

Editorial Snap Shots.

Railroad projects into Tillamook are getting so numerous they will be as thick as the bristles on a hog's back presently. Next, please.

We hope the next time that Mr. Lytle, Dr. Tamiesie and others come to Tillamook they won't hoodoo the weather, for it rained every day they were here. Don't let it happen again, gentlemen.

It is perfectly in order to ask the Bay City Land Company when its proposed railroad will be in operation, for we beg to call attention to the fact that that is one of the things it has said not a word about.

The Oregon Press Association will hold its annual meeting at Newport on Sept. 22nd, 23rd and 24th. Wouldn't it be a good idea for the Tillamook Development League to invite the editors to Tillamook next year.

Talk about rough on rats, Francis J. Heny appears to be rough on Oregon attorneys who were in the habit of making Fourth of July orations and extol the government and the Stars and Stripes, but at the same time the rascals were in a conspiracy to deprive Uncle Sam of the public domain. That is what they called, no doubt, Spread Eagle patriotism.

The only "knocker" that we know of who is knocking about the fair is the Yamhill Goose Kid who runs the Cloverdale paper. But, then, he's only another little pup being used by the original rule or ruin knockers in this city, and having squeezed his little tail, of course, the pup has to yelp. We suggest to the executive committee that a premium badge be sent to the little pup for being the smallest pup knocker in the county.

Tillamook County, although reported to be "dead" on account of voting saloons out of its territory, has succeeded in carrying out a fair that would be a credit to a much more populous county. From all reports, after two years trial of prohibition, the county is advancing more rapidly than any other county in the state in proportion to its assessed valuation. This another spike has been driven in the liquor men's cannon.—N. Yamhill Record.

We would like to inform the Record that there is nothing dead about Tillamook. The only dead 'uns that we know of are the capitalists and business men of Portland who haven't tapped this county with a railroad.

"One man killed, another dying and three more or less seriously injured is the result of a shooting affray which took place in the saloon of William Murphy, at St. Paul, in Marion county, the outcome of a drunken brawl," was a news item this week, yet some people are so blind that they say saloons are a good thing for a town. Yes, for thieves, dead beats, crooks, murderers and born drunks to congregate, plot and conspire against respectable and law abiding citizens. It would not surprise us very much to see Marion county go "dry" at the next election and join the Oregon Dry County Brigade, for it is incidents like the above which created such a public sentiment against saloons in other counties.

No man's character is safe, no institution is safe, when men of Hembree's character premeditate and plan to place upon others foul crimes which they are not guilty of. Why did Hembree ask a doctor to perform an abortion? Any way, what would Hembree have cared if he could have blamed his daughter's condition upon some public man or innocent young man and made it stick? Failing in that, he was that low, blood-thirsty and cold-blooded, the life of his daughter and that of his wife had to be sacrificed because Hembree could not fasten the unnatural crime he had committed upon others. And yet this is the man whom an effort was made to turn loose to, probably, commit a worse crime, if it was possible to find a more revolting crime than that which Hembree stands convicted.

The people of Tillamook county ought to extend the glad hand to Mr. Lytle and his party, who are here looking over the country, for they are about the only live railroad men who visited us in recent years. Heaven knows we have had legions of railroad men who were going to give Tillamook railroad connections, but when they found they could not do so with "hot air" and shooting off their mouths, they soon dropped out of sight. We greet and welcome Mr. Lytle and his party to Tillamook, with the hope that their railroad will tap this county next year. There is plenty of room for both Mr. Hammond and Mr. Lytle in Tillamook, for no one railroad can expect to handle the enormous amount of tonnage that will go out of Tillamook whenever transportation is available. A bird's eye view of the resources of Tillamook county shows that it is going to be a regular gold mine to the railroads.

