Commissioners' Court.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Commissioners was held last week when the following business was transacted:

In the matter of bids for bridges across Three Rivers and Beaver Creek, that of W. D. Wood for $650.00 and $1.80 per foot for approaches for the Beaver Creek bridge was rejected, and the bid of E. E. Cross and R. Cross, which was for $596.70 for the Beaver creek bridge and $715.40 for the Three Rivers bridge, both complete, was accepted.

In the matter of a charge against the supervisor of R. D. No. 3, it appearing to the court that H. Kunze had made certain charges against the supervisor of R. D. No. 3, charging the said supervisor with a "graft" in said road district, and it appearing to the court that the charge should be investigated, it was ordered that the county clerk be ordered to notify H. Kunze to make his charges in writing and file the same with the county clerk on or before Jan. 1st.

This Is Worth Reading.
Leo. F. Zelinski, of 88 Gibson St., Buffalo, N.Y., says: "I cured the most annoying cold sore I ever had, with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. I applied this salve once a day for two days, when every trace of the sore was gone." Heals all sores. Sold under guarantee at C. I. Clough's drug store, 25c.

A Dangerous Operation
is the removal of the appendix by a surgeon. No one who takes Dr. King's New Life Pills is ever subjected to this fright. Robert Watt, they work so quietly you don't feel them. They cure constipation, headache, biliousness and malaria. 25c. at C. I. Clough's drug store.

Muscular Pains Cured.
"During the summer of 1903 I was troubled with muscular pains in the top of my foot," says Mr. S. Pedler, of Toronto, Ont. "At times it was so painful I could hardly walk. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was recommended to me, so I tried it and was completely cured by one small bottle. I have since recommended it to several of my friends, all of whom speak highly of it." For sale by all druggists.

Guilty of Counterfeiting
Passing counterfeit money is no worse than substituting some unknown worthless remedy for Foley's Honey and Tar, the great cough and cold remedy that cures the most obstinate coughs and heals the lungs—J. S. Lamar, Tillamook; Hawk & Miller, Bay City, Ore.

A Personal Appeal
If we could talk to you personally about the great merit of Foley and Tar, for coughs, colds and lung trouble, you never could be induced to experiment with unknown preparations that may contain some harmful drugs. Foley's Honey and Tar costs you no more and has a record of forty years of cures.—J. S. Lamar, Tillamook; Hawk & Miller, Bay City, Ore.

JILTED MAN ANGRY.
Brings Suit to Recover Presents to Former Fiance.
Because she had jilted him and married another, Mrs. Charlotte Marian Hardman Alexander, a pretty nurse and a bride of four weeks, was made the defendant in a suit in a Justice Court yesterday by E. G. Friedrichsen, a former bank teller of Tacoma. The capitalist, her former suitor, sought to recover presents he had made her before her love grew cold and she turned from him. Friedrichsen was receiving teller of the Scandinavian-Bank at Tacoma until a month ago. He returned to the Sound city last night.
However the case will not be tried, for the bride consented to return a portion of the presents, and the anger of the rejected lover has been appeased. The exchange was affected yesterday afternoon. It is said to have been largely through the efforts of Constable Wagner that an amicable settlement was reached and the recital of an interesting love story in the courts was averted.
The Tacoma man was apparently sufficiently reconciled to the settlement and situation and he consented to dine last night with the bride and successful suitor at their home on Third street. However, he failed to keep his appointment, explaining at the last moment that he was detained, but would dine with them this evening.
Mr. Friedrichsen placed a value of $250 on the presents he gave his intended bride, and when he learned that she had married another he promptly sought their recovery or their cash equivalent. He made the trip to Portland to bring the suit, and through his attorney, J. A. Strowbridge, instituted proceedings yesterday.
He alleged in his complaint that he gave the presents to her October 14, but that in reality they remained his property. He enumerated the various articles and their values. One set of prime mink furs, he said, cost him $140; a pair of smoked pearl opera glasses were worth $9, he said; a set of mink furs, boa and muffler, it is alleged are worth $50; and it is further alleged that the sum of $60 in gold coin was advanced.
"But the most provoking expense, perhaps, was that of $2 which the capitalist is said to have forwarded the pretty nurse with which to purchase neckties for him. No ties were forthcoming, he says, but instead she kept the money.
From the stories told by both parties to their lawyers, there is a most unusual romance connected with the case. Friedrichsen, who was a man of means and teller of a bank, met Mrs. Alexander, then Miss Hardman, early in the Summer, and proposed. He says he was accepted and that they were to be married shortly; but she points out that it is a woman's prerogative to change her mind.
And she changed her mind at Newport recently, when she met James Alexander, employe of a local timber concern, who was sojourning there at the time. After a whirlwind campaign of three weeks, Alexander won out, and they were duly married four weeks ago.

It is alleged that Friedrichsen did not take his jilting kindly. Mrs. Alexander says he called her up continually on the long-distance telephone and annoyed her considerably. He demanded the return of his presents forthwith. Mrs. Alexander was loath to part with such fine furs.
"They were given to me—why should I part with them?" she said.
Friedrichsen communicated with Attorney Strowbridge and told him his grievances. He said the young woman promised to be his wife and that it was in the full belief that they were to be wedded that he bought the expensive presents.
"My wife gave back some of the presents, though, and everything has been settled," said Mr. Alexander last night. "As a matter of fact, there's nothing to it except that we are married. We feel very kindly toward Mr. Friedrichsen and I am sure he feels that way toward us. We invited him to dinner tonight, but he couldn't come, and will come tomorrow evening."
Prior to her wedding Mrs. Alexander was Miss Hardman, and was a well known nurse of Portland. She came here from Nehalem and received her training as a nurse at Hoquiam, Wash.—Oregonian.

Beware of Frequent Colds.
A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended. Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. I used it for some time and it cured me. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well." For sale by all druggists.

Medicine That Is Medicine.
"I have suffered a good deal with malaria and stomach complaints, but I have now found a remedy that keeps me well, and that remedy is Electric Bitters; a medicine that is medicine for stomach and liver troubles, and for run-down conditions," says W. C. Kiestler, of Halliday, Ark. Electric Bitters purify and enrich the blood, tone up the nervous system and impart vigor and energy to the weak. Your money will be refunded if it fails to help you. 50c. at C. I. Clough's drug store.

Marked for Death.
"Three years ago I was marked for death. A grave-yard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me, and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. C. Williams, of Bac, Ky. "The first dose helped me and improvement kept on until I had gained 38 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at C. I. Clough's drug store, 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Hoarse coughs and stuffy colds that may develop into pneumonia over night are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, as it soothes inflamed membrane, looses the lungs, and expels the cold from the system.—J. S. Lamar, Tillamook; Hawk & Miller, Bay City, Ore.
