

AN UNDER-

Priced Selling of Thanksgiving Linen.

This store has long enjoyed the reputation of being the "Linen Store" of this vicinity. Our linens are of the better sorts—the sorts that will wear, wash and satisfy—the sorts good housewives are proud to possess. We can't be fooled on linens—we can detect the chaff from the real wheat. No matter what you pay for what you buy, you obtain the best possible value for your expenditure. There's safety in buying here.

Thanksgiving is now at hand—and we—ever ready, ever willing to help our friends, announce a special selling of worthy linens—a selling of the best sorts at the prices of the other kinds.

This Thanksgiving Sale Extends to Every Department.

Linens aren't the only line of merchandise people will busy themselves with. Other needs crop out before this time of reunions, feasting and good will. For Thanksgiving as for Eastertide, particular people like to come forth in New Clothes, New Hats, Furs, Garments, Gloves, Waists, Fancy, good serviceable and warm, Underwear, Hosiery and Shoes.

For this reason we have arranged extra good displays of those things and priced them most agreeably.

Sale Commences Friday, Nov. 23rd, and Ends, Thursday noon, Nov. 29th.

There is hardly a day but what people come into Tillamook to look over the county for the purpose of seeing what investments they can make. That is not surprising for Tillamook is going to come out on top and is going to become a big industrial center.

Rollie swiped the whole of the circuit court's proceedings from the Headlight. We don't think we are getting a square deal, anyway, for we don't get any credit or any capital for the second hand news. Well, we're getting fat on it, and Rollie has proclaimed that he knows his business, so we'll let it go at that.

For sale, 66 acre farm on Trask River, 6 miles from Tillamook City, 30 acres of river bottom, the balance is up land, but can all be cultivated; house barn and 15 cows, price $2,250 down and $2,250 payable in five years, at Ralph Ackley's, the place to get bargains in land.

Sheriff Crenshaw left on Saturday with A. J. Hembre, the Sandlake murderer, for the state penitentiary. Hembre did not like the shackles put on his ankles when he was in the rig. He ought to be thankful that he got out of the county before the people put a noose around his neck. The sheriff took Carl Knudson as deputy and they took the prisoner out over the Wilson River road.

Married, on Wednesday, at the home of Mr. L. D. Ackley on the Wilson River, Mr. Claude S. Ackley and Miss Pearl M. Eason, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. Rev. D. L. Shrode, pastor of the M.E. church performing the ceremony at high noon. The young couple are well known in the county, with whom they are very popular, who wish them a long life of happiness. In the evening a large number of friends met to celebrate the wedding.

We move that the city council pass an ordinance, to prevent the sale of liquor and to prevent gambling, making the fine $250 for the first offence; $500 for the second offence; $750 for the third offence and $1000 for the fourth offence. It is evident that some few persons are violating the law, and as they will not become law abiding citizens and abide by the mandate of the people, radical measures ought to be taken to cure them. A little detective work would soon run the law breakers down, and heavy fines like the above would soon put the city out of debt, for we are reliably informed that the gamblers have been operating again.

Tillamook County Teachers' Annual Institute will be held in this city on the 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th December. Superintendent Wiley has secured the services of Prof. L. R. Traver, city superintendent, Pendleton; Prof. C. A. Rice, principal training department, O.S.N.S.; Prof. L. R. Alderman, county superintendent, Yamhill county, Prof. W. R. Rutherford, principal Tillamook high school; and Chas. H. Jones, editor Oregon Teachers' Monthly, for instructors. Visiting teachers will be tendered a reception by the teachers and students of the high school.
