Editorial Snap Shots.

Isn't this a most opportune time to start a town at Fairview?

* * *

"Honesty is the best police," would be a good new year's resolution for some attorneys to practice in the future.

* * *

It is generally conceded by most everybody that unless Hoquarton slough is improved the seaport town will be on the bay.

* * *

The way to make Tillamook Bay and Tillamook City seaports is for the people to pull together, for this is a matter of much importance to this county. We are publishing today a number of letters received from Mr. Russell Hawkins, of The Whitney Co., Ld., bearing upon the improvement of Tillamook bar, and if we succeed in accomplishing anything it will have to be done by all pulling together, and now is the time for a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether for a seaport for the center of Tillamook county.

* * *

There appears to be a disposition on the part of some persons to create dissatisfaction amongst the dairymen of the county and to get them divided up again. They have pulled well together for several years with good success and profit to themselves; in fact, they have never received as much money for their products as they have the past few years. But if the dairymen want to pull apart and fall in with those who are trying to create discension, it will be to their own loss. Our advice is to let well enough alone until the transportation problem is solved.

* * *

The snap shot man will refrain from passing any criticism on the Boelk-Nolan case, other than to draw a little pen picture, and it is this: A bevy of attorneys in court striving in every possible way to depriye a poor old man of his land. It was a shocking and pitiful picture anyone could have witnessed at the last term of the circuit court. Far better would it have been, and far more honorable to them, had they lent helping hands so that the old German could have obtained possession of what belonged to him without being dragged into court and put to the expense of coming from California on two occasions to defend his rights.

* * *

Wouldn't it be a good thing if everybody in Tillamook County would bury their little hatchets—they don't amount to much, anyway—and vie with each other in boosting the county. This is a good new year's resolution. Help to build up, not to pull down; put aside petty jealousies and strife, and cultivate a friendly spirit towards one another. Is there anything wrong with that? Perhaps someone will say, however, let the snap shot man, who, admitted, likes a scrap once in a while, practice what he preaches. Well, we're willing to try if the other fellows will try also and quit dragging the snap shot out into the arena.

* * *

We wonder who will be the first to go back on the new boat—the business men or the farmers? This would be a pretty good notice for business men to stick up: "We ship by the Elmore (or Argo)." It may be there will be plenty of freight for both boats when the season opens up for the indications are that business will be good next year, with plenty of building and other improvements going on, and with the prospect of the railroad being completed, people will be coming to the county to locate and invest. In fact, we expect that next year will mark a great start being made in the way of new industries being started up, for there are splendid openings and opportunities in this rich, undeveloped country.

* * *

The person who made the remark that he hoped the boys would go broke who are putting in the new saw mill shows a bad spirit and he does not want to see industries thrive in this city. It seems to us that about twenty men who get on the pay roll and the business houses in the city, won't entertain such a sour feeling as that, for they, more than those who are building the mill, will be the most benefited. We simply mention this little incident to show how typical it is with Tillamook custom to want to pull down rather than to build up. Well the boys have been pretty successful in other lines of business, are all industrious and hard workers themselves and just common, every day citizens who want to see Tillamook City prosper, will go a long way to carry on the enterprise successfully. We'd like to see a dozen more such mills being erected—and they will be]whenever the slough is improved.

* * *

Here is a funny and amusing situation in Tillamook City. Because the business men have agreed to patronize the new steamer, it is reported that a new store is to be put in, backed by the monopoly which kept all competition out of the county; and because all of the business men were in favor of enlarging the Port of Tillamook they are to be dropped cold by some of the dairymen who threaten to put in a co-operative store. We hope they will, for it will mean more business, and we see no reason why, as the community is divided up into new factions every once in a while, why they cannot have a factional store, bank, hotel, meat market, newspaper, doctor, attorney, etc., for every faction. Anyway, at the outcome, it will be a survival of the fittest, so there is no reason for the business men to worry in the least.

Marked for Death.

"Three years ago I was marked for death. A grave-yard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me, and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. C. Williams, of Bac, Ky. "The first dose helped me and improvement kept on until I had gained 58 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at C. I. Clough's drug store. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

Mrs. McRaney's Experience.

Mrs. M. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me."—J. S. Lamar, Tillamook; Hawk & Miller, Bay City, Ore.

Hoarse coughs and stuffy colds that may develop into pneumonia over night are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, as it soothes inflamed membrance, heals the lungs, and expels the cold from the system.—J. S. Lamar, Tillamook; Hawk & Miller, Bay City, Ore.

