On Tuesday of last week fire destroyed the house on Garrett Ward's place at Three Rivers, which was occupied by Norman Olsen, who was away from home when Mrs. Olsen found the house on fire at nine o'clock in the morning. The fire spread rapidly and it took but a short time before the house was one mass of flames. Mrs. Olsen, when she found the house on fire ran up stairs to save some money, and in trying to save the furniture her clothes caught fire, and Budd and Oran Wallace happening along in the stage at the time, went to her assistance and succeed in preventing her dress from being entirely burned on her, but as it was the skirt was burned, but Mrs. Olsen escaped without any injuries. The fire cannot be accounted for, as it originated in a garret. Mr. Ward's loss is about $1000, and Mr. Olsen's, who lost all his belongings, about $500, without any insurance.
