ANOTHER OUTRAGE.

In the Outrageous Sandlake Murder Case.

The Sandlake tragedy was a diabolical, cold-blooded outrage upon two defenceless women, the compromise verdict was a travesty of justice and an outrage, and the parole by Governor Geo. Chamberlain, of Ab. Hembree, whose hands reek with the life blood of his wife and daughter, is, thus for, the third outrage in connection with these bloody murders. No wonder that the people of Tillamook feel indignant, and justly so, for they are convinced that Hembree is the murderer and should have been hung for the crime. It is cases like this which create a strong sentiment in favor of lynch law, and had it been known at the time that Hembree would get off with a year's imprisonment, probably there would have been a lynching bee. The most revolting and damaging evidence against Hembree was not admitable at the trial, consequently his threat to kill and burn his wife, the seduction of his daughter, his effort to procure a doctor to perform an abortion, his plan to lay the blame of his daughter's condition upon those connected with a highly respected institution in this city, are facts known to the prosecution and those who have ascertained the motives which prompted Hembree to commit the crime. The latest chapter is that the governor has paroled one of the most blood thirty murderers unhung, a dangerous man to be at large. It will be remembered that eleven of the jurymen, before they left the court room, were convinced that Hembree was the murderer, the first ballot being ten for murder in the first degree, one for murder in the second degree, and one for acquittal. The second ballot all but one voted for murder in the first degree. Yet Governor Chamberlain does not believe that Hembree is guilty, or, in other words, he accepts the verdict of one jurymen to eleven. C. B. Handley is the juryman who was for acquittal. It is not generally known that when Hadley was called on the jury stand Deputy District Attorney Cooper objected and predicted to District Attorney McNary that Hadley would hang the jury, but McNary thought differently at the time, allowing him to serve over Cooper's objection. Cooper's predictions, as is well know, proved correct, for Hadley did hang the jury, and saved Hembree from the gallows on that charge.

* * *

In justice to the eleven jurymen who were for murder in the first degree, they took this view, after looking at the matter carefully. If the jury disagreed and was discharged, that would mean another trial and probably in another county, the cost of which the taxpayers of the county would have to foot. Thinking that Hembree would get a sentence that would keep him in the penitentiary for the remainder of his natural life, the jurymen, although they did so reluctantly, agreed to a verdict of manslaughter, which Hadley also agreed to.

* * *

There is another thing which must not be lost sight of now that Governor Camberlain has paroled Hembree. Before he was arrested, we are informed, he threatened that he would shoot a number of the Sandlake people if they caused him any trouble. After he was arrested and after his trial as well, he made threats that he would do for some of the witnesses Governor Chamberlain has turned a cold-blooded murderer and a dangerous man loose, which the people of Tillamook consider an outrage and who would like to see him arrested and placed on trial for the murder of his daughter. There is liable to be trouble should Hembree come back to Tillamook, for there is no telling what he might do to any of the witnesses if he could get a drop on them and get away, or what the witnesses will do to him once they place their eyes on him.

* * *

"There has always been a grave doubt in my mind," said Governor Chamberlain, "of Hembree's guilt. It does not seem possible for him to have committed the crime of which he was convicted. Besides I am opposed to compromise verdicts; a man is either guilty or he is innocent. If guilty in any degree he was guilty in the first and should have been hanged, and if not, he is innocent."

* * *

If Governor Chamberlain believes that Hembree is not guilty and it was impossible for him to have committed the crime, how does it come that he allowed an innocent person to remain in the penitentiary for twelve months? That is on a par with C. B. Hadley's action on the jury. He stood out for acquittal, presuming, we suppose, that he believed that Hembree was innocent, yet in the end agreed with the other jurymen that Hembree committed the crime which sent him to the penitentiary. This is peculiar logic, as all will admit. It looks as though Governor Chamberlain has heard but one side of the case.

