The amount of taxes, interest to date of sale and penalites due upon each parsel is set opposite the same, and also the name of the person to whom such parcel is taxed which is also the name of the owner then known.

The sale will be held at the front door of the Court House of said County in the manner and form as upon sale of real property under execution, except as by law otherwise especially provided.

Each parcel will be sold to the person who offers to pay the taxes, costs and accruing penalties thereon and take a certificate of sale at the lowest rate of interest, provided, however, the maximum rate shall not exceed 10 per cent per annum.

This sale will be made subject to redemption as provided by law, and is for the purpose of satisfying the said warrant with lawful charges.

H. CRENSHAW,
Sheriff of Tillamook County, Oregon.
Tillamook, Oregon, December, 26 1907.

Look Out for Influenza!

Gripps is the jaggernaut which crushes the very old, the very feeble the very young, the users of alcoholic liquors, and those who do not take care of themselves in matters of exercise and diet.

According to unofficial estimates there are 300 to 400 cases in Portland.

Here is how to prepare for it. It will seize one in a few minutes. First symptom is a chill or a sneeze, aching pains in back and limbs, congestion of the mucous membrane of the nose, like a cold in the head. Fever from 103 to 105 follows chill in short time. Never remain at work when you feel the slightest symptom. Best treatment is to rest in bed, with only such medicine taken as will relieve the troublesome symptoms. Persons with low vitality and hard or even moderate drinkers succumb quickest. But the most stalwart person endangers his life if he persists in working when the disease has once laid hold of him.

Hot compresses or soothing liniments are effective for pains in back and limbs. Ice-bags relieve the headaches, if used with hot foot-baths.

Lame Shoulder Cured.

Lame shoulder is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and quickly yields to a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Mrs. F. H. McElwee, of Boistown, New Brunswick, writes: "Having been troubled for some time with a pain in my left shoulder, I decided to give Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial, with the result that I got prompt relief." For sale by all Druggists.

French papers are beginning to talk of the Panama Canal as an assured fact, and of the time when a direct voyage can be made from France to its island possessions in the South Seas. The short cut from Europe to the Pacific will be appreciated, and Uncle Sam will be glad to have performed a great service to the commerce of the world.

* * *

It should not be forgotten that the torpedo flotilla also is taking part in the Pacific voyage. These craft are said to bounce their crews about in a manner that renders tossing in a blanket a pleasing amusement in comparison. The boys of the torpedo boats will have an interesting portion of the story to tell.

SHEPHERD CARVERS.

The Lonely Sheep Tenders of the California Sierras.

There are few lonelier lives in the world than those lived by shepherds in the high meadows of the California Sierras. All alone they follow their sheep, seeing no one for many months of the year but the sheep, their dogs and perhaps an occasional—a very occasional—traveler. Probably this solitude dries up the springs of speech, for they are said to be very silent when they do encounter any one.

One of these strange men is a Basque from the Pyrenees. A lean, dark visaged, ragged fellow, he is now and then overtaken by some wanderer in the mountains. Along the trail before him his sheep feed. His mongrel collie hangs at his heels. He may raise his stick in mute salutation; he may slouch by without a sign. Yet this uncouth being has one talent—he can carve. His amusement is carving quaint sheep buckles out of bone. Every herd has its bellwether, about whose neck hangs a bell. The bell depends from a leather collar, and it is the buckles of these collars that this old Basque shepherd and some of these other Sierra shepherds make in the course of their lonely days. Sometimes a buckle represents a summer's work, for some of them are very elaborate. Some are in the semblance of saints or angels, some have the monograms of the sheep owners or of the shepherds in curious designs. All are patiently cut, bit by bit, with the pocketknife of the shepherd.—Exchange.

DIET AND SLEEP.

Eating Before Retiring and Digestion During Slumber.

Diet has little influence on sleep except in so far as it may produce disturbances of digestion and through these of the general balance of health.

The hypnotic effects of certain foods, such as onions, lettuce, milk, etc., are chiefly imaginary. Even the time of the last meal of the day is of relatively little importance except that it is well to let this be at least two or three hours before retiring. But even this rule has many exceptions, as many healthy laboring men habitually fall asleep over their pipes directly after supper, and children after poking the spoon into their little eyes nod off over the tea table, with the bread and butter still clutched in their chubby fists.

The processes of digestion probably go on more slowly during sleep, but they are perfectly carried out, as is illustrated by the almost invariable habit among animals of going to sleep directly after a meal.

Indeed, a moderate amount of food in the stomach or intestines seems to promote slumber. Many night workers, for instance, sleep much better for taking a light or even full supper just before retiring.—Dr. Woods Hutchinson in American Magazine.

The Tenors' Parts.

Probably the composers are largely responsible for tenor worship. In Verdi's operas, with hardly an exception, the tenor plays a more important part than the baritone or bass, and the same is true of other opera writers, Mozart's "Don Giovanni" being a notable exception. Wagner wrote one opera, "The Flying Dutchman," in which the baritone is king, whereas in six of his works the supremacy of the tenor is indicated by the very titles—"Rienzi," "Tannhauser," "Lohengrin," "Tristan und Isolde," "Siegfried," "Parsifal." This being so, we shall probably continue to be subject to the tyranny of one tenor or another, unless it be true, as was maintained at a conclave of French savants, that the tenor voice is a relic of barbarism, destined to become extinct.—Argonaut.

Poems, Pictures and Songs.

It takes all kinds of people to make up a world and all kinds of poetry to make up a world literature. Despite the efforts of the critics to lay down definite canons of judgment for the literary, pictorial and musical arts most of us continue to like a poem, a picture or a song for no better reason than because we like it. It appeals to us, and if it does that it is for us a true poem, picture or song. Whether it is to be classed among the great products of art is another question. That depends upon the universality and permanence of the appeal it makes.—Current Literature.
