

BOULDER CREEK.

H. L. Jensen went to the county seat Monday and brought out a load of material for Mrs. Bennett's new house. W. D. Gladwill returned Sunday from a short sojourn in Portland. Mr. Patrick tells us he has rented his place to Fred and John Nicklaus for five years. We wish these young rachers the best of luck in their venture. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Chopard went to Hebo Sunday to bring home Norma, who had been visiting his grand parents for a week. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McIntyre expect to leave in a day or two for Sheridan. From there they intend to go to Portland and Philomath. We are sorry to see them go but hope good future will attend them. Manuel Borba tells us he will start for California next week to visit his relatives in that state. Miss Ruth Gladwill has so far recovered from her long sickness as to be up, but is not yet able to stand on account of her ankle which was seriously affected by a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, just as she was recovering from typhoid fever. H. L. Jensen and Jno. Borba expect to go to the valley Thursday, the former will take out a load of fat hogs, the latter will take Mr. McIntyre's family to Sheridan. L. N. Sandoz made a flying business trip to Tillamook and back last Monday. Work is moving along on the Mutual Telephone Line so we are informed. A painful accident happened to little Clarence Gladwill last Sunday. By some means he broke his arm just above the wrist. The little fellow, who is about a year old, could not tell how it happened and as no one was with him at the time, it is not known how it was broken. Mr. Gladwill was away from home so E. P. Mills took Mrs. Gladwill and the boy to town, where the doctor set the broken bones and enclosed the little arm in a plaster cast. They came home Monday evening and at last accounts the baby was resting nicely. H. A. Chopard and son are harvesting their potato crop this week. H. A. reports a very good yield (where the neighbors had not helped themselves). Four co-respondents wished heartily last Sunday evening that she was a sheriff or a member of the society with the lengthy name, when, on the street in Beaver, she saw two lazy brutes abusing a poor old horse, who was so near dead he could hardly stand. They had their back loaded with a camp bed, also their own weight, and the larger of the two, kept yelling at the poor old horse and at every step cut bitterly with a big blacksnake. The horse was too far gone to retaliate, which was a pity, as they certainly deserved to be well punished. It was a good sight, and well calculated to give compassion in any one's heart. When these strangers in this place, were happy to know, for we would be ashamed to admit that they were Tillamook citizens. We hope the horse will be well over and was released from his misery, and if he just managed to spill a few dollars on the road, we would be glad to know it.

E. A. Imbler Arrested for Shooting. A rather peculiar and unfortunate shooting case occurred on the Appleton in the Bailey vineyard leased to E. A. Imbler and Geo. Tethrow last Sunday evening. Miss Ella Williams, accompanied by several young men, was returning from a dance at the Willis York ranch and crossed the Imbler & Tethrow vineyard. Wandering top pickers have been bothering the vineyards and vineyard in this neighborhood considerably of late and when Imbler heard voices she supposed the place was being visited again by gaudy thieves and determined that this time this sort of thing stopped. She took a shot gun and went out and before noticing who the persons were, fired, intending, she says, to shoot them in the legs, but aimed high, and eight of the shot, which were numbered 4 and 5, struck Miss Williams in the face. Longbridge was summoned to attend the young lady, and shortly afterwards Sheriff Russell went to the vineyard and brought Mrs. Imbler to town, taking her to the Russell home to await a doctor, which was had on Monday. She received examination and was placed in $1000 bonds. Miss Williams is recovering and it is hoped will return rapidly from the effects of the shot. See the River Courier.

I bought a 50c. bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was the cough was all gone. This is the same happy result has followed a few doses once more banished the cough. An Electric Coin Counter.

The burdens of bank work were considerably lightened when the electric adding machine was invented, but now comes the electric coin counter to make it still easier. This apparatus counts and sorts coins into paper tubes, or bags, at the rate of 72 000 pieces an hour. Fourteen expert cashiers in the Bank of England, working all day long, are only able to count $50,000 in silver coin. The new machine will do this work in one-fifth of the time. A bag of coins is poured into a receptacle in the rear of the electric machine. A tray full of several hundred coins is emptied on a polished metal plate. This plate is tilted downward at one end and broken up by raised metal rules into exactly a hundred squares which may be so altered in size that any desired coin slipping into them is held firmly in place. The plate is moved rapidly to and fro. Should it be desired to extract sixpences from the heap of larger money all the bigger coins are sifted off the plate and the sixpenny pieces are retained in the squares. The coins are also stacked in paper tubes and counted.

Dairy Idols.

Cows become favorites with their owners not altogether by reason of the milk they produce. We have known cows that their owners thought a great deal because of the kindly disposition of the animals. One cow that the writer remembers gave but a few quarts of milk a day, but she was a pet of the family. She would prefer the company of members of the family rather than other cows. If the cows were being taken to pasture she would insist on walking by the side of the one in charge of the herd. It is hard to order a cow of this kind sent to the butcher, and many people will not do it. Instead, the animals are kept for a dozen years, and not only allowed to eat up the provender without returning a compensation for it, but are allowed to add to the herd more cows after their own ability not to produce milk. These may fairly be called dairy idols. Their owners claim great things for them without being able to substantiate the truth of what they say. But the family pet is not the only grand purpose cow that quite generally have the entire confidence of their owners as to their great value. They are idols that the single-purpose cow men have demolished again and again, to their own satisfaction, but they are still to be found all over the land. The dairy idol is a thing that can be dispensed with to the advantage of the owners of the cows. The warfare against them will be kept up, and little by little the factors we are warring against will disappear. It may, however, take about as long to eliminate them as it took Christianity to drive the idols out of the pagan world.—Farmers' Review.

How to Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong: He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Chas. I. Clough's drug store, 50c.
