Tillamook Headlight.

Vol. XIX. No. 27. TILLAMOOK, OREGON, DECEMBER 13, 1906. $1.50 per year.

HERE'S A STOREFUL OF SURPRISES.

When you come and see what this store holds for Christmas, chances are you'll wonder if we left any Christmas goods at all for other stores to show.

Yes, indeed, we did—but—(and this should interest you)—we searched the market as thoroughly as a broom goes through a house at house-cleaning time—sweeping together all the best that the manufacturers could produce—choosing the good, ignoring the poor or commonplace.

We bought with the intention of bringing to this store all that our most exacting customers can demand. If you wish to purchase costly gifts, they're here. And if you wise to make small sums accomplish wonders, you can surely do it here—you don't need a fat and bulgy pocketbook to shop here or to buy the finest assortments of merchandise you ever got at any Christmas time in all your life.

From the tailored garment department to the counter where little bits of things are shown, this store is crowded full of surprises.

If we can't help you solve the Christmas problem, no store in this world can—and we promise you that if you'll make a special effort to come just as soon as possible, you'll be able to purchase, for small prices, many tasteful, beautiful things that will, of course, be snapped up by eager and thoughtful buyers before the greatest holiday buying rush begins.

D. Billings came to the city on Tuesday and while here his horse became frightened at the men working on the telephone wires. The animal threw itself and broke the shaves all up, and it was only by the prompt assistance of several men that prevented a run away. The men who work on the telephone wires ought to use proper precaution to prevent a repetition of this so as to prevent a much more serious accident and suit for damages.

Wm. Dunsmoor, a groceryman located at the town of Roy, a station on the new Lytle railroad, seven miles out of Hillsboro, is prospecting in Tillamook in regard to the location of a grocery store here. While here he is the guest of Geo. F. Zimmerman, who knew him when Mr. Zimmerman was pastor of the Christian Church, at Forest Grove, Mr. Dunsmoor being a member of that congregation. Mr. Dunsmoor thinks the opportunity in Tillamook county to be brighter than in any other part of Oregon at present.

Another surveying party of the Pacific Railway & Navigation Company has put in an appearance in the vicinity of Vernonia, Columbia county, where a line has been run from a point about two miles west of Buxton. That portion of the road is to be completed and in operation by January 1, 1908, and it is proposed to push it on to Jewell, in Clatsop county, and thence to Astoria, along the Lewes and Clark river. The line from Vernonia to the main road beyond Buxton has been located, and the property owners of Vernonia have provided a right of way so construction will be begun in the spring. Work on both the Buxton and Tillamook ends is progressing, and strveyors are finishing their labors north of Tillamook, on the coast.—Hillsboro Independent.
