Editorial Snap Shots.

The vote for prohibition in Bay precinct made the saloon faction feel sick at a time when it was feeling jubilant.

* * *

If the Tillamook Bar Association will agree not to defend persons accused of violatiug the local option law it would help some.

* * *

We think we have heard something like this before: "If it hadn't been for that derned Headlight we'ed have made the county wet." Sure thing.

* * *

Now for a vigorous enforcement of the local option law and death on "blind pig" and doctor's prescriptions and those who engage boys to sell the booze for them.

* * *

Good by, Rollie. It is really too bad that you are going to sell out and take your departure for California because it is too "dry" in Tillamook. Honk! Hou—! Ho—! H—!—!

* * *

It was remarked, when it was known that prohibition had carried, "Isn't the town quiet?" But, suppose the election had gone the other way, what a howling mob would have turned out.

* * *

Not one of the counties which went "dry" two years ago have changed to "wet," which is a good indication that the people are well pleased with the local option law and that it has come to stay.

* * *

Republicans can always rely on Union precinct lining up right. There must be some level headed republicans in that precinct who don't switch at every passing ism, nor do they take kindly to mugwump politicians.

* * *

Has the Connor Club turned itself into a Vigilance Committee, of which Doc is the secretary? Perhaps it would be well to arm the Vigilance Committee with a prescription before it starts out to do anything sensational.

* * *

Doc, that cheese argument of yours smells like limberger. And we are wonning whether that new hotel which was to be erected with all modern conveniences was to be modelled from those in the tenderloin of Astoria?

* * *

Politics and banking doen't seem to digest with the people. Neither should it, for people soon become suspicious of banks which are made political headquarters, especially when they circulate misleading statements about political candidates.

* * *

One heard a good deal before election about boys selling liquor and becoming intoxicated. If the men would cut that out it would not be such an incentive for the boys to do likewise. It is the bad example set by the men which helps to make bad boys.

* * *

There was a mugwump knock out in Tillamook on Monday, but it begins to look as though a large number of republicans went over to mugwumpism when they voted for a democrat for U.S. Senator. Shame, gentlemen, shame, to desert the G.O.P. in its hour of need.

* * *

Democrats need not shout too loud, for the smoke of the political battle is not cleared off yet. The state legislature has to be heard from yet, and it will surprise a good many persons if the legislature, which is overwhelmingly republican, sends a democrat to the United States senate.

* * *

If the Headlight ever gets politically buggy on Statement No. 1 and needs a guardians, it will be a great surprise to the editor. But we are not needing a straight jacket yet. It is the republicans who went crazy on Statement No. 1 and voted for democrats who does. It is a political epidemic which has disrupted the republican party in Oregon.

* * *

The snap shot man, who is accused of making the county "wet" and keeping it "wet," lives in a precinct where the vote was 112 to 58 in favor of saloons. It is safe, however, to say that out of the 112 who voted against prohibition in that precinct 75 per cent of them had no property interests in the county nor paid taxes.

* * *

Con says the snap shot man ought to be killed for making it go "dry" again. Perhaps so. But, say, Con, wouldn't there be a great big Irish wake and a lot of crocodile's tears shed over our mortal remains by the "wets" if we had to be snuffed out? It is gone so "dry" this time that Con can't get a smell of the "critter" nor a prescription to cure a long felt want.

* * *

So positive were a number of persons that the county would go "wet" that they had been figuring upon starting up saloons in this city, Nehalem, Bay City and Cloverdale What a disappointment to them. It may be gratifying to them to know that there are some "wet" spots left in Oregon. So it is expected that an exodus of would-be saloon keepers will soon occur from this county.

* * *

There is a good deal of speculation as to what G. W. Sappington, the justice of peace elect, will do with local option cases. Give him a fair trial is the best solution to the situation. The blame will rest upon Amos Vaughn and a number of others if Sappington allows himself to be influenced by any attorneys. People have a right to expect justice in the justice court, and no one should have any political or other strings on the justice.

* * *

We want to extend our congratulations to the people of Yamhill County for the magnanimous spirit it showed Tillamook in not depriving this county of representation in the state legislature by a Tillamook man. It would have been decidedly unjust to have done so. We must take our hat off, with all the grace and politeness at our command, to our neighboring county, and we hope it will not be long before Tillamook can reciprocate. Bully for Yamhill.

* * *

Mayor Johnson seems to be under the impression that the city cannot take a hand in prosecuting local option cases. We think it could be done in this way: The county court appointing the recorder a justice of the peace within the corporate limits This is what other cities have done, and in some cities where the boot leggers undertook to run things, it added considerable money to the city's treasury. But what's the use of doing that? Tillamook City has lost hundreds of dollars in not having the laws enforced.