* * *

As to whether Hembree can be placed under arrest again, now that he is out of the penitentiary on parole, this can be done on a charge of murdering his daughter, the first charge for which he was tried was for murdering his wife. Whether this will be done we do not know. There are a number of persons, we are informed, who are now ready to swear out the complaint against Hembree. Should this be done it will mean, in all probability, the case being tried in another county, as Hembree would ask for a change of venue and, no doubt, the court would grant it. This would put the county to considerable expense, but as the people are so firmly convinced that Hembree is the murderer, it is hard to tell what will be done to avenge the blood of the two innocent women.

Editorial Snap Shots.

We wish the people of Tillamook and all our subscribers a Merry Coristmas.

* * *

The Tillamookers who voted for the governor ought not to "beef" because he paroled Hembree, the murderer.

* * *

There appears to be a good deal of lynch law talk in Tillamook since Governor Chamberlain paroled the Sandlake murderer.

* * *

What does the women of Tillamook think of Governor Chamberlain turning Hembree loose? Why, it is enough to make their blood boil.

* * *

Why is it that the Water Commission has not submitted its annual report to the city council? The commission must have been having too many holidays.

* * *

The bank holiday lid is lifted, which so scared some people who had money in the banks that they were foolish enough to believe they were going to loose it.

* * *

A former resident, now residing in the East, asks this question: "Who got the lemon on election day?" As it wasn't Geo. B. Lamb, it must have been our friend Rollie W. Watson.

* * *

Peculiar justice—or injustice—in Tillamook. Hembree, for murdering his wife and daughter, gets off with one year in the pen. Arstill, for signing other person's names to bank checks and cashing them, is serving a five years' sentence in the penitentiary.

* * *

If the parties in this county who are writing about the State Treasurer were as honest, honorable and respected as Geo. Steel they would not be writing and publishing articles besmirching that gentleman's character. Steel is a gentleman, but we cannot say that of those who are getting others to do their dirty work.

* * *

The Oregon delegation has decided that only those who have been loyal to the republican party can eat at the political pie counter. That is hard on those who shouted for the republican party before the nominations and then knifed the republican candidates at the election. Many men who have been prominent in the republican party have been relegated to the back ground because they would not play fair and remain loyal to their party on election day. So the loyal republicans stand the best chance of carrying off the political plums. Yet that is perfectly proper.

* * *

Everybody wants good roads in the county, and we don't blame them one particle. We think that the people for the most part are inclined to favor a good levy for road work, some favoring the maximum, 10 mills. As about 75 per cent of the road tax come from outside timber owners and most of this money is kept at home, distributed all over the county amongst the settlers who work on the roads, surely under these condition, the people ought to demand a stiff levy so as to put the roads of the county in good repair. If the county court meets with any knockers to road improvements, please turn them over to the Headlight for a good grilling.

* * *

The Portland newspapers have been kept busy agitating the alleged land fraud cases. We think the failure of the two trust companies in Portland show that there are men in that city ten times worse than the alleged timber thieves. So it would be well for the newspapers of Portland to clean out the rascals right at home and who have been carrying on a swindling game. No newspaper pretends to deny that the people were conspiring to get hold of government land, and what made it so easy was the looseness with which the government allowed it to go on. The railroads were the first to gobble up the domain, by special acts passed by congress. Others worked other schemes successfully, and even homesteaders obtained land, they thought legally, by occasionally visiting it, and this becoming the custom, they evaded the spirit of the law because the government officials for a number of years allowed this to go on. As it was impossible for the government to arrest everybody who had done wrong for so many years, we have always been inclined to think that it might have been better had the government wiped off the past, but such men as Puter, McKinley and others made this almost impossible, who would not let up when the government started in to rigidly enforce the land laws.

* * *

The Headlight's greatest sin, politically, is that it has stayed with the republican party in Tillamook and given its loyal support to whoever the conventions or the people at the primary election placed on the republican ticket. Before another election rolls round we want to make this clear, for we have been accused so many times of running the republican party. That is not so. All that we simply did was to stay with it. Had we desired to do so we could have entered the political arena with some success, for there are a whole lot of republicans who pride themselves that they have been just as true to their party as the Headlight, and as birds of a feather flock together, this accounts, to some extent, for the Headlight's influence in the republican party. And, further, when an election is on, there are no misgivings in any of the candidates minds for fear that we might go back on them and the party at a critical time. We are not built that way, as our previous actions will plainly prove. This statement ought to prove that we have no intention of running the republican party. Nor have we any ax to grind with those who have knified party candidates heretofore if they want to play fair in politics, for we went to see republicans stay with their party and party nominees in the county and presidential elections next year. The Headlight has stayed with the republican party closer than republicans have stayed with the Headlight.

