Prof. H. A. Howell, of Havan, Cuba, Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"As long ago as I can remember my mother was a faithful user and friend of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but never in my life have I realized its true value until now," writes Prof. H. A. Howell, of Howell's American School, Havana, Cuba. "On the night of February 3rd our baby was taken sick with a very severe cold, the next day was worse and the following night his condition was desperate. He could not lie down and it was necessary to have him in the arms every moment. Even then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he would live until morning. At last I thought of my mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we gave, and it afforded prompt relief, and now, three days later, he has fully recovered. Under the circumstances I would not hesitate a moment in saying that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that only, saved the life of our dear little boy." For sale by all Druggists.

The Ciceronian Society rendered one of the best programs on Friday that it has had this year. In order to give out- siders a chance to know the nature of our society programs, we are going to print this one in full:

In the halls of legislation Sat the men of worth and wisdom, With a great state's life and welfare Trembling in their hands each moment; When a member from Polk County Claimed the meeting's whole attention. He, they said, was too much married, Throw him out, they cried, expel him!

Stern and white with indignation Rose Polk County's greatest statesman— Favorite son of old Polk County, Pole, the land of goats and mchairs; And the members sat in silence, Tense and still that they might hear him. Heard his words of thought and wisdom, Heard him answer all their charges. Till a kindlier feeling stirred them, And they whispered to each other, "Six mothers-in-law he has encountered; 'Tis enough," they said, "Forgive him."

The Botany classes are going to have the advantage of working in connection with Prof. Sweetzer, State Biologist. Prof. Sweetzer is writing an Oregon school Botany, and thinks there are plants in Tillamook County which have never been classified or named. We are going to name the first new flower the Vidaceae Bramwellicus.

The students of the high school passed a strong resolution, Friday, in favor of the State University. We can't see how it is consistent to advertise all over the earth the great wealth and prosperity of the State of Oregon, and at the same time make a great fuss about giving our State University enough money to carry on its work in a creditable manner.

News Notes of Interest.

Ground will be broken for the Oregon Building at the Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition at Seattle on Wednesday, the 18th instant, with appropriate ceremonies.

The Schwarzchild & Sulzberger Packing Company is asking permission of the city of Portland to cover fourteen acres in the suburbs with a plant which will represent an outlay of $1,500,000. Coming immediately after the definite announcement of the $4,000,000, establishment which Swift & Company are to build during 1908, Oregon stockmen are jubilant over the recognition accorded this section of the United States as a packing center.

Secretary F. A. Welch, of the Oregon State Board of Agriculture, is asking the co-operation of the various County Courts of the state in arranging for exhibits at the State Fair held annually at Salem. It requires forethought at the beginning of the planting season to secure attractive displays, which become of more vital importance each year in view of the immense number of newcomers seeking locations in Oregon.

Every one of the merchants in Central Point, Oregon, is using special stationery designed in such a way that the low colonist rates are forced upon the attention of the recipient. Railroad officials on various roads have reported travel which indicates thirty trainloads of homeseekers now en route to the Pacific Coast.

Fruit, dairying and other industries of Oregon have all been given their share of publicity, but poultry raising is rarely mentioned outside of the publication which are either devoted to poultry or have a special department for it. $5,000,000 annually is a very conservative estimate of the returns from this industry to Oregon farmers, and yet thousands of sets of eggs are shipped in every year from the Middle West to supply the demand here. Expert poultry raisers say that the climate of Western Oregon in particular is conducive to very rapid and healthful

NEWS FROM THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The first bill to be considered was House Bill No. 7, a bill to protect the wool growing industry of the state by placing a bounty on coyotes and wild cats. This bill was introduced by Rep. Burdick, of Wheeler county, who followed the history of a coyote from puppy-hood throughout its destructive career, and pleaded for the use of state funds to exterminate this dangerous pest. His eloquence prevailed and the bill passed after several little attacks by its enemies.

House Bill No. 8, providing for the discontinuance of two of the State Normal Schools, and a change in the location of others was warmly championed by Rep. Hanson, but did not pass. House Resolution No. 1, condemning Pres. Roosevelt for trying to elevate Taft to the presidency brought out the history of Pres. Roosevelt back to the fourth generation. It was amended to read "commendable" and passed in that form.

Rep. Pike tried to get an affirmative vote upon an amendment permitting woman's suffrage. After some discussion, the bill failed to pass.

Wilbur: What do you think of Elmer? Horace: He's a Daisy, all right.

Sunday school teacher: Bruce, what are your favorite bible characters? Bruce: (Who goes to high school): Mary and Martha.

At a meeting of the Senate on Thursday evening, the motion to accept a limited number of people outside the high school was carried. The house bill to make appropriations for establishing a state printing plant to publish school text books for the state, was carried by a small majority. The bill to provide for a steam railroad between Tillamook and Bay City failed, and the bill to establish manual training departments in all schools having over fifty students was passed by a large majority.

One of the editors of the "Bugle Call" received a letter this week from California where the fleas and mosquitoes are not so thick there as one of our articles would lead one to think. We are glad to get such reliable information upon the subject, and we are also glad to know that the Bugle Call has such a wide circulation.