* * *

We like to see people loyal to their own county, and now that the election is over we certainly must admit that it looks to us that a large number of the voters in Tillamook care little or nothing for the interest of the county. A Yamhill man endeavored to deprive Tillamook county of representation in the state legislature, and because some of the voters thought they had a real or imaginary grievance, or for personal or political reasons, voted against the home man. This is so characteristic of Tillamook people that we can only compare it to a man cutting off his nose to spite his face. This county will never amount to anything as long as the spirit of pulling apart and pulling down continues. One has only to go into other towns and counties in Oregon and see how they are pulling together for the interest and the upbuilding of their localities, with splendid results. But right here in Tillamook City it is just the opposite. The saloon faction, because it was put out of business by the people, do not care a continential about the interests of the city or county, for they can go to the devil as far as they care, so it was not surprising to find—as usual—that element lined up and voting against Tillamook county being represented in the state legislature by a Tillamook man.

* * *

This is the third time that the Headlight has made a fight in behalf of local option. We did so because we consciontiously believe it is to the best interest of the people of Tillamook county, consequently we have no apologies to make, and notwithstanding the persistent and determined effort of the saloon faction to make the county "wet," they lost out for the third time in a square cut issue, showing plainly that the people do not want saloons. We want to say this, however, that if the Press is ready to come out flat footed and take up the local option fight and help carry it to victory, then it is the duty of those who voted for the local option law to put their shoulders to the wheel and enforce it. This is where the local option people have shown a decided weakness, and which the saloon faction took advantage of, and may have carried them to victory had not a different sentiment been created a week before election. In other counties vigorous measures were taken to stamp out the violation of the law, which added thousands of dollars to the public treasury and put a number of men behind the bars. The only man who was sent to jail, since local option went into effect in Tillamook over three years ago, was a Jap, thus showing another instance which characterizes so-called justice in Tillamook county of jumping upon a poor little Jap and sending him to jail for doing exactly what a number of our so called respectable citizens and business men have been doing for a long. We think our readers will agree with us that this is a state of affairs which is not right and should not exist. It is now up to the Local Option Leagues, those who voted with it, and the county and city officials to get busy and keep busy until those who are violating the law are given jail sentences, which will bring about the desired effect. If we are able to interpret the vote on Monday, the people demand and expect that the officials will inforce the local option law. They know it can be done. And if it requires money for detective work the county court should have no hesitancy in supplying it—and at the same time gather up the well known gamblers.

Dates for German Coach Horse.

Beaver, Monday, June 15th.
Clovernale, Tuesday, June 16th.
Ocean Park, Wednesday, June 17th.
Meda, Thursday, June 18th,

PHOTO STUDIO,
Opposite the Post Office.
J. A. DAHLER, Proprietor.
Crayons, Enlargements, Portraits, Groups, Views, etc.

For Exchange.

Good 6 room house on corner lot in Forest Grove to exchange for property in Tillamook or Bay City or for some good lots or acerage close to the beach. For particulars write to Forest Grove Real Estate Co., Forest Grove, Oregon.

The vote in Tillamook is on the left and complete, while those on the right is the vote in the state, but incomplete.

Referred to the People by the Legislative Assembly.

For an amendment of Section 28 (evidently intended to be Section 29) of Article IV. of the Constitution, changing the compensation of members of the legislature to $400 for each regular session and $10 per day for each extra session instead of $3 per day and mileage. (Section 28 provides the time when laws take effect, and the proposed amendment is, therefore, wrongly numbered.)

155.	Yes.	12,294.
722.	No.	32,486.

For an amendment of Section 3 of Article XIV. of the Constitution, to permit the location of State institutions elsewhere than at the seat of government by act of the legislature and vote of the people.

370.	Yes.	24,657.
412.	No.	20,946.

An amendment to Article VII. of the Constitution by increasing the number of judges of the Supreme Court from three to five, until otherwise provided by law, and authorizing the Legislative Assembly to provide by appropriate legislation for the exercise by the circuit courts, of the probate jurisdiction theretofore exercised by the county courts, and for the transaction of county business by and before some appropriate body or tribunal.

280.	Yes.	18,229.
542.	No.	24,888.

For amendment of Section 14 of Article II. of the Constitution, changing the time of holding the regular biennial elections from the first Monday in June to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

652.	Yes	31,446.
181.	No.	9,223.

Referendum Ordered by Petition of the People.