Li tle Silly, Silly Little Knockers.

For little silly, silly little "knocking," our contemporary is taking another shy at city improvements and those who have put up money for fine business premises on Second Avenue East.

There is rumors of outside capital taking up the proposition of starting a skating rink on the northwest corner of 2nd avenue East and Second street, if the weather turns cold enough.—Herald.

Our energetic and capitalistic citizen, George Washington Kiger, is considering the feasibility of bringing up one of his many logging engines, building a platform and runway and starting a Chute the Chutes for amusement of the citizens this winter George has been somewhat handicapped for a location and it has been suggested that he use the site of the new concrete building.—Herald.

Well, well. Dirty, dilapidated shacks must be more to the knockers' taste.

Information Wanted.

[TO EDITOR OF TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT.]

DEAR SIR,—As I have tried in various other ways to learn the facts in the case, I am going to place before your readers, some of whom I think are as much interested as I am. I wish to bring the case to mind, state the facts as I know them, and make some inquiries in regard to the McIntosh case. Last Feb. or March, Mr. Al. Bunn came to my house and offered me the Cold Spring factory for $300. He said that all the other property had been sold and when that was sold he could pay off the debts, that he expected to pay dollar for dollar and intimated that if he failed in paying up in full that Mr. McIntosh was liable to land in the penitentiary. Now I can neither learn that the debts are paid or that any one has gone to the pen on the failure to pay them, and if the debts are not paid I ask where did the money go? Mr. McIntosh was owing me over $400, and if the money is put away some where I would be pleased to receive my share. The factory was sold last March. I wrote to Mr. Bunn some time ago, making inquiries in regard to this matter, but received no reply. I have not been able to learn of any one fareing any better than myself. So I ask again what went with the money that was received from the property to pay the debts with? Patrons, you who worked for the money that is due you, what about it? If we have all fared alike, why not look into this matter. Let us try to find where our just dues are. If this comes to naught I will try something else, respectfully,

MRS. A. L. DONALDSON.

[For the information of our correspondent, we have ascertained that Mr. C. G. Murphy is the referee, in whose hands the matter rests, and it is to him that our correspondent should write.—ED.]

Notice to Hunters.

Notice is hereby given that no hunting will be allowed on my place from this date. Persons who do so will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

E. MAROLF.

COFFEE

There is a time for good tea, and a time for good coffee; there is no time for poor either.

Your grocer returns your money if you don't like Schilling's Best: we pay him.

TIMBER LAND ACT, JUNE 3, 1878.—NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

Department of the Interior,
United States Land Office, Portland, Ore.,
November 19th, 1907.

Notice is hereby given that OLIVE B. DAVIDSON, of Nehalem, County of Tillamook, State of Oregon, has applied to purchase under the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, as extended by act of August 4, 1892, the N ½ Ne ¼, Sec. 10 and N ½ Nw ¼, Sec 11, T. 3 N., R 9 W, and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuble for its timber or s one than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver, at Portland, Oregon, on Thursday, the 13th day of February, 1908. He names as witnesses:

J. R. Hicks, of Nehalem, Oregon; Oscar Bergman, of Nehalem, Oregon; Lura Alley, of Nehalem, Oregon; August Davidson, of Nehalem, Oregon.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 13th day of February, 1908.

ALGERNON S. DRESSER, Register.

Candies and Nuts for Christmas at the Tillamook Bakery.

A Dangerous Deadlock,

that sometimes terminates fatally, is the stoppage of liver and bowel functions. To quickly end this condition without disagreeable sensations, Dr. King's New Life Pills should always be your remedy. Guaranteed absolutely satisfatory in every case or money back, at Chas. I. Clough, Drug store. 25c.

