GORDON HATS!

There are many kinds of HATS worn by many kinds kinds of people.

But there is nothing like the GORDON HAT for style and durability.

The GORDON HAT is manufactured by Gordon and Ferguson, St. Paul, Minnesota.

The GORDON HAT sells for $3.00 everywhere, the FERGUSON $2.50, and many other cheaper grades in different brands, but all are good values for the price.

Milton, a prohibition town for the past 18 years, is making street improvements this spring which will cost about $5,000.—Journal.

We hope this won't give the rabid saloon advocate another "brain storm."

It seems that one reason why the timber men opposed the Beals timber assessment bill is because they have not a cruiser's estimate of a large part of their timber and it would force them to go to the expense of having it cruised, which, they seem to think, ought to be cruised by the county.

* * *

We would like to know by what right or authority a Tillamooker, who, it appears, went to Salem to "knock" the Beals' timber cruising assessment bill, had in saying that the citizens of Tillamook City were opposed to the measure. When a popular vote is taken on the bill, we miss our guess if the vote is not almost unanimous in Tillamook county.

* * *

It is too bad that the initiative and referendum cannot be applied to county affairs, for in that event the people could be given an opportunity whether they want antiquated toll roads in Tillamook County or not. No matter how the citizens would have voted on the toll road question, the building of rail roads into Tillamook will soon queer the toll roads and the Tillamook mossbacks as well.

The drowning of Peter Berns last week adds another to the long list of accidental drownings in this county, and with it came the usual grief and sorrow to the bereaved parents and relatives. With robust health, and with the world looking bright before him, another of our promising young men have been suddenly taken from us. And it is fitting and proper that the community should sympathise with the bereaved parents at the loss of their beloved son.

Rollie had another "brain storm" this week, and again the snap shot man is made the object of attack. Poor fellow, he is so "green" that anyone with a spleen or ax to grind can work the hot air in Rollie's cranium and bring on a "brain storm." But it is really too bad to see a young man so devoid of common sense, so we'll let it go at that, for, as usual, he didn't know what he was talking about when the "brain storm" took possession of him.

We think the county court erred in judgment when it decided to place upon the court journal the resolution, in the form in which it appears, giving its endorsement to a company of young ladies being sent to Jamestown to advertise Oregon. It looks to us, as it will to a number of persons if they will read between the lines, that it is a move to boost and boom Colonel J. C. Cooper. Resolutions written in that style look well upon real estate agent's advertising matter or boom editions, but altogether out of place and undignified upon a county court journal.

As the appointment of a cheese and creamery inspector by the dairy and food commissioner would not help Governor Chamberlain's political milking machine, he vetoed the Beals bill. It would have been all lovely could the governor have made the appointment. In behalf of pure, wholesome dairy products, the dairymen of the state, and especially of Tillamook county, have seen the need of legislation in behalf of the dairy industry. True there is a state dairy and food commissioner, but when it comes to visiting the dairies and creameries of the state it is plain that one person can accomplish very little. The dairymen, creameries and cheese factories which aim to turn out pure, clean, wholesome dairy products should be protected against those who place a dirty, inpure article on the market. It is not necessary for us to show the great necessity of cleanliness in the production of dairy products and a proper supervision of dairies and creameries. The dairymen of Tillamook have agitated for this, with the result that Representative Beals introduced the bill and succeeded in getting it passed. But because the bill did not provide for the governor to make the appointment, and as that would not help the Chamberlain political milking machine, he vetod the bill. Hence, it is not surprising that the dairymen, as we stated last week, are greatly disappointed because the governor was so short sighted.

BOULDER CREEK.

E P. Mills has gone to Salem and perhaps will be absent two or three weeks.

H. L Jensen went to Cloverdale Monday. He also called on his aunt, Mrs. Florence Hansen, who is very ill at her home near Hebo.

C. A. Smith is plowing for oats during the fine spring weather we have been enjoying lately.

Bennie Mills spent last Sunday with his S.S. teacher, Mrs. H. A. Chopard.

The families of O. W. Kinnaman and H. L. Jensen were guests last Sunday at the home of C. A. Smith.

Mrs. H. A. Chopard and son Norman visited Mrs. Chopard's mother, Mrs. Florence Getchell, of Hebo, on Friday.

