The Tillamook Headlight.
Fred C. Baker, Publisher.

On to Tillamook.

Some years ago, President A. B. Hammond, of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad Company, made a deliberate statement, in this city, that "that railway line would be the first to enter the Tillamook country," and the news of the hour is in direct conformity with that declaration.

It is good news for Tillamook county, and as good for Astoria. It means a vast deal for the state and all its northwestern communities, since it will open up to quick communication limitless resources hitherto submerged and unapproachable. There is a veritable world of magnificent timber involved in the exploitation of that section, aside from the establishment of daily markets for the cultivated staples and products of the immense farm districts of Tillamook and the intervening country.

Now that the assurance has gone forth in this behalf, we, of Clatsop, with a warm Tillamookian leaning of the purpose, hope the inauguration of the extension of the "A. & C." will not be deferred until the encouraging prospect is once again lost in the maze of time, inertia and silence. We hope the word of this capable man will be fortified and proven by the early commencement of the work, and that the dawn of the new year will see the venture so far along as to preclude another instant of doubt or foreboding.

It is an initiative carrying huge possibilities with it, and the period of disappointment has been so long drawn out that the first tangible sign of the railway will be hailed with genuine and unalloyed satisfaction, not only here, but in Tillamook county, where the hunger and thirst for that lively touch of intercommunication with the outer world is intense.

Mr. Hammond has said the word, and that word should mean much and does mean much, the only thing now wanted is the outward and visible sign of the actual launching of the scheme.—Astorian.

Can Eyes Be Believed?

Prof. Claparede, of a Swiss university recently asked a class of fifty-four students eight simple questions concerning the rooms they daily visited at the school. "Are the columns in the vestibule round or square?" "Is there a window facing the doorkeeper's box?" "Is the ceiling in the large amphitheater plain or decorated?" and so on.

Forty-five of the fifty-four students declared there was no window at all; eight remembered that there was a window, but each and all attributed a wrong situation to it; one, more sincere than his fellows, candidly owned that he had not the least idea whether there was a window or not. As regards the shape of the columns in the vestibule, only six answers were correct, declares a writer in the Grand Magazine.

By way of continuing the experiment, one day a man conspicuously costumed suddenly burst into the classroom, where he performed certain antics and uttered certain emphatic phrases prearranged with the professor. He was then thrust out of the door as if had been an ordinary unauthorized intruder. Here was a scene eminently calculated by reason of its strangeness and unexpectedness to impress the imagination of the students.

A few days later, on some pretext or other, Prof. Claparede asked his pupils to describe to the best of their recollections the person and acts of the masked man. Out of the twenty-four students who had been present on the occasion only four described the man accurately. The rest either admitted that their recollection of the scene was absolutely at fault or gave such a description that it might have applied to anybody rather than the correct person.

A divorced Illinois woman has become the cook of the woman who succeeded her as a wife. Now find the boss in the family.

Many things may happen in politics before 1908, and be laid away on the shelf beside the Bailey boom, which has suddenly collapsed.

Several American towns this year have had a plague of fleas, but this is not what the trade journals mean when they say things are on the jump.

It takes the world a long time to learn that the vapor of benzene and gasoline is as dangerous and deadly as gunpowder.

A man in New York who pulled one of his own teeth with a pair of pliers has died from the effects of the operation. The pliers self-treatment should not be allowed to spread.

In the legal investigation of trusts and monopolies a system of rebates is almost invariably uncovered. And yet giving rebates is a crime clearly defined by the laws of the country.

The democratic radical candidate for governor in Massachusetts has a fierce look and a tumbled shock of hair, and the conservative democrats are not as yet rushing for buttons.

The law punishes the guilty; the mob slaughters the innocent and claims that this is the best way to overawe the criminal. The place for that notion of justice is the insane asylum.

San Francisco is planning to get a water supply for the Sierras. Between the mountains and the Pacific ocean the city should escape a waterless condition in any future conflagration.

