

Editorial Snap Shots.

There is nothing so about the Argo. We have known quite a bunch of farmers who undertook to run co-operative stores who lost their farms in consequence.

How the wine did flow at the farewell on Saturday night—and how the heads did ache the next day. Didn't the boys look and feel punk. How many dead "soldiers" were there, boys?

Now cheese it. The Argo took out her first shipment of cheese today, and it is expected, the way the farmers feel, that as soon as the new boat can make through rates to California points, that most of the cheese will be shipped on her. The cheese shipped to-day came from the co-operative factories.

Strange, isn't it, that the editor of our contemporary can keep on quoting the price of cheese, taken from an Eastern agricultural paper, but has kept so mum about the opposition to the transportation monopoly that he has failed, up to present time, to notice a matter which is of much importance to the farmers and business men of this county. We wonder who told him to hold his whist so long about the Argo?

There is one thing positive—every business man in the city is desirous of seeing Tillamook City become a seaport town. And those who have farms and other property in the vicinity should be just as interested, for it is something that is bound to benefit them. There are a large number of places where they have water and a railroad transportation, and the freight rates are low, but in other places were they have only rail or water transportation, rates are high. The snap shot man can see far enough into the future development of Tillamook City and the surrounding country to strive in every possible way to make this a seaport and bring this about as soon as possible.

We overheard a person remark that they would rather have the Headlight man's good will than his ill will. People must not run away with the idea that the editor criticizes somebody, or a matter of public policy, that he harbors ill feeling to those whom he brings into the limelight. True it is that the snap shot man had no love for the saloon keepers and the gamblers and those who trained with them, who did everything they could to injure the Headlight, who even boycotted it, but we had our own time when to strike back, and when we did so, public sentiment was aroused and the gamblers and the saloon keepers had to go out of business and to admit that they made a mistake when they antagonized the snap shot man. It may be that we have paid back some persons with interest who have undertaken to injure our reputation, but there is some sport in this to see an antagonist welt under newspaper criticism. Persons who do not live in glass houses have no cause to feel alarmed at any ill will on our part.

Owing to the number of hold-ups and the reign of crime in Portland and the Northwest, it begins to look as if it is a most serious situation to know how to grapple with this alarming increase in lawlessness. Various reasons are given—the lack of parental training, idleness, drink, etc. These, probably, are the cause, but the silly, sentimental methods of dealing with the hardened class of criminals is, in our judgment, the cause of so much crime. But the question is: What can be done to stop it? We do not believe in chicken hearted methods in dealing with criminals, especially with murderers, and as we have seen no suggestions made to cope with the present situation, we will offer a sure cure: Pass a law at the next State legislature to publicly flog men who hold up trains, banks, individuals, etc., and deal with burglars and those who point a gun at another person in the same manner. This kind of treatment may be considered inhuman and belonging to the past ages. But is there anything human when a lot of thugs jump onto a pedestrian and command him at the point of a revolver to hold up his hands, and should he resist to be shot down in cold blood? There is a law to flog wife beaters, and we fail to see why that is any more inhuman to flog the thugs who are doing the hold ups. The criminal class would soon clean out of Portland and Oregon as well, when they witness a few of their pals howling and wretching in pain as the cat o' nine tails in the hands of a lusty official came down upon the holdups bare backs. A drastic situation requires drastic measures to cope with. Here is the easiest, most speedy way, and we believe that it will be a sure cure if the flogging exhibitions are carried out effectually.

Whenever anyone attempts to do anything for Tillamook City or surrounding country they invariably run up against a number of fault finders. Instead of thanking those who had neglected their own businesses in attending to the necessary papers and other matters in connection with the new Port of Tillamook, the Herald was amongst the few to find fault, calling it a star chambered proceeding. It was the business men who backed the proposition and appointed a committee. And because that committee did something, it is classed as star chambered. Now, so as to ascertain the facts about star chambered proceedings, we want to say this about the old Port of Tillamook, that it was a do nothing, star chambered body of the Simon Pure order, and some of Tillamook City's "putty" mayors have helped to keep it that way at the dictation of the well known boss. For eight years the Port of Tillamook was in business, and through all that time it took no initiative move nor devised a plan to give the center of the county a deep water harbor. The few pages of the proceedings of the meetings, at long and irregular dates, is proof that it was a do nothing, inactive body. We do not think that the old Port can look with pride upon anything it has done. Now, because there is a demand for a seaport in Tillamook City, those who have accomplished something the last few months to help bring this about are accused of star chambered proceedings by the Herald. Yet this is the kind of thanks so many people have met with in Tillamook whenever they have had the get up and enthusiasm to do anything, for the do nothings begin to find fault and knock. We have purposely avoided mentioning names in this paragraph, and as the accusation of star chambered proceedings called for criticism, we have clearly shown in our last issue that the fault finder was barking up the wrong tree.

Christian Church Notes.

The church work is growing in interest and power, as seen in the attendance at the Bible-school, Prayer Meeting, and the regular services. We are glad to see some of the business men attend church, thereby manifesting their interest in that which builds up the city morally. The Ladies Aid Society entertained the Aid Society of Bay City some days ago. A sumptuous dinner was served at Mrs. King's, and all had a fine time. Dec. 16th, the Society met with Mrs. V. E. Hoven to prepare for Christmas. After spending a pleasant afternoon in a busy way, the meeting adjourned until after the holidays.

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1904) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, groveling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $200,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business, furthermore, that no alcohol, or other injurious, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatsoever and that Mr. Bok's malicious statement was wholly and absolutely false.

In the retraction printed by said Journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained judgments of "Favorite Prescription" from eminent chemists, all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs.

These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble groveling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was however brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York, State which promptly rendered a verdict in the Doctor's favor. Thus his tradecore came to grief and his base slanders were refuted.