An act providing that in all counties, the sheriff shall have the custody of prisoners committed to or confined in the county jail and such prisoners shall be worked at such places and for such time and in such manner as the county court may direct, and that in counties of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, the salaries of guards and jailors shall not exceed $90.00 per month and the price of meals furnished prisoners shall be 12½c each.

692.	Yes.	21,182.
226.	No.	16,476

For an act requiring railroads and other common carriers to grant free transportation to State officers and county judges and sheriffs, as a condition precedent to acquiring land for corporate purposes by the exercise of eminent domain, and to prohibit the payment of mileage for such free transportation.

317.	Yes.	14,555
553.	No.	26,332

An act to appropriate twenty-five thousand dollars annually for four years, to be used in purchasing grounds and building armories for the use of the Oregon National Guard, the money to be expended under the supervision of the State Military Board at any time during the four years, the Board not being required to use each appropriation the year it is appropriated. The Oregon National Guard is required to pay to the State Treasurer such rental, for the use of said armories, as may be fixed by the State Military Board.

269.	Yes.	21,436.
592.	No.	23,333.

An act to amend Section 3529 of Bellinger & Cotton's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Oregon by increasing the annual appropriation for the support and maintenance of the University of Oregon.

326.	Yes.	31,536.
496.	No.	26,112.

Proposed by Initiative Petition.

For equal suffrage constitutional amendment permitting women to vote on equal terms with men.

506.	Yes.	14,222.
472.	No.	24,112.

For an act prohibiting fishing for salmon or sturgeon on Sunday from January first to October first, also in the Columbia River only from October first to December thirty-first, also in the navigable channels of Columbia River at night, also at any time in Sandy River and in Columbia River west of west line of range nine west, near Astoria, and east of west line of range sixteen east, near Celilo, and limiting seines anywhere in the State to one hundred and fifty fathoms long and four and one-sixth fathoms deep, and providing penalties.

379.	Yes.	20,012.
423.	No.	16,119.

For constitutional amendment, giving additional and exclusive power to cities and towns, within their corporate limits, to license, regulate, control, and tax, or to suppress or prohibit theatres, race-tracks, pool-rooms, bowling alleys, billard halls, and the sale of liquors, subject to the provisions of the local option law of the State of Oregon.

359.	Yes.	21,372.
518.	No.	22,114.

For constitutional amendment providing that all dwelling houses, barns, sheds, outhouses, and all other appurtenances thereto; all machinery and buildings used exclusively for manufacturing purposes and appurtenances thereto; all fences, farm machinery, and appliances used as such; all fruit trees, vines, shrubs, and all other improvements on farms; all live stock; all household furniture in use; and all tools owned by workmen and in use, shall be exempt from taxation in addition to exemptions now authorized by the Constitution.

324.	Yes.	20,826.
582.	No.	27,415.

For an amendment to Article II. of the Constitution, giving the voters power to call a special election at any time to discharge any public officer and elect his successor.

610.	Yes.	30,370.
255.	No.	14,622.

A bill for a law instructing members of the legislature to vote for and elect the candidates for United States Senator who receives the highest number of votes at the general election.

709.	Yes.	26,775.
170	No.	11,224.

For constitutional amendment giving the people power to make laws for election of public officers by majority vote instead of pluralities; to provide that political parties and voters' organizations shall be proportionably represented in all offices filled by the election of two or more persons, and that a voter shall vote for only one person for any office, and may indicate his second, third, etc., choice; and to provide for a simple method of precinct residence and registration.

515.	Yes.	22,662.
263.	No.	16,156.

A bill for a law to limit the amount of money candidates and other persons may contribute or spend in election campaigns; declaring what shall constitute corrupting use of money and undue influence in elections and punishing the same; prohibiting attempts on election day to pursuade any voter to vote for or against any candidate or candidates or any measure submitted to the people; to protect the purity of the public expense, and providing for the manner of conducting election contests.

557.	Yes.	27,432.
261.	No.	12,578.

For an act prohibiting, after August 25th, 1908, fishing for salmon or sturgeon at any time, by any means, except hook and line, in the Sandy River or any of its tributaries, or in the Columbia River, or any of its tributaries, at any place up stream from its confluence with the Sandy River, or with hook and line during the spawning season.

591.	Yes.	22,313.
242.	No.	19,458.

For constitutional amendment providing for the choosing of jurors and grand jurors, and that no person can be charged in the circuit courts with the commission of a crime or a misdemeanor except upon indictment found by a grand jury, except when a court holds an indictment to be defective, the district attorney may file an amended indictment.