An artless contemporary says Secretary Shaw will not rank high as a treasury chief because "he has had no serious problems on his hands as secretary; everything has run along smoothly; there have been no panics, and only slight disturbances of the money market now and then." This indictment for lack of brilliancy might be adopted as the paramount issue against the republican party. "We denounce the republicans for monotonous prosperity and failure to demonstrate in the last ten years that they can handle a panic," would be a fitting plank to go with the arraignment of Secretary Shaw as one who "seems to have little capacity for real statesmanship." What, call Shaw a statesman! He has been at the head of the treasury for years and hasn't had 'ary panic! A sad defect from the democratic point of view.

Speaker Cannon says the democratic campaign text book for 1906 has "lied" about him. Of course it has. It has lied about the president and nearly every other republican leader whom it has mentioned. This is what Roosevelt, Cannon and the rest of the republican chieftains ought to have expected. If the democratic text-book told the truth it would send hundreds of thousands of democratic voters over to the republican party. This was no part of the plan of the democratic campaign managers. The men who compiled the democratic text-book were paid for misrepresenting republican history and telling falsehoods about the republican party's present policy and about the record and aims of its leaders. A glance over the book will show that these hired prevaricators earned their money. Whatever pay was promised them by Chairman Griggs for lying ought to be given to them promptly.

Prof. C. Mohr, of Hahnemann College, Philadelphia, says: Excessive use of tobacco, especially in the form of cigarettes, dulls the intellect, impairs nutrition, seriously affects the eyes, causes functional and organic heart disease, and in other ways contributes to physical and mental degeneracy. Boys who smoke cigarettes much are prodigious liars and thieves, have been found unmanageable at home and at school, the judges of the juvenile courts have declared that "of the incorrigible and criminal class of boys, not a boy has been found who did not use cigarettes." During the past decade the habit of cigarette smoking, especially by boys and young men before the age of maturity, has given rise to so many cases of chronic tobacco poisoning as to cause legislatures to enact laws preventing their sale to the youthful. Usually and unfortunately, many young adults who use tobacco excessively also indulge in alcohol, and in these subjects the use of both poisons often produces atrophy of the optic nerve or retina and other evils.

Letters and dispatches from Atlanta, Ga., all indicate that the better class of citizens are thoroughly aroused to the enormity of the offense against law and humanity contained in the recent negro massacre. Sam Jones, leader of the citizens' committee, says the people are condemning in unmeasured terms the murdering of innocent negroes. At the Chamber of Commerce meeting resolutions condemning the mob's acts were unanimously adopted. And steps were taken to relieve the bereaved. Governor-elect Smith says that the assaults by the negroes were exaggerated, as were also the stories of the massacre. Editor Howell of the Constitution declares that mob law is never justifiable. The grand jury made a presentment, declaring that the manner in which the afternoon newspapers of Atlanta had presented the various criminal acts of negroes was largely responsible for the mob outbreak, mentioning particularly the Atlanta News. A suppression of such methods is suggested. The fact remains that the Atlanta mobs did not kill one of the perpetrators of the alleged crimes, and most of those who were killed were colored men of good reputation. The commercial aspect of the colored workmen stayed at home or left the city in large numbers. Factories were shut down and many commercial houses were seriously handicapped. Thus it brought a realization of the large power the negro is now playing in southern industries. It was noticeable, however, that the mobs were composed almost entirely of working class whites, notwithstanding that it is customary for white and black laborers to work side by side. The cause of this is conscious or unconscious trade jealousy. Another result of the trouble was the complete shutting up of drinking places, the object being to prevent the sale of liquor to all negroes. New licenses will be issued only to white men, who will not sell to colored men.

Sam Jones Dies Suddenly.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 15.—Rev. Sam P. Jones, the well-known evangelist, of Cartersville, Ga., died early today of heart failure in a sleeping car on train No. 4 of the Rock Island Railroad near Perry, Ark. Mr. Jones had been conducting a most successful revival at Oklahoma City, Okla., and left there last night for his home in Georgia. He decided to attend a family re-union, it being the fifty-ninth anniversary of his birth. Mrs. Jones and his daughters, Mrs. Annie Pyron and Miss Julia Jones, were with him when he passed away.