The application of the Bay City Land Company for rights to use the county roads and to use them for railroad purposes with a perpetual franchise, is something that is going to cause discussion and some amount of antagonism until the proposition is more fully explained and the details understood. Every encouragement should be given any company to construct rail and electric roads in the county, but to use the public highways and to give perpetual rights, to our way of thinking, is something that the county court should well consider before it undertakes to give away the people's rights. Although there are some objections to steam engines and cars running at a high rate of speed on the public highway, but very little objection is raised to electric cars, provided there are good roads either side of the rails. It is to be hoped, however, that should the county court eventually agree to permit steam or electric lines to build on the public highways that it be stipulated that the rails be laid one side and not in the middle of the road, that the road be graded at least 60ft. wide and gravelled and kept in repair by the company using it. These and other details the county court will have to consider to safeguard the people's rights, for the only roads that the people of Tillamook have had to contend with are the roads and bridges that they have built themselves and go down in their jeans every year to maintain, therefore, we say, Guard well the people's interest, who, after years of toil and expense have built the roads, and don't give away a valuable franchise without some amount of compensation every year.

Big Tidal Waves.

Those who see the rise and fall of the tides in our Atlantic harbors seldom think of the wonderful course of the ocean waves, which cause the tidal flow and reflux. Such billows not only cross the sea, but flow from ocean to ocean, and in this way complicated movements are set going.

Thus, for instance, once in every twelve hours the moon raises a tide bulge in the southern Indian ocean. When this bulge passes the cape of Good Hope, at noon, its successor is already born, and the Azores islands, at midnight, the second is rounding the cape, and a third has come into existence in the southern ocean. By 4 o'clock in the morning following its passage of the cape the tide bulge reaches the English channel, and there the shallow waters delay it so much that it does not arrive at the straits of Dover until 10 a.m. Here the narrowing channel causes the tide to rise very high and almost puts an end to the wave.

In the meantime another branch of the billow runs around the western side of the British islands, rounds the north point of Scotland, and moves slowly down the eastern coast of England until it finally flows up the Thames and laps the wharves of London.

Tillamook Ferry for Sale.

I have three acres, with new boat and cable dock and privilege of ferry land on the opposite side of the river; also 10 acres of land on the opposite side of the river, with house and barn on the same land and four acres under dyke, which yielded this year 12 ton of hay. J. F. TOMLINSON.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best Tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by Chas. I. Clough, Druggist.

Since the latest big earthquake on the western coast of South America some remarkable changes in the oil fields of Texas have been noticed, which are attributed to the seismic disturbance. New subterranean channels have been opened and the wells 100 miles from the coast are not expected to last long. Also the quality of the oil has changed in some places, a very light oil having replaced the crude.

A new census bulletin shows that the number of manufacturing establishments in this country increased only 4 per cent from 1900 to 1904, while the capital increased 41 per cent. An interesting comparison is made between the iron industry in this country and England. Although England has 362 furnaces at work and the United States 323, still almost half as much more product is credited to the American industry. Another economic effect is said to be the studying of prices.

Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested sources. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids do not rest solely upon their makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken to Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Govey Cox, of New York; Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prostrates, anteversion and retroversion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, drives up disordered and weakening drains, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the Favorite Prescription of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidently tells his patients just what his "Prescription" is composed of, and other medicines put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guided by a strictly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 25 cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 31 stamps. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.

CLOUGH'S PLAIN TEAT BISTOURY

For Cutting Obstructed Teats.

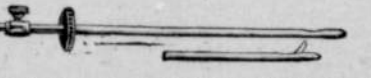

Illustration shows instrument both open for cutting and closed for inserting.

This obstruction may be a stricture or other growth of a tumorous nature, which is often the result of the bite of a dog, a kick or a bruise caused by going over a fence or through a dense underbrush; or the cow may have had some trouble with that quarter of her bag, and in milking and forcing the thickly curdled milk out, a small rupture had resulted, so that when the scar tissue formed, the opening became smaller. I also carry of German silver milking tubes, four different lengths. Improved Instruments for opening obstructed teats without cutting. Feed Probes or Sounds.
