

LAKE LYTLE.

Portland's Nearest Beach Resort--Sparkling Mountain Lake Nestling Close to Old Ocean.

Unruffled Mirror Surface Protected From Ocean Wind and Surf.

RIGHT where the new railroad meets the Pacific ocean—the nearest beach to Portland, and the widest, smoothest, prettiest beach on the Pacific—that's where Lake Lytle lies, and it's there that Lytle and his associates are establishing what they propose to make the most delightful Summer playground within reach of Portland.

Read what Mr. Lytle himself says about it:

"To the Public--We will operate regular passenger trains between Portland and Lake Lytle; will build a depot there as soon as the railroad is finished, and will make Lake Lytle the finest beach resort in Oregon. Garibaldi Beach, the ocean beach at Lake Lytle, has long been recognized as the finest stretch of beach in Oregon, and the location of the new resort, combining as it does, an inland mountain lake, with this broad, smooth beach is ideal--E. E. Lytle, President, Pacific Railway & Navigation Co., Portland, Oregon.

Lake Lytle was picked by Mr. Lytle as the spot for this, the pet project of his and his associates. They had their choice of everything, and picked this location as the best, and will improve it lavishly.

Best surroundings for summer delights—warm, sunny and protected on the cold, raw days when the wind blows hard off the ocean—cool, fresh and invigorating on the hot days when ocean breezes and the spray of the surf are so cordially welcome. No other beach can offer such a combination—no matter what the weather, it's always fine weather at Lake Lytle.

A wonderfully cozy nook is Lake Lyle beautifully located, about a thousand feet from the ocean, but protected from it by a graceful rolling ridge which offers ideal building sites for cottages. From ridge and beach the view of the ocean, with the San Francisco boats and an occasional whale or seal in sight, is of ever varying interest.

Only a mile away is the mouth of the Nehalem River, where crabs, clams, rock oysters and flounders abound, making happy the young and old. Up the Nehalem, on both its wide tumbling forks, is the finest trout fishing in Oregon.

All roads lead to Lake Lytle; all trains lead to Lake Lytle, and Lake Lytle is the first station of the new railroad after the Pacific Ocean is reached, and the only station guaranteed by the P. R. & N. R. R. in Tillamook County excepting at Bay City and Tillamook City. These lots are now on sale at the office of F. R. Beals for $100 and up, small payment down, balance on easy terms. Accompanying each sale is a guarantee to the purchaser of the establishment of the depot and daily passenger service, graded streets and a water system.

Home, Sweet Home.
Home is where we express our worst best selves.
Home is where the heart finds its truest content.
Home is the result of learning to bear the yoke of labor.
Home is the best school for making men and women.
Home is God's blessing to mankind, the safeguard of the world.
Home is where love rules, unselfishness, and harmony exist.
Home is the dearest earthly shelter in the cradle to the grave.
Home is an inn where love is landlord and contentment chief guest.
Home is a corporation whose preferred stock is contented children.
Home is where happiness, health, harmony, heart's ease, holiness, heritage, and heaven dwell.
Home is where the wife is neat and the husband sober and industrious, children respectful.
Home is a comfortable and necessary rest and shelter for us in advanced years and if we do not plant it while we are young we will have to buy it old.—Lord Chesterfield.

Problem of Old Age.
The present age of marvelous progress is especially hard on old men. The new methods by which they were brought up and taught to maintain themselves has long since been cast aside, and like rubbish in many cases. The old men that they rendered by hand is now scorned by sprightly boys and girls of machinery, or no longer needed to be feared. They are too old, or their eyes too stiff, or their ears too dim to master the new methods or to make showing in fads and fashions that is sometimes required.
The Chicago Record-Herald has received a number of communications proposing or at least suggesting the query as to what is to become of the old men. The very same question has been prominent in active minds from the first to the last. It is a problem that will remain a problem, yet, even at the end. It is gratifying to know that much is being done in different ways to alleviate conditions and to meet the special requirements, but it is confessed that too little is being done to satisfy the extraordinary demands of this progressive age. More should undoubtedly be done.

The War of Sexes.
"Don't marry the men, fight them," is the advice of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. But some women have found that the best way to fight a man is to marry him. The scheme has just one drawback. It is not practical, under our laws, to fight men en masse in that way.
The blow has fallen. Fifty unmarried members of the Progressive Woman's Suffrage Union of New York City have signed a pledge not to marry any man who will not first formally agree to support woman's suffrage and to take an active part in the fight for it. People should not blame young men for any rash action they may take in such an emergency.
The June bridegroom who had his wife haled into court at Brooklyn the other day because she had threatened to murder him—although the threat was qualified by the statement that she didn't want to have to clean up the house afterwards—would probably like to be locked in a room with the man who first adorned the June bride with all the attributes of sweetness and docility.

A Night Rider's Raid.
The worst night riders are calomel, croton oil or aloes pills. They raid your bed to rob you of rest. Not so with Dr. King's New Life Pills. They never distress or inconvenience, but always cleanse the system, curing Colds, Headache, Constipation, Malaria, etc. at Chas. I. Clough.

Delay in taking Foley's Kidney Remedy if you have headache, kidney or bladder trouble, fastens the disease upon you and makes a cure more difficult. Commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy today and you will soon be well. Why risk a serious malady?—J. S. Lamar, Tillamook; Hawk & Miller, Bay City.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.
After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctors' fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—SAMUEL BOYER, Elsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by Lamar's Drug Store. Samples free.

The Burden of Idleness.
"There's nothin' more pathetic than jest a-bein' rich," says the poet Riley in homely dialect. He has expressed a great truth—great largely because its importance is so little realized by the masses. It might be modified to distinguish the idle rich, however, from those who, despite their wealth, find that duty to themselves and to the world is still worth following and is well worth considering in view of facts which have recently been adduced in the divorce proceedings of certain of the smart set.
The human being without impulses is so uncommon as to be classed with absurdities. These impulses are good or bad; if they do not make themselves apparent in one way they will in the other, although the manifestation may vary in degree in different individuals.
In the instances referred to the tendency of the wealthy idle, in the effort to escape lassitude, is toward amusements that are too often questionable, to state it mildly. Think of the condition of a person driven to the alternative of rotting from ennui because he has nothing to do or seeking stimulation in disgusting and frequently criminal excitement—say, in spreading monkey dinners, or making a public spectacle of oneself, or jeopardizing the sacred relation of marriage. Under such conditions the poor certainly have no occasion for envying the rich.
Everyone would be benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. It sweetens the stomach and breath, gently stimulates the liver and regulates the bowels and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Why not try Foley's Orino Laxative today?—J. S. Lamar, Tillamook; Hawk & Miller, Bay City.
Delay in commencing treatment for a slight irregularity that could have been cured quickly by Foley's Kidney Remedy may result in a serious kidney disease. Foley's Kidney Remedy builds up the worn out tissues and strengthens these organs.—J. S. Lamar, Tillamook; Hawk & Miller, Bay City.
