever given in Tillamook. The stage will be entirely changed by draperies, rugs and Oriental settings so as to represent the King's luxurious court in old Babylon. Each soloist and every member of the chorus will be costumed accurately in old Oriental style.

The various soloists have their parts well learned, but it is the chorus that is doing such wonderfully good work, the Crescendos and Diminuendos, the light and shade, all is splendidly done. From the hilarious Bacchanalian revel to the terrible chorus of fear when the hand-writing appears on the wall, the work of the chorus is perfect and shows what complete mastery Prof. Robinson has over the singers at all time.

This magnificent musical production will be given at the Opera House next Friday and Saturday evenings. Tickets are now on sale at Clough's Drug Store. Better secure tickets at once and get first choice of seats. The following is a complete list of the singers who take part in the rendition of Belshazzar.