THRILLING RESCUE EFFECTED AT SEA.

Gotoma's Crew Saved; Ship Abandoned.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 27.—Almost dead from hunger and exposure in a two days' battle with a fierce gale ten miles off Willapa Harbor, the officers, crew and captain's wife were rescued from the water logged schooner Gotoma this morning by a lifeboat sent out from the steamer Santa Monica. The Santa Monica reached here this afternoon with the refugees, eight in number, the Gotoma having been abandoned, a derelict.

Captain Gruggel, of the Gotoma, tells a vivid story of shipwreck, peril and final rescue in the face of immediate death.

Captain's Wife Cheers Men.

"My wife," says the captain, "was very brave and cheered us through the dreadful darkness of the awful night. We had lost our compass and were drifting hopelessly. We had abandoned all hope, but the Santa Monica appeared after the fog lifted this morning, and thanks to Captain Olson, we are alive and unharmed."

The Gotoma sailed Wednesday from Hobsonville, Or., a port on Tillamook Bay, with a cargo of lumber for San Francisco.

"We ran into a severe southwest storm off Tillamook Head," said Captain Gruggel, "with which we battled, but were blown northward out of our course. The pitching of the lumber and pounding of the waves opened the Gotoma's seams and Christmas morning I found she was leaking badly. I decided the only way to save the vessel was to jettison the deckload, as the pumps could make no headway against the water pouring into the hold. The lumber was loosened and was carried overboard by the seas.

Seek Refuge in Wheelhouse.

"The schooner sank lower and lower, and with the decks awash, the entire ship's company, including my wife, the mate, the cook, four seamen and myself, sought refuge in the wheelhouse, where we huddled, momentarily expecting the vessel to go down. She was kept afloat however, by the lumber in the hold.

"Fortunately we were able to get a little canned stuff from the galley, but did not get any water. The liquid in the cans kept our throats from becoming stiff and parched. My wife was very brave and cheered us through the dreadful darkness of the night. We had lost our compass and all the ship's papers and we kept the schooner into the teeth of the storm as best we could and tried to make the Columbia River.

Drift In Face of Storm.

"We steered and drifted alternately, hoping against hope, but this morning, when we found ourselves off Shoalwater Bay, or what we thought it to be, and being driven landward, we gave ourselves up for lost, but the Santa Monica's coming in sight gave us fresh courage. Our boats had been torn away, but we had no serious difficulty in getting on board the Santa Monica's boat, as the storm had moderated a little.

"When we left the schooner her sails were still intact and she was going toward the shore. The only living thing aboard was a goat, the pitiful bleating of which we could hear some distance after being taken aboard. The crew of the Gotoma were given hot drinks and by the time they reached port were in their normal condition."

Names of Crew Fail Captain.

Captain Gruggel sat in the cabin of the Santa Monica tonight and related his story without showing any trace of the hardship through which he had passed. He said his wife was feeling no ill effects from her trying experience, and that a good night's rest would make them all right again. The crew and Mrs. Gruggel saved only the clothes on their backs, but are thankful affairs are no worse with them.

Captain Gruggle says this is the second time he has been wrecked. About 15 years ago he was master of the schooner Helen Marion when she went ashore. He says the Gotoma carried a cargo of 250,000 feet of lumber; that she was valued at $5000, and that both the vessel and the cargo are insured.

Owned in San Francisco.

The Gotoma was a two-masted schooner and owned by the Simpson Lumber Company, of Marshfield and San Francisco. She carried a cargo for the Miami Lumber Company, of San Francisco. The vessel was insured.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 28.—Captain Jacobson, of the life-saving station at Westport, reported through the wireless station at that point this afternoon that the schooner Gotoma is ashore seven miles from that point and rapidly going to pieces.

The members of the crew, in addition to Captain and Mrs. Gruggel, who were saved are: Fred Rodgers, of San Francisco, mate; Alexander Harley, of Portland, cook; John Bolenski, Erick Erickson, Albert Johnson, and John Teller seamen. Erickson shipped aboard the schooner at Tillamook, having previously been connected with the lighthouse at that point.

"I never want to see the sea again," said Mrs Gruggel, wife of the captain, in an interview today aboard the steamer Santa Monica, where she is being cared for. Mrs. Gruggel is slightly past middle age, stout of build, strong in appearance and of Irish parentage. She has accompanied her husband on one or two voyages, but declares never again will she take any chances on the water.