The corner over by Dr. Smith's house seems to be a favorite resting place for some who have so far to walk to school.

Carrie thinks that the best thing about the House is a bill-Bill Burdick, of course.

Market reports for the week: Sap—running well.

growth—there is one community alone in Southern Oregon that annually markets between $40,000 and $50,000 worth of turkeys.

The series of meetings being held by Secretary Tom Richardson, of the Oregon Development League, is focusing the attention of the whole state. At Astland there were three enthusiastic gatherings—one at the Normal school, a second at the Commercial College and the last in the evening attended by the citizens generally. For Medford's meeting a special train from Jacksonville brought a hundred and fifty people who came down to participate. Grants Pass was next, then Roseburg, where the substantial interest aroused was best evidenced by the raising of $6590 for an immediate campaign Albany and Stayton had meetings on Friday and Saturday. A Commercial Club has just been organized at Bend.

BEAVER

W-ll, we have been treated to a big rain, and all the creeks are on a tare, and the Big Nestucca is the highest it has been for a number of year.

Saturday night last about fifty yards of the road along the Kinnaman grade went into the river and obstructing the highway. It will take several days hard work to make the road passable again.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kinnaman are enjoying a visit of their daughter and her husband from Oklahoma. They arrived in Beaver Sunday morning, coming by private conveyance from Sheridan.

The Beaver cheese factory began operations Monday morning after being overhauled and repaired. Chas. Saling is at the helm and expects to do a land office business.

Ed. Kinnaman has built a cheese factory on his ranch, and will soon be ready to manufacture cheese. O. W. Kinnaman and Harley Poland made a trip to Sheridan last week. They report the roads very bad through the reservation. There were quite a number of ka is of pumber passed through Beaver last week.

Umbrellas—rising. Daffodils—coming up. Daisies—out of sight. Lamb—rises each morning.

New Boy: Why do they call him Gamble?

Bruce: Because George Van Patten is a ball player.

New Boy: Well, I don't see why that would make you call the other fellow Gamble.

Bruce: Oh, you see he's a better.

Owing to bad weather last week, a good many of our country students were out of school part of the week.

Mr. Rutherford is thinking of making a Z-z of the ninth grade. It contains, at present writing, three wolves, one lamb and a hare.

Two new students entered the high school lately. It is late, but they say it is better late than never.

We, the Emersonians, will admit that daffodils are plenty good enough for Ciceronians, but we will take pink and green, the beautiful pinks or pink roses.

The last few days Carl has seemed to brighten up wonderfully, and inquire has disclosed the fact that Johanna is expected back.

We were glad to hear last week that the Astoria debating team defeated Clatskanie. One of the Astoria debaters writing to one of our debaters, said that they defeated Clatskanie by doing entirely extemporaneous work. Their method must have changed radically, as their work here consisted entirely of set speeches. We realize that we were beaten by set speeches, yet we still think true debating does not consist of a number of well learned orations.

Woolf, Finney, Burdick & Co. All engineering work promptly attended to. Electric, steam and gas a specialty.

Mrs. Rutherford: what great deed did you ever do for me?

Mr. Rutherford: I saved you from being an old maid.

Hon. Barney Hanson, of Harney County, has quit school on account of spring work. He expects to buy a farm and go to dairying.

Elsie Lamb: What kind of a husband should I get?

Jessie: My advice would be to leave the husbands alone. Get a single man.

How does Daisy come to school? Oh, she comes at a Good-speed.

We hear that there is talk of introducing a bill in the House of Representatives to buy a hat for Tillamook Head.

Supposed to be for the new store building that is to be erected at Three Rivers, near Hebo post-office.

Rev. Williams made a flying trip down on the Little Nestucca last Wednesday, We suspect a wedding.

Married, at the residence of Mr. Hess, on the Little Nestucca, March 11th, 1908, Mr. W. A. Penner and Miss Bertha Hess. Rev. T. W. Williams, of Beaver, officiating. The wedding was a very quiet affair. There were no invited guests except the family of the bride. After the ceremony an excellent dinner was served, after which the happy couple started on their honeymoon trip.

SANDLAKE.

The high water of the 15th raised havoc with the crosslaying along the creeks.

Daniel Atkinson, foreman in a ax handle factory at Newberg, came in last week to visit with his parents and friends on the lake once more, after an absence of two years.

B. Edwards lost a valuable horse in a tide ditch last week.

Howard Harris returned home Monday.

Fred Wellen and wife, from Hebo, were visiting with James Atkinson and family a few days this week and returned home Monday.

We lost the biggest part of our news in the flood this week, but are in hopes we will find them by another week.

Unequaled as a Cure for Croup.

Besides being an excellent remedy for colds and throat troubles, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is unequaled as a cure for croup," say Harry Wilson, of Waynetown, Ind. When given as soon as the croupy cough appears, this remedy will prevent the attack. It is used successfully in many thousands of homes. For sale by all Druggists.

Senator-elect Bradley of Kentucky is a hard worker in public affairs, a good speaker, thoroughly familiar with the history of his native state and a stalwart Republican. He will make his mark among the senators of energy and constructive ability.
