Raphael Catterlin, son of Councilman Catterlin, came near going to the penitentiary, and it was only

Sheriff Crenshaw who saved him from being taken to Salem. Catterlin, who is on parole, has been getting drunk and doing unlawful acts to the annoyance of the citizens, so Sheriff Crenshaw took him before Judge Burnett, who, after hearing the evidence, would have sent Catterlin to the penitentiary, but the sheriff promised the judge that he would look after the boy and on that condition the case was put over until the April term of Court to see whether Catterlin will behave himself in future.