417.	Yes.	20,605.
266.	No.	15,515.

A bill for an act to create the county of Hood River out of the western portion of Wasco County; providing for its organization and fixing the salaries of the officers thereof.

385.	Yes.	24,188.
252.	No	10,222.

AUTOMOBILE!

Two Trips Daily
Between Tillamook & Bay City.

Leave Tillamook City at 9.30 a.m. and 4.30 p.m.
Leave Bay City at 10.30 a.m. and 5.30 p.m.
Daily, except Sunday.
Fare, one way, 75c. Round trip, $1.25.

Centrally Located. Rates, $1 Per day
LARSEN HOUSE,
M. H. LARSEN, Proprietor.
TILLAMOOK, OREGON
The Best Hotel in the city. No Chinese Employed.

The Message on His Watch.

In "Memories of Eight Parliaments" Mr. Lucy, the author, tells a story about Mr. Pyne, member for West Waterford, who, when under the crimes act a warrant was issued for his arrest in 1887, shut himself up in his Irish home, Lisfarney castle, had the trenches filled with water, the drawbridge up, took in supplies by a window in the battlements and thus lived for months, while he poked fun at the policemen who were wandering about below with the warrant in their pockets.

"The originality of Mr. Pyne's mind," continues Mr. Lucy, "was further indicated upon his watch. On its dial he had roughly engraved 'Pay no rent.' Whenever in troubled times any of his neighbors came to him for advice as to what they should do in the presence of a demand for rent, Mr. Pyne solemnly shook his head. 'I cannot,' he said, 'express my views on the subject, for Mr. Balfour says they are illegal. But I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll show you what time of day it is,' and, holding out his watch, the perturbed tenant read upon it the admonitory legend, 'Pay no rent.'"

Laws Against Beggars.

Begging was a capital offense in England in the days of Henry VIII., when the laws were very severe against beggars, and under a statute passed in that reign any one caught begging for the first time, being neither aged nor infirm, was whipped at the cart's tail. If caught a second time his ear was slit or bored through with a hot iron. If caught a third time he suffered death as a felon unless some honest person having £10 in goods or 40 shillings in land or some householder approved by the justices would take the offender into his service for two years, entering into a bond of £10. So the law of England remained for sixty years. First enacted by Henry VIII., it continued unrepealed through the reigns of Edward and Mary. Reconsidered under Elizabeth, the same law was again formally passed, the two legislative houses thereby expressing their conviction that it was better for a man not to live at all than to live the life of a beggar.

Tainted Diamonds.

The lapidary was about to cut the tail off a tadpole shaped yellow diamond.

"The chances are," he said, "that this fellow will turn white from terror when I split him. If he does his value will go up 200 per cent."

The lapidary set his steel knife in position. He prepared to strike on the knife's back the momentous blow.

"Wish me luck," he said.

And the hammer fell, the amputated tail dropped into the box underneath, and, lo, the yellow diamond that had been split was now quite white.

"The yellow taint," the cutter explained, "was only in the tail. Yet the taint was reflected all through the stone, and this made it seem of a uniform yellow throughout. Now the taint is gone, and our yellow diamond is a pure white one.

"The miracle happens fairly often."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Epigrams of an Indian.

Chief Joseph of the Nez Perces was a truly remarkable Indian. He rarely spoke, but when he did his lips dropped wisdom. Here are a few of the sayings attributed to him:

"Look twice at a two faced man."

"Cursed be the hand that scalps the reputation of the dead."

"The eye tells what the tongue would hide."

"Fire water courage ends in trembling fear."

"Big name often stands on small legs."

"Finest fur may cover toughest meat."

"When you get the last word with an echo you may do so with a squaw."

Fish, Chicken and Veal.

Raw pullet, raw veal and raw fish make the graveyard fat. This is hundreds of years old. A New York caterer (perhaps the most efficient in the city) said to me: "There are three important articles of food that must under no circumstances be served underdone. They are fish, chicken and veal. By chicken I mean all poultry of a domestic nature. All game birds should be rare. You want to be a little careful about lamb too. Give it plenty of cooking."—New York Press.

Buttermilk.

"Which is the cow that gives the buttermilk?" innocently asked the young lady from the city, who was inspecting the herd with a critical eye.

"Don't make yourself ridiculous," said the young lady who had been in the country before and knew a thing or two. "Goats give buttermilk."—Springfield Journal.

Few and Far Between.

"If men really would 'vote as they pray,'" remarked Goodley, "this would truly be a happy world."

"Yes," replied Wise, "but in that case you wouldn't get some men to the polls once in ten years."—Washington Star.