Mr. Jones arose from his berth about 5 o'clock this morning and complained of sickness in his stomach. He drank a glass of hot water and immediately afterward collapsed. Rev. Walt Holcomb, who had been associated with Mr. Jones for a number of years, took the dying man in his arms and in a few minutes the evangelist expired.

The body has been embalmed and was shipped to Cartersville this evening, where interment will be held. The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. George Stuart, Rev. J. A. Bowen, of Mississippi, and Rev. Walt Holcomb.

Academy Snap Shots.

The higher class in English at the Academy intend to keep their friends well informed of what takes place at that institution through the columns of the Headlight.

Monday morning a few were found to be absent on account of sickness. There were, however, three new pupils; namely Anna Fitzpatrick and her two brothers, John and Paul, who came back from the hop-yards a week ago Sunday.

Rev. Father Le Miller gave the pupils of the Academy a very pleasant talk on Friday last. He suggested that the girls have some games to play during recess and the noon hour. He also said it would be nice to have a croquet set, so the girls are now taking up a collection, and will soon have their set ready for use. Miss Bessie Terwilliger is our cashier during the collection.

Miss Theresa Durrer, who has been sick for the past week, is back to school again.

The pupils of the Academy were very glad to hear that Joseph Gupit had returned, but their joy was soon turned into grief when they heard that he came to take his mother and sister out.

The Sisters are having the front yard sown with lawn grass seed. Mr. Collins is trimming the trees.

Five of the pupils will try to get diplomas in the Palauer method of business writing this year.

Last Wednesday, Bessie Terwilliger seemed quite worried over the illness of one of her pet kittens. She was inquiring among the girls as to who was a good cat-doctor, and spoke of sending for some medicine. The kitten is better now, and so are Miss Bessie's spirits.

Some of the girls think a good deal of their dolls, for they bring them to school with them.

Friday, we had quite an enthusiastic spelling match. School closed with a visit from Rev. Father Le Miller.

NEHALEM.

Born, Oct. 4, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crane, a girl.

The fishermen are on a limit and are obliged to throw lots of fine fish overboard. Private ownership exemplified.

Hammond's railroad surveyors moved in and camped at E. H. Lane's place Thursday.

Gus Ludtke has gone to California for his health, having come down with consumption.

School started up in the Sandhill district, Oct. 15, with Miss Nordhausen the teacher.

W. Reddaway is home from the Columbia river.

It would be very little trouble for the Della or any other boat that would carry freight to Nehalem to get a two year's contract. Nehalem is feeling the iron hand of private ownership and oppression in having to haul its goods to and from Bay City at an enormous expense and then ship on the company's boat that is supposed to be carrying freight to and from Nehalem. The head of the boat company is a devout Methodist. [Cheer up, Nehalem, Lytle and Hammond will queer this state of affairs in a year or so, then watch Nehalem grow and crow.—Ed.]

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an anti-septic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by Chas. I. Clough's Drug Store.

A Wonderful Record.

As made up by improved and exact processes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. It cures the headache, periodical headaches, the dragging-down distress in the pelvic region, the pain and tenderness over lower abdominal region, dries up the pelvic catarrhal drain, so disagreeable and weakening, and overcomes every form of weakness incident to the organ; distinctly feminine.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, the makers of which are not afraid to print their formula on the bottle wrapper, thus taking their patrons into their full confidence. It is the only medicine for women, every ingredient of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the most eminent medical practitioners and writers of our day, recommending it for the diseases for which "Favorite Prescription" is used. It is the only pure medicine for women, sold through druggists, which does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, so harmful in the long run, especially to delicate women. It has more genuine cures to its credit than all other medicines for women combined, having saved thousands of sufferers from the operating table and the surgeon's knife. It has restored delicate, weak women to strong and vigorous health and vitality, making motherhood possible, where there was barrenness before, thereby brightening and making happy many thousands of homes by the advent of little ones to strengthen the marital bonds and add sunshine where gloom and despondency had reigned before.