Earthquake Mere Pleasantry.

Intensely interesting and dramatic and with touches of pathos and humor is the story she tells of the terrible experience she passed through. For three days she was crowded in the contracted space of the wheelhouse, which provided poor shelter for herself and members of the ship's crew, though this wheelhouse saved them from the awful battering of the seas, and doubtless from death.

"You know," began Mrs. Gruggel, "I was in the San Francisco earthquake and we lost our home, but to make a comparison between the earthquake and my experience on the Gotoma, the earthquake was a pleasant dream. The Gotoma, in the first place, was unseaworthy I told my husband on the trip up from San Francisco, after she had been patched over, that she was a dangerous craft. Just as I feared, she went to pieces, when, if she had been a good boat she could easily have ridden out the storm.

Drinks Rainwater From Roof.

"When it was found impossible to stay in the cabin we had to go to the wheelhouse, and by luck there were boards in there which the crew fixed up for a bed for me. They placed it where the water would not strike me, but I might as well have been in the sea. The water poured through the top, but the sides prevented us from being battered to pieces and the wheelhouse is what saved us.

"I was soaked through all the time I was in the wheel-house and I did not dare to move much, for if I moved one way I would go out of the window, and if the other way into the water that was rushing over the vessel. While I lay there I would catch a little fresh water in my mouth and it felt so good, for I was feverish and thirsty. I was so terrified that I did not know what to do with myself, though I kept up my courage and encouraged the men. My head was lying in water most of the time, and my stockings were soaked. Then the cook would take off my stockings and wring them out and they were so wet that when they were pulled on again they actually seemed dry.

Forgets Till Last to Pray.

"All this time I had forgotten to pray. I have prayed every night when I am at home or on the sea, but somehow I forgot this time, and all at once, when I was sure it was the last of me, I made up my mind to have a little prayer all by myself. You know prayer will avail nothing if you leave it to the last moment. So I was glad I prayed before and not left it until I got into such a tight pinch, for the Almighty isn't going to help you out then.

"Well, I prayed, and after I prayed such a sweet peace came into my breast. All my anxiety left me and I rested so nice and so calmly that I prayed again. And it was those prayers that saved us. I am sure they did. For why did that peace come into my soul just at that time? It was God, of course, telling me that we were saved. And then the good steamer Santa Monica came in sight and it was God that sent her to us, too."

NEW PLAN FOR TILLAMOOK.

Hawley Wants Complete Survey of Harbor.

Washington, Dec. 23.—If there is to be a river and harbor bill this session Representative Hawley will insist upon the appropriation of the full amount recommended by the Army engineers for the improvement of Tillamook Bay; indeed, he will go further and ask for a new survey with a view to securing a new project for the improvement of the channel at the entrance to the bay. The engineers have recommended no appropriation for the mouth of this harbor, but did ask for $10,000 for repairing the dikes along the channel to Tillamook City. These dikes, built some years ago, have maintained a fair channel to Hoquarton Slough, but they are badly in need of repairs, and in fact it is necessary to have an annual appropriation of $5000 to keep them in condition.

Mr Hawley will probably experience some difficulty in securing an adequate appropriation, because J. N. Teal, of Portland, recently appeared before Chairman Burton and stated that Tillamook Bay was not urgently in need of improvements and that it could wait for some future time if it became necessary to reduce the appropriations for the harbors along the Oregon coast. Mr. Teal said that it was far more important to improve the entrance to Coos Bay than to secure an appropriation for Tillamook.

Before the channel at the mouth of the bay can be further improved it will be necessary to have a new project prepared and indorsed by the engineers, and Mr. Hawley's bill, recently introduced, calls for two surveys, one for a 15-foot channel to the bar and the other for a 20-foot channel. These surveys will include estimates of cost, and if the engineers favor one or the other of the projects it may be possible to secure an appropriation for the entrance of the bay in the river and harbor bills to be passed in the 61st Congress.

A Personal Appeal

If we could talk to you personally about the great merit of Foley and Tar, for coughs, colds and lung trouble, you never could be induced to experiment with unknown preparations that may contain some harmful drugs. Foley's Honey and Tar costs you no more and has a record of forty years of cures.—J. S. Lamar, Tillamook; Hawk & Miller, Bay City, Ore.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.