TILLAMOOK JOTTINGS.

Cakes made to order at the Tillamook Bakery, for Christmas.

C. B. Hadley's place as superintendent of the logging camp of the Miami Lumber Co., has been taken by C. U. Mandis. Mr. Hadley expects to take a trip East soon is the reason he declined holding the position longer.

When you want Hams, Bacon and Lard, go to the J. D. Jones Packing Company, who supplies the wholesale and retail trade with the best home cured meats. You will save money by trading with this company.

A wedding took place in Portland a few weeks ago which we had overlooked, the contracting parties being Mr. Robert Wiley, son of the late Dr. Wiley, and Miss Mable Watt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watt, of Bay City

Eastern Star elected the following officers: Harriet Sarchet, Worthy Matron; W. W. Wiley, Worthy Patron; Amanda Haberlach, Assistant Matron; H. T. Botts, Sec; Annie Nolan, Treasurer; Mrs. Todd, Conductress; Lulu Crenshaw, Associate Conductress.

Alvin Wells, Fred Messe and E. Himes brought a large panther to the city on Monday which they killed while hunting on the John Cook place on Sunday. It measured 6½ft. The animal was treed by the dogs and in that way the boys obtained a good shot at the panther and killed it.

The steamer Sue H. Elmore came in on Wednesday, her passengers being Dr. T. W. Ross, J. W. McMillan, Jack Williams, Peet Svenson, Mr. Baker and wife, and Mr. Farmer and wife. She leaves on Friday weather permitting, and will be back again before Christmas.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will have a sale of useful and fancy articles on Saturday afternoon and evening, in the building next to Mrs. Sturgeon's store. The articles are very suitable for Christmas presents, and some fancy cups and saucers will be sold cheap. The ladies will serve refreshments.

Three suits were filed in the circuit court on Monday, in which the Elmore Packing Company, the Nehalem Packing Company and Samuel Elmore appeals from the Board of Equalization, claiming that the assessment is excessive on the plants, property and canned salmon as assessed by Assessor Hare.

Miami Lumber Company, a corporation, plaintiff, vs. J. F. Reeher, defendant, was a suit filed in the circuit court on Friday. This suit grew out of an agreement whereby Hadley was to buy a timber claim for $2000 from Reeher, $1,000 having been paid on the deal, and a like sum is now paid into court for the purpose of closing the deal, which the defendant has failed to do.

At a meeting of the executive board of the Tillamook Development League on Monday evening, which was presided over by Mr. W. C. King, the new president, it was decided to make an effort to raise more money for league work and also sufficient to clear off $200 indebtedness which is still owing on the fair. Miss Edna Garfield has been engaged as secretary of the league at $25 a month.

The Board of County Commissioners were in session on Monday and Tuesday, County Judge Goodspeed and Commissioners Bodyfelt and Alley being present. Owing to the Governor failing to proclaim three days two weeks ago bank holidays, this allowed the November term of the court to lapse, and all business had to go over until the January term, including the list of bills we published in our last issue.

Jimmy, the sailor, was put in the city jail for being drunk, and after serving a few days was turned loose, when he undertook to drink a whole bottle of whiskey at the back of Billy Stephen's place, which came near killing him. He was pitched out on the sidewalk and Policeman Myers had to lock him up again. The taxpayers have to feed him, which is one of the many reasons why the people are getting so much opposed to the liquor traffic. The next time that Sailor Jimmy gets drunk he should be given a sentence to leave the county, for the city has no money to spare feeding drunken people.

James Wilson, a fisherman, was arrested for giving Rayfield Catterlin, a minor, whiskey to drink about one o'clock in the morning, at a dance in the opera house a week ago last Saturday. Special policemen and night watchman Myers saw Wilson go up to some boys and offer them a bottle of whiskey, which Catterlin partook of. The boy's father swore out a complaint against Wilson, who had a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace A. T. White on Tuesday, who, after hearing the evidence of Catterlin and Myers, bound Wilson over to the circuit court, placing his bond at $100.