Must Be Stylish.

"Why do you wear that ridiculous hat?" he growled.

"Do you really think it ridiculous?" she replied graciously. "How lovely of you! I was afraid it wasn't quite the style!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Permanent Receiver.

Patience—I hear Will is going to marry that girl he's been spending so much money on. Patrice—Yes. He's going to make her a permanent receiver.—Yonkers Statesman.

Revenge a wrong by forgiving it.—French Proverb.

Making It Plain.

Henri was paying his first ... London and was already ... self home in gay Paree, for ... not a word of English. He ... very unfortunate and had ... luggage, a toothbrush. So ... mined to buy another. But ... he to make his needs understood.

At last his luck turned, ... and he espied a chemist's ... notice outside, "Ici on Parle ..." In he went and told the ... French what he wanted. But ... sistant knew no language ... lish, and another who came ... him was just as far at sea.

But the proprietor was an ... man, and he knew at once ... cut of the customer's clothes ... was speaking French.

"Leave him to me," he said, ... superior smile.

Then, forming a megaphone ... hands, he shouted in the ... ear:

"Our assistant who speaks ... out at lunch. You'll have to ..."—London Scraps.

Swordsmen of the Sea.

The swordsmen of the sea ... sawfisher, spearfishes, sailfishes ... fishes and the narwhal, with ... ly twisted straight tusks. ... fishes inhabit the warmer ... the narwhal is a creature of ... The tusk of the narwhal ... nearly to the point and ... grooved. It uses its tusk as a ... of defense and to plunge ... ice to breathe, the narwhal ... cetacean. Sometimes when a ... been caught in the ice great ... has been inflicted by the ... ness or blundering of this ... ture, that sometimes reaches ... of fifteen feet, with a tusk of ... to ten feet in length. As a ... ever, the narwhal uses its ... purpose of killing fish for food. ... castle of Rosenberg the kings ... mark have long possessed a ... cent throne made of tusks ... cetacean. These tusks are ... whiter than ivory.

Beavers Train Their Young.

Naturalists have placed the ... long way down in the list ... brates, but it undoubtedly ... to man in the variety of ... which it engages. All cats ... ers, while foxes that are not ... may be included also among ... rods. All canaries are prima ... and monkeys make clever ... but it is only the beaver ... educates its children to take ... trades. In a single colony ... you will find civil and ... neers, woodchoppers, raftsmen ... ers, quarrymen, miners, ... masons, carpenters, hodcarriers ... fishermen. All beavers take ... for building dams, but when ... is undertaken the task is ... that each member of the colony ... own particular work to look ... this way they make some ... excavations and construct the ... in an incredibly short time.

Marry and Part For a Year.

Among the many peculiar ... prevalent among the people of ... America is that of parting for ... after the marriage ceremony ... solemnized. This custom has ... among the Jarnos from time ... rial. There is no courtship ... be carried on between the parties ... to the wedding. When a man ... woman he obtains the consent ... parents on both sides, and if ... given they are at once married. ... reason, however, for their not ... together as man and wife for ... after marriage is in order to ... the parties visiting and staying ... their respective friends in ... parts of the country, which is ... tomary thing and occupies the ... specified. Ninety-nine out of a ... of these marriages turn out well.

A Chance to Spoon.

A young couple from the ... went to Dublin the other day ... the pantomime. Being early, they ... ited a tea room and had the place ... themselves. The attending ... had omitted in serving them to ... the necessary implement to ... assist in the proper and palatable ... mixture of the tea, cream and ... "Can we have a spoon?" ... the swain.

"Certainly," replied the obsequious ... tendant. "I am just tidying up ... you can have the whole room to ... selves in a minute or two."—London Mercury.

Holding His Job.

"I think the man who works ... place across the street is the ... faithful and conscientious worker ... ever saw. He never takes a ... and always labors away till it ... dark to see any longer."

"Faithful workman! Great ... He's the proprietor of the ... Chicago Tribune.

The Fireside Diplomat.

"I don't want to be nagging ... Mrs. Marryat began, "but it's the ... things that bother me most"—

"Ah!" interrupted her husband ... ly. "I suppose you're going to ... you haven't a decent pair of ..."—Philadelphia Press.

Homemade.

"We are told to cast our bread ... the waters," said a young wife.

"But don't you do it," replied ... husband. "A vessel might run ... it and get wrecked."—Simplicissimus.

A Wrong Guess.

Botanical Youth (in park)—Can ... tell me if this plant belongs to ... butus family? Gardener (scornfully) ... young man, it don't. It belongs ... county council.—London Globe.