

CIRCUIT COURT.

Young Burglars Plead Guilty and Sentenced.

FIRST CONDEMNATION SUIT TRIED.

Large Number of Cases go Over until April.

Judge Geo. H. Burnett convened the special session of the circuit court on Monday, at which District Attorney J. H. McNary was present looking after criminal cases, and succeeded in disposing of the burglary cases. About half the cases on the docket were continued until April.

District Attorney J. H. McNary arraigned Louis Loll, George Coppersmith and Walter Oliver on Monday evening, charged with burglary, they having entered Eugene Jenkins' jewelry store with the intention of robbing the premises. They pleaded guilty and Judge Burnett sentenced them to two years in the state penitentiary. Motions were then made to the judge to have the young men paroled pending good behavior, and the prisoners were put on the stand, also a number of witnesses, who testified that the young men had been good boys to work. Most of these witnesses had seen the young men only in a casual way and were put on the stand to make a showing to the court. Judge Burnett took the matter under advisement, ordering Sheriff Crenshaw to keep the prisoners in the county jail until he decided.

District Attorney McNary also filed an indictment against Louis Loll, Harry Foster, Arthur Eberman and Harry Long for breaking into the warehouse at the dock and stealing a barrel containing 72 bottles of whiskey. Owing to Loll turning state's evidence, the charge against him was withdrawn, but Long, Foster and Eberman, when arraigned, pleaded guilty, and the judge sentenced them to two years in the penitentiary, when a similar motion was made to have the prisoner paroled, which was taken under advisement by the judge, the prisoners being locked up in the county jail.

Jottings from the County.

Norman Olds and wife spent Sunday with Albert Olds and wife. We enjoyed their hospitality, also their jokes and laughter.

Whiskey and bad characters are not necessary to the life and enjoyment of the dances at Hemlock. If that class would dance at home, they would keep the little respect others have for them, and, incidently, their own.

Mr. Norton's people, of Woods, have relatives here from Kansas, who intend settling in Tillamook.

Frank Pichereau has returned from California, where he has been engaged in the dairy business. His wife says if he leaves Hemlock again she goes with him.

M. R. Hannekrat says the way to make a balky horse go is to put a strong man on the lines and apply rather to the horse.

W. C. Thun, on East Beaver, is completing a saw mill which consists of a 12 horse engine, planer and edger. He has two men falling and putting in logs, and his object is to saw lumber for his own buildings on his homestead at Blaine, and to saw out other lumber.

We visited Thomas Shillinglaw, who lives on the island at Sandlake. The tide went out and left us to spend one night with Mr. Shillinglaw and family. There is abundance of feed on this island for stock, also a good soil for the production of fruit and vegetables.

Mrs. Roenicke and family having moved to Portland, a Mr. McCoy is moving on to the place at Sandlake.

Mrs. Sandlier and children have arrived at Bay City from Colorado, to join the Rev. F. N. Sandlier, pastor of the M. E. church at Bay City.

H. L. Provost, one of Bay City's merchants, who was unfortunate enough to lose his eye, has written saying that he would be home on the next boat and that he was feeling well.

We were entertained at J. O. Bozorth's hotel on Feb. 4. When we were shown our cosy corner we settled down to count our blessings and note the mingled sounds which are but harmony to a tired being—the wind and rain, the roar of the ocean and Bay City's aspiring band all played a distinctive part.

Editorial Snap Shots.

The snap shot man has been under the weather this week. * * *

We believe that it is proper to give the young men who have been committing crime in this city a chance to reform, but we have very little hope for them if they continue to spend their spare time in pool rooms. * * *

Out of over eighty cases on the docket at the special term of the circuit court, about one-half of the cases were continued by request of the attorneys. It seems to us that, as court is only held twice a year in Tillamook, that the attorneys ought to be ready with their cases. * * *

What a funny old world this is when the "special interests" sheet of this city has to do its usual "knocking" because the snap shot man reports and publishes the news. The lawbreakers have no strings on the Headlight, and thank goodness we don't have to publish and father their malicious editorials. But we pity the puppets who have to. * * *

One of the best things that the city council could do for the city would be to close up the pool rooms. Parents who are raising boys should demand it, for as soon as boys and young men make the pool rooms their rendezvous, parents lose all control over their boys. The pool room evil is being denounced quite strongly in other towns, so it will not be long before there is a strong public sentiment against them here. * * *

We have heard quite a number of our citizens say that several of the young men who were rounded up for burglary had become pretty bad characters. As to that we have nothing to say, other than that their confessions of crime substantiate this. But who are we to believe after hearing the numerous witnesses who testified what good young men these youthful burglars were and had had been? Truly this is a puzzling. * * *

Mr. Heney says: "The American people are lacking in moral courage, but not in physical courage. There is never any trouble in raising an army on short notice to go out and face guns; death has no terrors for the American soldier, but when it comes to the mere doing right for the simple reason that it is right, we find that there are more moral cowards than there are brave men. The reason corruption exists in all of the large cities of the United States is because we Americans are not yet sufficiently intelligent in the matter of self government." * * *

A number of republican newspapers, including the Oregonian, have gone into the independent column because of the factional fights and the knifing of candidates in the republican party in Oregon. It is discouraging, especially to the republican Press, to see so many republicans who will not play fair in politics. We are glad to know, however, that in Tillamook county, a large number of republicans want harmony and united effort and loyalty and support of republican candidates. The only thing that is likely to bring about another factional fight is the action of the candidates who may be defeated in the primary election in working against the candidate who defeated them. We do not know who will be on the republican ticket, but whoever it may be, let republicans give them their support and drop any little prejudice they may have. So all that we have to say to the republicans of this county at the present time is to get together and stay together. * * *