There was a meeting of the city council on Monday evening, at which Mayor H. T. Botts and Councilmen W. C. King, J. P. Allen, G. Munson and A. T. White were present. The bills allowed at a previous meeting, but held up on account of the bank holidays, were ordered paid. Attorney Talmage agreed to withdraw the Bert Stephens suit, provided the city would pay $46.70 cost in the case and the city put in a new side walk and improve the street as well. The offer was not accepted and no action was taken in the matter. A number of bills were presented, but were held over until the last meeting of the city council, which is to be held on Dec. 26.

Some wreckage washed up on the beach on Wednesday, and it is supposed that a ship has been wrecked somewhere in this vicinity.

Francis J. Heney arrived in Portland on Tuesday and the land fraud cases were set for trial, beginning on January 13th, with the case against John H Hall and others. That against Binger Hermann and J. N. Williamson, will follow, and fourteenth on the list is the conspiracy case against Claude Thayer, Clark E. Hadley, Morris Leach, Walter J. Smith (deceased), Thomas Coates, John Tuttle, Charles E. Hays, G. O. Nolan, John Doe and Richard Roe.

The Finest Fruit for the 'Xmas. trade at the Tillamook Bakery.

Musical at the Academy.

Next Monday evening the pupils of St. Alphonsus Academy will give a Christmas entertainment, which will be free to the public, consisting of vocal and instrumental music and a Christmas play in two acts, entitled, "The Holy Night." The program is as follows:

"Christmas Bells,"..Instrumental Duet, Misses Eva Wheeler and Nellie Chase.
"Opening Chorus,"........Music Class.
"Jasmine Waltz,"......(A. J. Kussner), Miss Nellie Chase.
"What Do You Want for 'Xmas.?'..
Vocal Solo,........James Michaud.
"O Holy Night,"............Vocal Solo, Miss L Kutscher,
Accompanist—Miss E. Munson.
"The Orphan's Prayer,"................
Vocal Solo and Duet, Misses Josie Davidson and Eva Wheeler.

"THE HOLY NIGHT."
A Christmas Idyl in Two Acts.
CAST OF CHARACTERS:

Peggy, a child of the streets—Theresa Durrer.
Trixy, a frolicsome colored waif—Nellie Chase.
Mother Marty, Peggy's supposed parent—Augusta Witt.
Sister Irene, of the Village School—Mary Fitzpatrick.
Mamie Marigold, generous to a fault—Zella Kunze.

Chorus of School Girls and Angels—Melva Wade, Eva Wheeeler, Neoma Young, Alice Stasick, Florence Morgon, Jesie Davidson, Iva Ackley, Hattie Walker, Lilly Wicklund, Bertha Michaud.

"Come Home Again,"Instrumental Duet, B. Terwilliger and N. Chase.
"Moonlight on the River Now is Gleaming," Closing Chorus. Music Class.

THE SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER

ISSUED DAILY AND SUNDAY

It works at all times for the interest and advancement of the State of California.

It prints later, better and more news than any other San Francisco paper, because it has a leased wire service, W. R. Hearst's News Bureau Service, and his Eastern Papers' full service.

Its circulation is larger than the combined circulation of any two Pacific Coast Papers.

Advertisers have proved they obtain the best results by using its columns, and its advertising patronage is the largest and strongest on the Coast.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES—PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.
Postage rates to the United States and Mexico: elsewhere, postage added.

DAILY AND SUNDAY.

Per month....	by mail	.75c
Per quarter...	by mail	.$2.00
Per half year.	by mail	.$4.00
Per year......	by mail	.$8.00
CANADA.
Per month..................		$1.50
Per quarter................		$4.00
Per half year..............		$8.00
Per year...................		$16.00
SUNDAY ALONE.
One year...................		$2.50
CANADA.
One year...................		$5.00

THE WEEKLY EXAMINER

has the largest circulation of any Weekly west of the Rockies

The paper contains also the important news of the week. Special departments run by experts for farmers, orchardists and poultry-growers.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES—PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.
Postage rates to the United States and Mexico, elsewhere, postage added.

WEEKLY EXAMINER.

One year..................	$1.50
CANADA.
One year..................	$2.00

Address:
THE SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER,
San Francisco, California.