H. A. Chopard has been trapping for wild cats all winter, but with small success so far. His total catch so far consists of one coon and two "cats," of the species designated "pole." Mrs. C. is thinking of burying Gus to deodorize him, since his catch of "cats." [We hope Mrs. C. won't have to resort to such extreme methods as to burying a man alive for killing cats with loud smelling reputations, for he's not the first to get the whole of the vortex of that disgusting animal. We humbly plead for Gus and suggest that Mrs. C. run him through the family washing machine instead of covering him up with earth.—Ed.]

J. W. Tompkins, after selling his stock, etc., will move on his ranch two miles west of Tillamook City. He has been having a pretty severe tussel with la grippe for three days past, and is still on the sick list, though improving slowly.

School begun Monday in the Brown district with Miss White as teacher. only five pupils are attending as yet.

O. W. Kinnaman expects to move to Tillamook the last of this week or the first of next. He will work on the railroad for a while.

STOPPED THE OVATION.

Richard Wagner's Peculiar Experience in Vienna.

When Wagner was at the height of his popularity he visited Vienna. Baron von Beust, then chancellor of the empire, was informed that the Prussian party intended to give him an immense serenade—a serenade which would have the air of German protest against the tendency of the ministry to make the union of Hungary and Austria more intimate. The demonstration promised to arouse strong feeling.

"Your excellency is warned," said the chancellor's advisers. "It is impossible to stop this manifestation unless Wagner goes away, and he loves ovations too well. Nothing will induce him to depart."

"You think so," said Beust, with a smile.

An hour later Wagner was invited to dine with the chancellor. He was flattered by the invitation and accepted it. After dinner, at which Beust was delightfully affable and entertaining, the chancellor remarked: "Herr Wagner, are you interested in autographs? I have some very curious ones to show you." And he opened a portfolio where were letters of Palmerston, Bismarck, Napoleon III., Heine and others.

Suddenly turning to a paper, dated 1848, he said: "Ah, look at this. It is very curious. What would your friend his highness the king of Bavaria say if this paper, which would be significant in connection with the political serenade which the Germans are going to give you, should be published tomorrow in the Vienna papers?"

The composer examined the paper and recognized, with surprise, an old proclamation of one Richard Wagner, who, an ardent revolutionist in 1848, had proposed to the youth of that time to set fire to the palace of the king of Saxony. He saw his autograph and that it might be the means of getting him into serious trouble.

"Very curious, is it not, Herr Wagner?" said the minister.

"Very curious, your excellency," replied his guest.

The next morning Richard Wagner left Vienna, recalled to Baireuth by urgent business.—Strand Magazine.

MAKING WAMPUM.

A Process That Requires Both Patience and Skill.

With certain tribes wampum is still highly prized and necklaces are worn by men, women and children when they are the fortunate possessors of them. To make wampum various kinds of shells are used, white and those having a lavender hue being most liked.

The thin shells are broken into little pieces and by aid of nippers are made as nearly round as possible. When each piece is drilled in the center, the old time fire kindling style of drill being used, the shells are then strung and rolled with the hand on a flat stone, which grinds them until they are smooth and even.

Comparatively few Indians among those who prize wampum beads most highly have the skill or patience to make them, even though they had the materials. The fact is there are but few wampum bead makers in the country, and it often happens that long pilgrimages must be made to secure the requisites for really fine beads, and, as with the white man's trinkets, that which is "far fetched and dear bought" is most sought after for ornamentation.

Around some of the ancient ruins in the southwest the little disks of wampum are often found in the sand, and it is probable that they were deposited in the graves in very early times and washed out or exposed by the wind's action. These ruins are in the best state of preservation of any in the country. Absolutely nothing is known of their builders, and the origin of these ruins was as much a mystery when Coronado first saw them in 1540, when he made his famous invasion, as it is to the people of the present day.—Indian's Friend.

Oxygen and Mushrooms.

A singular way of removing oxygen from the air by the aid of a plant is as follows: Inside a glass bell jar, suspended over water, is placed a mushroom, and sunlight is allowed to fall upon the plant. The mushroom absorbs the oxygen from the air in the jar, and the carbonic acid formed during the process is absorbed by the water, which gradually rises in the jar to one-fifth of its height. The mushroom now dries up, but its animation is only suspended, as may be proved by introducing beside it a green plant, when it will recommence to vegetate, being nourished by the oxygen exhaled from the fresh plant.

"Mr. Merchant," said the new clerk, preparing to ask for more money, "I think I understand the business pretty well now, and"—

"Yes?" interrupted his employer. "Well, keep at it four or five years. Perhaps you'll understand it then as well as you think you do now."—Philadelphia Press.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M.