A FLOATING SNA[IL]

Peculiar Ways of This W[onderful Lit]tle Creature.

There is a small snail wh... fond of the sea that it never ... land, and it builds such a ... for itself and its eggs that wh... ships are sinking and steamers ... able to face the storm it ... in perfect safety.

The little snail is of a vi... and is therefore called ... has a small shell, and then ... from the upper part of the body ... tonguelike piece of flesh. The ... raft, and it is built upon ... tific principles, for it has ... ments in it for air. It is ... the air compartments are ... so that it cannot capsize.

Moreover, the snail knows ... stow away its cargo, for the ... eggs and those which hatch ... est are placed in the center ... lightest and newest on the side ... raft. The ianthina fills its ... compartments by getting a ... air underneath its head. The ... then curved downward ... raft, and, the head being tilted ... side, the air rushes up and ... spaces. It feeds on a beautiful ... jellyfish, which has a flat ... form with a pretty little sail ... and they congregate in ... when the sea is calm.

Sometimes specimens are ... upon the northwestern coast of ... and when they are handled the... out a violet dye.

LIQUOR IN NORWAY.

Laws by Which the Sale of Intox... Is Controlled.

The Samlag system in Norway ... power to municipalities to gr... the retail spirit licenses which ... necessary to a company which ... bind itself to carry on the traffic ... interests of the community, ... fixed annual return of not more ... 5 per cent on its paid up capital ... establishing the system the q... of compensation does not appe... have presented much difficulty. ... the Samlag was introduced two ... of licenses were in existence ... those granted annually or for ... not exceeding five years, and, ... privileged licenses, granted for the ... of the licensee. In the case of the ... no compensation whatever was p... those dispossessed of their li... In regard to the latter compen... was granted in the form of an ... equal to the average yearly profit ... the three years preceding the ... sion of the license.

With these provisions the aims ... principles of the Samlag are su... rized as follows: The eliminatio... private profit and securing the ... oly value for the public, insuring ... est quality of liquors sold, the ... tion of the number of licenses ... easy enforcement of the law, the ... struction of the power of the ... trade and the furtherance of all ... gressive measures of reform.—... York Herald.

Not Man's Work.

Moonlight and springtime ... to the contrary, the fact remains ... marriage is not a man's work, but ... of his dearest delusions, from ... he parts begrudgingly. Moreover ... is not even necessary to him ... accomplishment of those things ... are his work. It is generally ... than his dream of prolonging ... years a humanly improbable ... Happiness as a husband and ... has always been his scarcely ... pered prayer, his dearest secret ... toward which all his idealism ... That numerous other and very ... motives enter into men's hearts ... in the least overlooked. It is ... claimed that to the average man ... future marriage is little more ... very beautiful dream.—Anna A. ... ers in Atlantic.

A Strenuous Hint.

It was growing very late, but ... young man in the parlor scene ... ed no signs of making a home ru[n].

"You evidently have a very ... imagination, Mr. Borem," said the ... girl as she made an unsuccessful ... tempt to strangle a yawn.

"Why do you think so?" queried ... unsuspecting Borem.

"I thought perhaps you imag... yourself in the arctic regions, ... the nights are six months long," ... explained.

And thirty seconds later he had ... ed into the glumpsome gloom.—Chi... go News.

Not Run by an Irishman.

When a French chauffeur brought an imported machine to the repair shop one of the mechanics became ... terested in the ingenious speed ... cator which records the distance ... ered in the metric system.

"It's surely fine," remarked the ... "but it would take a Frenchman ... read it."

"Do you zink," exclaimed the chauf... feur, "zat zeez masheen ees run by ... Irishman?"—New York Times.

A Criticism.

"Mrs. Chatterton is a perfect talking machine."

"As a piece of machinery, though, she lacks one detail."

"What is that?"

"The exhaust."—Baltimore American.

Big Difference.

"Paw, what is the difference between a chef and a cook?"

"A chef, Tommy, superintends the cuisine, and a cook bosses the kitchen."—Chicago Tribune.

Religion should be the rule of life, not a casual incident to it.—... field.